Harbor Grace Notes.

Several little girls of the town, known as the "Sunshine Club," gave a most pleasing playlet in St. Patrick's Hall on Thursday afternoon of last week. The affair was so much appreciated by those present, that a special request was made that the playlet be repeated, and it was staged again, this time in Coughlan Hall, on Monday night last. Those who trained the young players, viz: Mrs. J. T. Molloy and Miss F. Noel, also Miss Q. Hinton, may well feel proud of the good training displayed by the "Sunshine" girls, and the affair, although intended to be on a very small scale, proved to be something really worth while, being most interesting and enjoyable right throughout. It would be unfair to single out any of the little players for special mention, as each part was acted most creditably. The cast of characters of this playlet, has already appeared in these columns. On the second evening, some extra items were added to the programme: Piano selections, a duet, recitations, and some dancing was cleverly executed by little Nestle Hinton. Candy and ice cream was sold during the evening, and on each occasion something like forty dollars was realized, which will be divided amongst the Church of England and Methodist Orphanages. The "Sunshine" girls and their teachers, are certainly worthy of commendation.

St. Paul's Sunday School purpose holding their annual picnic on Thursday of this week at Connell's Farm. We trust that the day will prove fine, so that the youngsters may spend the best kind of a time.

Miss Linnie LeDrew of the Nfld Coal & Trading Co., St. John's, who has been spending her vacation at her home, Bell Island, spent the week end here with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Bellamy of Bay Roberts were amongst the visitors to town during the week.

Rev. F. S. Coffin, Pastor of the Presbyterian Church leaves on Tuesday on a month's vacation, visiting his home at Charlottetown, P.E.I.; he will also attend the Presbyterian Synod at St. John, N.B.

Dr. Cron who had a brief holiday during last week, was relieved during his absence by Dr. Cecil Parsons.

The various schools will re-open for the year's work on Monday next, when the pupils will go back with renewed vigour to their studies. We wish them one and all a very successful year, and with the hope that the coming C.H.E. results holds in store good news for the scholars who sat for the exams, in June last.

Miss Flo Goodwin, daughter of Dr. W. S. and Mrs. Goodwin, leaves town by Thursday's train en route to Sackville, N.S., to continue her studies at school there. Flo's many friends wish her well.

Cochrane House—that well known hotel—has changed ownership so we learn, and will be renovated, before again catering to the travelling public.

Mr. Jas. Yetman left town on Friday for Beloram, where he will be engaged teaching school.

Mr. John Heater, accompanied by his daughter Nellie, leaves town on Thursday morning en route to Toronto, Ont., where they will make their home in the future. The good wishes of their many friends follow them.

Mr. Robert Cron, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cron, leaves on Tuesday to enter Picou Academy.

A Word for the Upper House.

As a hot weather topic the abolition of the Senate is having its full measure of publicity. Our "uplift" newspapers are strong in their pronouncements against the Canadian Upper House and all its works. The Senate simply will not "reform" itself and therefore should, in the eyes of these people, be put where it can do no harm, or good. The Senators, wise old birds for the most part, refuse to get excited every time a "joy killer," either in the form of a newspaper or an individual knocks on the door and demands that this or that reform be enacted. The truth be told there are few if any W. E. Raneys in the Senate Chamber. Most of them are men of the world, who have made good in some calling, before being offered a lodging in the Senate Halls. They even go to horse races and bet on the ponies, and at least one Honorable Senator is the president of a jockey club. And there are a lot of them that would not hesitate to break the Ontario Temperance Act wide open if it suited their convenience. In this respect they are just like a lot of mem-

Members of the House of Commons, only the latter are more inclined to hide their evil ways from the common gaze. If carefully investigated it would be found that there is scarcely an "uplifter" in the Upper House, and their jobs not being dependent upon the whims of a handful of cranks, dissembling is not the best thing they do. A Senator does not even disguise his thoughts with words, as do members of the House of Commons on occasions, and hypocrisy is 'not their strong card. The Canadian Senate needs no dispensation. It is the best, and indeed the only safe guard we have, against the boring in of the "uplifters" who as an organized minority would, if they could, stop the sun from shining on Sunday, provided they thought anybody was getting a little enjoyment out of it.—Saturday Night.

There are other serious parts I feel that I could reply really well but for my defective dentals. A Shakespearean character that would suit me down to the ground, for example, is the ghost in Hamlet. My face would be hidden altogether.
Another strongly dramatic part in which I might have made a "hit" is that of the mad husband in A Bill of Divorcement. Surely my appearance would not be against me there.

A tourist passing through a country village found that his watch had stopped. Seeing a little boy standing outside the village shop he went up to him and said:
Can you tell me the time, sonny?
Just twelve o'clock, was the reply.
"Only twelve, said the tourist. I thought it was more than that."
It's never any more in these parts, sir, answered the boy. It goes up to twelve o'clock and then commences again at one.

A seaside landlady went to her church one Sunday and heard an extremely impressive sermon on the Good Samaritan. So impressed was she that on her return from church she said to a friend: "Well, I'll never turn a beggar away from my door again."
Strangely enough a few days later a tramp knocked at her door. True to her resolve, she ran upstairs and cut a slice of bread from the lodger's loaf.
