Visible supply furnished the only feature of invisible supply furnished the was builts as exlocal buying to cover short sales made last week. Visible supply furnished the only feature of interest to speculators. This was bullish as expected; shorts had covered and holders stood ready to unload on the announcement. Market broke $40 as a result. Indications that the drouth in the Northwest was broken, the room traders sold short only to find the market was too narrow to allow profit, and close was dull but firm at one cent advance. Corn and oats each gained $40 for the day, estimated receipts for to-morrow being liberal, caused decline below Saturday's closing, but receiving and shipping combine absorbed all offerings and drove shorts and scalpers to cover. Provisions were narrow, strength in grain stimulated some local speculative buying. We still feel that our markets must drift lower.
