ies in any way. That advice is tendered very carnestas she comes to her senses? I never knew that aberration of intellect was a family failing before!" Lord Cardonnel lifts his eyelids wear-

"Well, I can't and won't be worried

"Well, I can't and won't be worried with her much longer, I tell you frankly," Mrs. Mallibrane says, with a disdainful shrug of her shoulders. "Either you use your paternal authority to make her accept, gracefully, the splendid match that is waiting, actually waiting, for her acceptance, or take your daughter home. Cardonnel, and let me naughter home, Cardonnel, and let me wash my hands of her obstinacy, and her ngratitude, and herself at the same parting is swer has come. Nor has his letter to swer has come. Nor has his letter to Mr. Blamire, with the urgent request for Mr. Blamire, with the urgent request of a cablegram, "ground-limbs quiver perceptuly beneath the silken folds of her dress. "I had ordered afternoon tea to be brought in, and he was just in the act of drinking some, when he rose up suddenly, doctor, put his hand to his throat, saying he felt choking, and I ran to get him some water, and, just as I put it to his lips, he gave a sort of groan and fell."

Her ledging presse, her hand over her e gave a sort of groan and fell: Her ladyship presses her hand over her yes in a sort of spasmodic horror at the emembrance of the scene.

"And the table? How did he pull that r?—does your ladyship remember?"

Williams asks, softly, feeling for her

"He caught at it to save himself from falling. I suppose, and it went over with him, and all the tea service," she answers faintly. "What could it have been, doctor? A fit, or apoplexy or heart discrete."

"Does your ladyship know if—if he was in good health?" the doctor asks, reretantly.

"I really am not sure," she replies.
"He seemed ill—looked ill. I cannot tell more than that. He looked to be in bad book!!"

"And in low spirits? Fairly low spirits," my lady says, thoughtfully.

Then looking up with that innocent, frightened glance, which goes to Dr. Williams' heart, she leans nearer to him, so that he can feel the soft warmth of her breath, and inhale the delicate perfume of her clothes, and lays one white, jeweled hand on his arm.

"What do you mean, doctor?" she says, in a soft whisper.

eled hand on his arm.

"What do you mean, doctor?" she says, in a soft whisper.

"I mean, my lady," Dr. Williams falters, "that I can't give the authorities a certificate of the cause of death until I ascertain the cause."

"And how will you ascertain?" she asks breathlessly; "please tell me all. What do you suspect as the cause?"

"There will have to be an autopry, a post-mortem examination of the body." Dr. Williams says, evasively. "I need not go into details with your ladyship. Perhaps, if I could see his lordship for a few minutes, it would be as well. I can arrange matters with him, the Lusiness details, and so forth, my lady."

"But you can go into business details with me!" she says, sharply, and harship, in a sort of repressed excitement, she says, sharply and harship, asing tarough tightly shut teeth, her breast neaving beneath its half-transparent laces. "I am not a child. I can hear what you have to tell, Dr. Williams of this awfully sudden death of my triend, Mr. Bammer!"

of this awainly studen death of my friend, Mr. Biannier? "Dr. Williams says, submiseively, trying to evade the magnetic light of the splendid, lustrous eyes burning on him, the potency of her presence, of her touch, of her clasp-ing hand on his arm, of the delicate, flower-like perfume from those shim-mering silks and semi-transparent laces that robe the slender, beautiful form. "I only besitated, fearing to distress you. only hesitated, fearing to distress you. Lady Cardonnel," he says, sothingly, thinking at the moment how happy and fortunate a man he would be it fate. mate a man be would be it fate, him beautiful, high-bred, amiable like this lovely Lady Cardonnel list of his patients. "But the truth is the appearances accompanying this very sudden death are so strange that that—"

"Strange—how strange? Oh, doctor, pray speak plainly to me!" Lady Cardonnel pleads, in pathetic entreaty. "You are trying, very kindly, to break some bad news to me, but it would be kinder to speak out at once, and let me know the worst, the very worst!" she repeats, with a hysteric, suppressed cry.
"I beseech you to be calm, my lady," Dr. Williams says, earnestly. "The very worst is that there are symptoms that Mr. Blamire died from the effects of poison!"

Mr. Blamire died from the effects of poison!"
"Poison!" repeats my lady, with another cry of horror, and clinging to Dr. Williams with both hands. "How could he have taken poison? He looked to me as if he had been seized with some attack of heart disease."
"It might have been heart disease," Dr. Williams says. "But there was every symptom present of poisoning by prussic acid, my lady, even to the smell of hitter almonds from his mouth. What is the matter, Lady Cardonnel?"
He rises in dismay from the chair, beside the low crimson velvet easy-chair, for Lady Cardonnel has flung up her white arms, where the diamonds gleam in circlets of light, and clasps them above her head with a most tragic gesture of dispair.
"Oh. what have I done?" she cries. Week after week, month after month has passed away since Roderic Lindsay sailed in the Rotomahana, and to his parting letter to Lady Christabel no an-swer has come. Nor has his letter to swer Las come. Nor has his letter to white arms, where the diamonds gleam in circlets of light, and clasps them above her head with a most tragic gesture of dispair.

"Oh, what have I done?" she cries, who gave him the essence of almonds in the tea to flavor it. I often flavor my own tea with almonds, and I gave him some to taste it, just half a cup of tea, and he said he did not care for it. Only a few drops on a lump of sugar, and I was drinking some flavored just the same, myself. Oh. doctor, is it that which has killed him. Oh, what have I done? What have I done? What have I done? What have I done? I we same, myself. Oh. doctor, is it that which has killed him. Oh, what have I done? What have I done?

resolves to give up the hoping and fearing, the waiting and longing, and counting the days until the arrival of that letter from Lady Christabei—the letter which never comes.

He hides his secret well after the first betrayal of his anxiety, and no one imamines that deep in poor Roderic's heart there is a despair that is burming like a slow fire of anguish, whenever he gives himself time to think.

He has grown colder, prouder, more reticent, and distant in manner of late, and not even Sir Roger Allison likes to the expedition is just ready to start on dence.

the expedition is just ready to start on dence.

But in the last week in January, when the exepdition is just ready to start on the west coast voyage, northward to Shark's Bay, something happens to increase Roderic' anxiety and misery to a degree beyond secret endurance.

A letter comes at last from the English mail, and is handed to Roderic one hot, sunny morning, when he and Sir Roger are hard at work writing the articles on the Tasmanian woods, which they have been preparing during a four weeks' stay in Tasmania.

(To be continued.)

CHILDREN'S NIGHT

Simcoe Street Sunday School Anniversary Entertainment.

Simcoe Street Methodist Church was owded last night with the friends of the school, the occasion being the chilprogramme was: Instrumental duet, Edprogramme was: Instrumental duet, Edna Kirkpatrick and Marjorie Roddam;
chorus, boys of primary class; piano solo, Pearl Cornell; chorus, girls of primary class; exercise, Miss Scott's class; drill, by boys; tableaux, Misš Kirkpatrick's class; cantata, 'Happy Family of Father Time.'' Father Time."
The numbers were much enjoyed, and especial praise is due Mr. Geo. Siddall and Miss Maggie Geddes, who drilled the chorus and made the cantata a success, That advice is tendered very carnestly after his farewell interview with his fair patient, when Lady Cardonnel, with faltering words of gratitude to Dr. Williams for his "unwearied kindness and thoughtfulness in a time of such deep distress," and presents him as a parting gift with a splendid ring of sapphires and diamonds, and asks him to wear it "for her sake." chorus and, made the cantata a success. The Secretary's report showed that there were 311 on the roll of the school, made up as follows: Officers 5, lady teachers 14, gentlemen teachers 5, girls 103, boys 55, primary class 60, intermediate 35, ladies' Bible class 15, men's Bible class 19. Average attendance 218, During the year two scholars had been removed by death, Etha Gay and Mona Mines.

and diamonds, and "for her sake."

"for her sake."

CHAPTER XXIII.

"I think, Cardonnel." Mrs. Mallibrane says, addressing her former son-in-law with nleasing candor, "that you are lostow," when is the matter ays, addressing ne., "that you are lo-vith pleasing candor, "that you are lo-ing your reason. What is the matter that you can't have Christabel to stay the year and your wife until such time

Mines.
The Treasurer's report showed receipts of $474.93 and expenses $453.43. The amount contributed for missions was $125.
The officers for the cusuing year are: Superintendent, Will W. Main; Assistants, Wellington Thompson and Robert Broadbent: Secretaries, Harry White and Wm. Johnson; Librarian, W. W. Main, jun.; Treasurer, Alex. Main; Pianist, Ethel Robertson; Choir Leader, Geo. Siddall.

Lord Cardonnel lifts his eyelids wearily to Mrs. Mallibrane's withilize face and sunken, dark eyes aflame with fiery temper, and a faint flush of anger tinges the pallor of his wasted face.
"I do not see that the occasion require's you to be personal and insulting," he says, slowly, twining his pale, attenuated fingers restlessly together. "I do not wish, in the first place, to have Christabel in this small house where there is not a comfortable room for her, and, besides, there is no use of hoping that Lady Cardonnel and she will ever get on well together. You know that as well as I do."
"Well, I can't and won't be worried Headaches and Neudalgia From Cold.s LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine, the world wide Cold and Grip remedy removes cause. Call for full name. Look for signature E. W. Grove. 25c. /

WAREHOUSE WON.

Interesting Bowling Match at Brunswick Alleys.

A bowling battle will take place at the Brunswick alleys Thursday night, when the heavy and light weight foremen of the International Harvester Co, come together for three strings. The fats have won all the baseball matches this fall. so the leans are determined to take a fal lout of them at tenpins. The teams

Lord and Lady Cardonnel have returned to London in the first week in May, and are living in a small, rather dull and dingy furnished house, in a narrow, dull, and dingy street. But it is a street wherein people who may be visited, may dwell. Mrs. Malibrane has decided that "it will do," and Lady Cardonnel who is a street wherein people who may be visited, may dwell. Mrs. Malibrane has decided that "it will do," and Lady Cardonnel who is said to be the said and ware from the office staff and ware-cided that "it will do," and Lady Car-donnel, who is subservient to the haughty old dame's opinions, as she is to those of no one else, has at once agreed, and the house is taken for the season; and there her ladyship, the Right Honorable Lydia, Countess of

| 1 | reight Honorable Lydia, Countess of | C. Palmer | 105 | 120 | 84 | 309 |
|---|--|----------------|------|------|------|-------|
| į | Cardonnel, establishes herself, and, | F. Palmer | 113 | 113 | 131 | 357 |
| | with the powerful aid of Mrs. Mallibrane | Taylor | 129 | 98 | 117 | 344 |
| | as a sort of social godmother, enjoys her | Vallance | 94 | 95 | 105 | 294 |
| | Wednesday afternoons and "at homes." | Worth | 156 | 135 | 111 | 402 |
| | She has not been presented "on her | | | | - | |
| | marriage" as yet, but she is going to be, | | | | | 2.148 |
| | in June, by the Marchioness of Glen- | Warehouse- | | | | |
| | dornoch." Therefore, Lady Cardonnel has | Acherson | 133 | 108 | 121 | 362 |
| | no difficulty in filling her two reception | Browne | 163 | 118 | 119 | 400 |
| | rooms, which, with her ladyship's large | Cunningham | 89 | 127 | 127 | 343 |
| | and richly furnished bedroom, constitute | Cook | 115 | 117 | 150 | 382 |
| | all the convenient or comfortable rooms | James | 105 | 101 | 142 | 345 |
| | in the house. | Ryan | 137 | 146 | 131 | 414 |
| | The rest of the household, the earl in- | | | | | |
| | cluded, fare as best as they can in small. | | | | | 2,246 |
| | stuffy apartments, ten or twelve feet | | | | | |
| | square. | Christmas Pres | ents | in F | hony | v . |

Christmas Presents in Eb

But, I don't want a crowd of nobodies in my rooms!" complains her ladyship to the social godmother; "I want only the best people." "Well, then, you can't have 'em!" the

Just received at Gerrie's drug store, 32 James street north, a large importation of Loonen's celebrated ebony goods, including hair, cloth, bonnet, velvet and military brushes, also shaving, tooth and pompadour brushes; also ebony mirrors, manicure sets, toilet cases. Most complete stock of fine ebony goods. Lowest prices.

"Well, then, you can't have 'em!" the social godmother retorts, spitefully: "and you'll never have them, either! Be content with the goods the gods provide, Lady Cardonnel. You have the entree to Glendornoch House, that counts for a good deal, and more than I hoped for, for you first, let me tell you." "And I suppose I hold that entree on sufferance, dependent on the whims of Lady Christabel and Lord Glendornoch," the countess mutters, bitterly. "Well, once she is the Marchioness of Glendornoch, and that you can keep on civil terms with her, it'll be better for you, certainly." the old dame says, frankly. Week after week, month after month Provincial Winter Fair, Guelph.

Gravincial winter Fair, Guelph.
On account of the Provincial Winter Fair the Grand Trunk Railway system will issue return tickets at single first class fare from all stations in Ontario, Kingston and west to Guelph, Ont. Good going December 7th to December 13th; valid for return until Monday, December 16th, 1907. Full information may be obtained from any Grand Trunk ticket agent.

The Workingman's

Staple store. Cardigan jackets, underwear, waterproof reefers, leather coats, mits, gloves, sox, etc., at staple prices. Our $1.25 and $2 shoes are the best value in the trade. M. Kennedy, 240 James street north.

AT R. McKAY & CO'S

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 5th, 1907

Decided Reductions

ON MANY

Christmas Lines

Remember, only 17 more shopping days. Do your buying early—it is important to you that you should attend to your want list early, and it is important that you should shop early in the day. This splendid Thursday list contains many bargains in pretty gift articles that shrewd buyers cannot afford to miss. Read the items and come early for them.

Clearing Winter Millinery

Ladies' Trimmed Hats, in felt, chenille, silk, plush, etc., assorted colors and styles, regularly $4.00, for

Felt Hats in assorted colors, large and small styles, with trimmings of flowers, wings, pompo Black Velvet Covered Hats, also a few in colors, no two exactly alike, trimmed with wings, coquiplumes and fancy mounts, regularly $6.50, for $1.00

Paris and New York Pattern Hats and Bonnets for $5.00 and $8.00, regularly $18.00.

Xmas Novelties in

Neckwear and Belts

Fancy Elastic Belts $1.39 in

Fancy Box
Black Silk Elastic Belts, tw inches wide, in plain or steel stud-ded, with handsome cut steel and gilt buckles, come in white, grey sky, pink, black, regularly $2.00

Leather Belts 50c, 75c, $1, $2 Fine Kid Leather Belts, in tans, browns, greys, greens, navies, car-dinals, blacks and whites, with dainty gilt and steel buckles, put up in fancy boxes 50, 75c, $1.00 to $2.00

Dainty Neckwear in Fancy Boxes 25c, 50c, 75c, 98c to $3 Eadies' Collars, in chiffon and lace daintily trimmed with silk applique, Val. lace, velvet, ribbon beads and buckles, with or with out isled; but an in fance boxes.

ut jabots, put up in fancy boxes ...25, 50, 75, 98e to $3.00 Crepe de Chine Scarfs $1.98

in Fancy Picture Box Silk Crepe de Chine Scarfs, 2½ yards long, with hemstitched ends, come in pink, sky, Nile, heito, white, cream, put up in fancy boxes, regularly $2.50, for $1.98 Chiffon Veils $1.50 to $2.50 in Fancy Box

Heavy Chiffon Automobile Veil in browns, navies, greys, whites skies, blacks, 2 to 3 yards long with hemstitched ends, put up in fancy box ... $1.50 to $2.50 300 Yards Ivory and Cream

Louisine Silk 29c

Ivory and Cream Louisene Silk. This Silk is light in weight, but strong in texture; pretty for evening wear and worth 50c yard, on sale to-mor-

Two Grand Specials

Another Sale Umbrellas
of Ladies'

Fine Umbrellas, Worth Regularly 79c

at little cost a nice gift Umbrella, guaranteed silk and wool tops, the Paragon frame, patent runners, pretty handles, on sale to-morrow at each 79c

Another day in the Parasol Section. Just your opportunity to buy

$1.25, Sale Price, Each . . .

For Thursday

$1 Waists for 49c

Waists made of superior quality wrapperette, in dainty Persian patterns, in all sizes, worth regular $1.00, Thursday only .. 49c THIRD FLOOR

$1-50 Fascinators for 49c Fascinators, made of ice wool, in assorted patterns and sizes, worth regular $1.50, to clear Thursday for 49c

Xmas Ribbon Sale

Baby Ribbons 4 yards for 5c 4 yards for 10c

Another shipment of Baby Rib-ons, in all colors, also pretty holly reds, come in silk and satin. single and double faced, put up in bunches, regular 3 and 4c yard,

Satin Duchess Ribbons 3 vds. for 10c 3 vds, 19c 3 vds, 29c

No. 5, 9, 16 Satin Duchess Ribbons in skies, pinks, cardinals greens, helios, Niles, yellows, holreds, etc., suitable for tying baskets, regular 5, 10, 15c yard. special sale 3 yards for 10e; yards for 20e

Dresden Ribbons 5c vard

Dainty Dresden Ribbons 1/2, 34 inch wide, in delicate colorings, with contrasting edges. regular 10c and 121/2c yard, special sale 5c yard

Dresden Ribbons 19c, 25c, 39c, 49c, 69c yard

6 inch Dresden Ribbons, s, skies, Niles, helios, pur-oral designs, on white in pinks, skies, Alies, helios, pur-ples, floral designs, on white grounds, greatly in demand for opera bags, fancy work bags, etc., range from 35c to $1.25 yard, spe-cial sale 19, 25, 39, 49, and

December Savings in

Housefurnishings

Window Shades Worth 65c for 48c

White Opaque Shades With Irish Point Insertion at 68c Pare White Opaque Shades, 37 inches wide by 72 inches long, mounted on durable roller, trimmed with white Irish Point insertion, complete with orackets, nails and tassel or ring, regular value 85c, Thursday, special 68c

Flannelette Blankets Regular $1.50 for $1.15

Large Double Bed Size Flannelette Blankets, finished with blue or pink border, heavy weight, regular value $1.50, Thursday, special ...$1.15 Wool Blankets $5.00 for $4.18

"McKay's Special" All-wool Blankets, blue and pink borders, large size, for double bed, a blanket that we guarantee, regular price $5, Thurs-$4.18

day, special day, special If you wish to make a Christmas presentation to a friend, be sure and look over our list of useful articles in the Housefurnishing Department.

Christmas Linens Reduced

Magnificent showing of Irish and Japanese Hand Drawn and Hand Embroidered Linens; nothing more acceptable than a linen piece for your Tray Cloths and Centres Table Napkins

Lunch Cloths

Table Cloths

Snow White Damask Cloths, bordered all around, new plain centres and double border designs $2. to $15

3 Days' Sale of

Carpets and Rugs

Tapestry Carpets 65c 900 yards Tapestry Carpet, beautiful rich colorings, heavy quality, worth 82½c, made and laid for 65c

Brussels Carpets 671/20

All-Wool Carpets 79c 600 yards All Wool 2-Ply Car pet, extra heavy quality, splendid colorings, worth $1, mude and laid

Union Carpets 42c 700 yards Union Carper, fine quality, very saleable patterns and colorings, worth 55c, made and laid for 42e

Brussels Rugs $19.50 Special line Large Size Brussels Rugs, sizes 4½ x 3¾ and 4 x 3¾, rich colorings, worth $24 and $20, your choice for $19.50

Tapestry Rugs $19.75

Special line Large Size Tapestry Rugs, sizes 4½ x 4, 4 x 4, and 4½ x 3½, rich effects, worth $24 to 6, your choice for $19.75 6, your choice for Wool Rugs $9.75

Special sale Large Size Wool Rugs, size 5 x 4 yards, 4½ x 4 yards, worth $11.50 to $12.50, fine colorings, your choice for $9.75

Turkish Rugs $7.50

Special sale Turkish Rugs, sizes 10.6×7.6 , 9.10×6.9 and 9.0×6.0 , splendid effects, worth $9 to $12.50, your choice $7.50

65c Cream Panamas and Serges To-morrow for -

To-morrow we place on sale just at the wanted time two splendid washing materials, and our best regular selling lines. On sale to-morrow at a great saving for you. Regular value 65c, special for to-morrow at 47c

Half Price Sale Fine Costume Lengths

To-morrow will be your last chance to secure a very stylish Costume Length, comprising Scotch Tweeds, Vicunas, Cheviots, Worsteds and Broad-cloths, all this season's newest designs, in shadow checks and stripes and plaid effects, in lengths of 7 and 8 yards. On sale to morrow at HALF PRICE.

SPECIAL BARGAINS IN MEN'S FURNISHINGS

Men's Wool Gloves, grey, black, green, brown, regular 75c, on sale

Men's Colored Mufflers, regular $1.25, while they last 69c; a beautiful Christmas gift.

Men's Linen Handkerchiefs, plain and initials, 3 in box 50e

Men's Smoking Jackets are one of our leading bargains, the finest Jackets ever shown in Hamilton for the money.

R. McKAY&CO.