THE STORY OF THE CRIME.

Six years ago James Kane, formerly a soldier in the British army, took as his second wife a widow named Elizabeth Skinner. Kane was an Irishman, 46 years old, and a Roman Catholic. The woman professional of the state of the sta old, and a Roman Catholic. The woman was English, 49 years of age, and a Protestant. Both had families. Kane's children went away to fight the battle of life for themselves, but his wife's family were with her, or, at all events, in the city. were with her, or, at all events, in the city-for a week prior to the murder James Kane and his wife had not been living together, she with her sons, Alfred and James Skinner, children by her first husband. On the afternoon of Monday, March 23, Kane met his wife at Alfred Skinner's house. He entered the kitchen learn and was along with the woman. Skinner's house. He entered the kitchen door and was alone with the woman. What words passed between them is not known, but Mrs. Alfred Skinner, hearing screams, called to her husband. Mr. Skinner rushed into the house, and seeing Kane near Mrs. Kane struck him a blow with his fist and knocked him to the floor. Mrs. Kane staggered and immediately fell to the floor, and in a few minutes was dead. In Kane's nossession was a large was dead. In Kane's possession was a large butcher knife with which he had done the

The murdered woman never spoke a word. Kane did not deny the deed, but said he was proud of what he had done. Kane was tried on April 16 and found guilty of murder. When asked by the judge if he had anything to say why the sentence of the court should not be passed upon him, he replied: "Nothing to say, your "Honor." He was immediately sentenced.

As to the number of men on the train accounts differ. Disston, the boss, thinks here were over 40, and, as a matter of act, the number of those blown either to fact, the number of those blown either to atoms or into the river is to a certain ex-tent a matter of speculation. The train was torn to atoms, the railway tracks ripped from their bed and a great hole many feet deep dug out of the earth, totally blocking traffic on the railway for many hours.

Those killed were literally blown to pieces. Some of the wounded were minus their arms, others had their legs blown away, and still others were dismembered in an equally horrible manner. A number of the wounded will probably die.

The Sunshine of the Heart.

Cheerfulness is an excellent wearing quality. It has been called the bright weather of the heart. Without it home is dark and desolate, and society becomes a nuisance—a something to be avoided. Unnuisance—a something to be avoided. Unfortunately, we too often meet the miserable, low spirited nervous man and woman. They are continually tortured with a feeling of ennui, a sense of goneness, lifelessness and melancholy. Many complain of their constant nervousness, short breath, ness and melancholy. Many complain of their constant nervousness, short breath a drowsiness after meals, unrest and disquietude at nights, dyspepsia and indigestion. Enough all will will readily ddut to take life unendurable. Hind als indeed have a desire to end light once, and thus get rid of their sufferings. Reader are you carnest in your desire to secure a natural, healthy, cheerful character and disposition? Are you actuated by a desire to make the world pleasanter for yourself and others? This desire may be attained by the use of that infallible remedy, Paine's Celery Compound. The history of medicine cannot point to its equal as a cure for the troubles which afflict and torment you. Do as thousands of others have done; use without delay this great festorer of the nerve system, this grand builder of muscle and flesh, and you will live in peace and joy to bless its great discoverer.
