MONTREAL HERALD: Not even Professor Wiggins would venture to say what the future may bring forth, and therefore Mr. Mulock's motion is practically an assurance that Canadians are not straining at the collar to get out of the empire, as some allege, but on the contrary are prepared to act loyally up to their duty as British subjects, so long as the welfare of their country, the course of human affairs, and the mutual convenience of the United King-dom and Canada prompt a continuance of the present relationship. No man except an Imperial Federationist can mean more than this, and in silencing the nonsensical cries that this or that section of the community are necessarily annexationists be-cause they desire to extend the trade of Canada in its natural direction, we think Mr. Mulock has done good service.

ALD. ANDERSON'S MOVE.

The year in civic circles has been begun amalgamation question to settle one way or to be disposed of; sewage and drainage problems to discuss and solve; and last, though by no means least, the advance ment of the objects aimed at by Ald. Anderson, in the two resolutions recently submitted by him to the City Council.

Ald, Anderson's motions affect two prac-tical questions, on the proper solution of which not a little of the future prosperity of London may depend. We refer to the improvement of Port Stanley harbor and the consolidation of the city debt. It has been Montreal and Maritime Provinces-A. McKim alleged that the worthy alderman from the Fifth ward is a crank on railways, and no doubt he has made them a hobby, but he has always had a single eye to the advancement of the city's interests by the promotion of new railway lines. No gentlepracticing in Detroit, Mich., and two in this city, and they appear to know their way situation, for it is a quarter of a century since Ald. Anderson entered the arena He was the pioneer in the agitation for the construction of the London and Port Stanway in which it will be resurrected. Sure- that it pays to look a little ahead in these taking of every precaution for the conservation of London's interests. GOLDWIN SMITH in the Bystander: Of Both the questions are sufficiently live to Q.C's, we have had simultaneous showers be kept in view now, as they will have to be dealt with in the near future. In about two years the lease of the London and Port Stanley Railway to the Great Western Railway Company, whose interests are now identical with the Grand Trunk, will expire: and if no satisfactory arrangement can be arrived at with the leasing company for an extension of the lease or otherwise, respecting the benefit to the city and to the West to have a good harbor at the terminus of the local road. The city will then have all the advantage of a seaport town, and will have access by water ommunication to all parts of Europe and the inland lake waters, thus giving an independent freight line. Of course it may be possible to come to an agreement with the G. T. R. Company of greater advantage to we may expect his political opponents to continue to misrepresent his views and the patrictic objects aimed at by his supporters. It is a way they have; it pleases them and it does not hurt the Liberals.

G. T. R. Company of greater advantage to the city than the resumption of control of the L. and P. S. line by the city—if so, well and good; but what Ald. Anderson very rightly aims at is to take time by the control of the city than the resumption of control of the L. and P. S. line by the city—if so, well and good; but what Ald. Anderson very rightly aims at is to take time by the control of the city than the resumption of control of the L. and P. S. line by the city—if so, well and good; but what Ald. Anderson very rightly aims at is to take time by the control of the city than the resumption of control of the L. and P. S. line by the city—if so, well and good; but what Ald. Anderson very rightly aims at is to take time by the control of the city—if so, well and good; but what Ald. Port Stanley put in repair, as it ought to be put in repair, by the Dominion Government at the earliest possible moment. Then, no matter how the railway negatiation. matter how the railway negotiations go, the city will be placed at no disadvantage.

CHRISTIAN SOCIALISM.

The cloquent Bishop of Peterborough has been giving, through the Fort-nightly Review, his opinions on the subject of Christian Socialism, and especially on the relations of the State to Christian precepts. It appears that in the course of a discussion on Christian Socialism at a diocesan conference recently, the Bishop ventured these two assertions: 1. That it is not rossible for the State to carry out, in all its relations, literally, all the precepts of Christ, and that a State which attempted this could not exist a week.

2. That if it were possible to do this the result would be a perfectly intolerable

For so saying he has had charges of "imilton and has smiled on the Spectator man, the latter is a trifle more reasonable in regard to the department over which Hom.

Mt. Ross presides. We have been accustomed to read that the public schools were fearfully mismanaged and that they were going to the dogs, but now this stallwart anti-Mowat and anti-Ross organ says.

It is agreed upon all hands that Hamilton has the best public schools in Ontario, and that Ontario has the best public schools in the world.

Now, it surely is evident to any reasonable man that if Ontario has "the best public schools in the world." Now, it surely is evident to any reasonable man that if Ontario has the best public schools in the world. The more than a defense, however, the Dishop with the Church. He maintains that it is not possible for the State to carry out the precepts of the Sermon on the Mount—the precepts which inculcate in the province, we naturally pay a compliment to its business head, and that is what this Tory authority has now done for the governing head of our school system. The Tory papers would stand a better chance of winning votes for their party if they understood once for all that persistent and unceasonable abuse of the statement of the learned of the statement of the statement of the statement of the statement of the learned of the statement of the statement of the learned of the statement of the statement of the learned of the statement of the learned of the statement State? The proper place of any person is very true as applied to them. The men who maintains that these things can be done, who call themselves Christian Socialists the Bishop says, is in a lunatic asylum. It cannot be done, he asserts, either in the the State. letter or in the spirit; because the essential is morally bound to be faithful. In order is bound, first, to preserve its own existence, and secondly "to resist, restrain, and if needs be to destroy whatever and whomsoever assails its authority or attacks the in-The full returns in the Prince Edward terests committed to its charge." This idea of rights and resistance to all assaults on them is not the idea of the Sermon on the most itor of being in the minority if it selects a Speaker from its own side in the new House. Later dispatches say that the figures are 15 to 15—a tie. Hon. W. W. Sullivan went on the bench, ind Mr. Nell McLeod succeeded him as fremier. This change was a reason for bringing on the elections ahead of time. In the late the later and the reaction in their favor has sfore been decided.

The way, the chief plank in the Tory orm was formed from the financial sities of the Province. The late Adstration stares the people, in the face, and the seating attention of the people, in the face, and first the state is bound to defend the interests of its subjects, and in effect the poor, but he has no right to this bestow their goods, simply because they are theirs and not his." And so the Bishop argues that the State is bound to defend the interests of its subjects, and in defending them it is bound to maintain and defend itself. Neither would the State be those and his friends expressed themselves confident of obtaining from Sir John Macdonald. It says a good deal for the people, tempted by such a bribe, that so many of them re or reaction on the minority if it the mount which from beginning to end is the idea of the Sermon on the Mount, which from beginning to end is the idea of the Sermon on the mount which from beginning to end is the idea of the Sermon on the head of time. W. W. Sullivan went on the heat of time. Mr. Davies, the while the State has this duty to perform, talented M. P., ex-Premier of the Province, there may be better ways of punishing the by the severity of the criminal code. Men

The year in civic circles has been begun very quietly, and it may be imagined by some that the aldermen will have little to do during the next trailer worths. But 45 do during the next twelve months. But his native town, marched out the next day the man who entertains this view is very much mistaken. There is the suburban should not leave it during his lifetime that Scotchman had a great deal of human another; the question of lighting the streets nature in him. In a recent lecture on the subject of "Crimes against Criminals" Bob

Curiously enough the fact is that, no matter ow severe the punishments were, the crimes recased. Those who indicated the punishments became as degraded as their victims, rimes were committed to runish crimes, and times were committed to prevent crimes. It is fe to say that Governments have committed far more crimes that

It is not by rigorous treatment that the riminal classes can be most successfully treated, and even in their case we venture to say that an application of the precepts of the Sermon on the Mount would serve a better purpose than the severer measures which have often been tried. The Russian plan is as far as possible removed from the ecepts of Christ, and perhaps no plan yet tried by Governments has been less effectual in the repression of crime.

Returning, however, to the ideas of Socialism and Communism, we agree with the Bishop of Peterborough that while the ndividual may give away or retain his property as he pleases, no obligation of com-pulsory redistribution should be imposed apon the State. The attempt at Communsm recorded in the Acts did not compel the Christians to distribute their property; they were at liberty to deal with it as they pleased. And so the Bishop says:

its many precents of benevolence and, the amount and the manner of distribute the rich to the poor is left to the and conscience of the individual—obt Socialism. Let us not suppose, how the State proceeding to enjoyee some one of the suppose.

Very true; but if the Bishop of Peter-orough lived in Canada he would know how the converse of this may be true,now that the Government take forcibly from the poor and gives to the rich, and by plausible arrangement makes the poor be-is, that the Church is not and cannot be-come the State, and that the State is not and annot become the Church; that they are two entirely distinct societies with different aims, laws and methods of government. The duty of the Church is to eradicate sin, the duty of the State is to prevent or to punish crime." And so the Bishop had no sympathy with those men who are always denouncing the politicians and preaching that the State will never be well verned until it is governed by the saints.

He says:

THE annual report of the British Postnaster-General discloses a few novelties in the way of Christmas hampers that have the way of Christmas hampers that have been sent through the post. In one were two petticoats, a pair of stays, a leg of mutton and a packet of tobacco. In another there was a large grey rabbit, containing in its inside two tobacco pipes, a plug of tobacco, a doll and a piece of bacon, the whole being wrapped up in a lady's jacket. In the parcels stopped in transit as contrary to regulation were found a cat, a squirrel, pigeons, lizards, dornice, a cuckoo, snakes, muskrats, and moles, all alive, not to mention one or two other parcels containing dead dogs and cats. The Postmaster-General says this playful spirit on the part of the public is on the increase.
