

PATENTS PROCURED
In Canada, Great Britain, United States and Foreign Countries.
PRELIMINARY ADVICE FREE.
C. E. ROBBES
Canada Life Building, Toronto.

FIFTEENTH YEAR

IS SHE FRANK WESTWOOD'S SLAYER

A Young Mulatto Woman Arrested on Suspicion.

CLARA FORD, TAILOR, JAILED.

Taken Into Custody at Her York-st. Boarding House.

It is claimed that she dressed in male attire, called at the Westwood house and shot Frank Westwood—a revolver of the same calibre as that which killed Westwood. She was seen in her room, together with a man, on the night of the shooting. She was known to be in the habit of wearing men's clothing—was acquainted with Westwood—this may explain the boy's reluctance.

Clara Ford, a mulatto, who has been employed as a tailor here, was arrested at her home, 154 York-st., off and on for the past eight months, and who has boarded for that period in the adjoining home, 152 York-st., with Mrs. John Westwood, was arrested last evening on a charge of being the murderer of Frank Westwood, who was shot down at the door of his father's house, at the foot of Jameson-avenue, on Saturday night, Oct. 6.

The girl gives her age as 33 years, but looks more like 25. She is best described as a "yaller" girl, and would almost pass for a white woman. She was born and raised in this city, and until two years ago lived with Mrs. McKay, a white woman, in a cottage in the Salvation Army Industrial Home, which immediately adjoins the Westwood residence on the north. Early in 1892 the cottage was converted into a stable, and Mrs. McKay and Clara went to live at 107 Fern-avenue. Mrs. McKay was removed to the Home for Incapables, where she died, and Clara continued to live in the house alone, and rumor did not give her a good reputation. Even then she is supposed to have been addicted to perambulating in male attire and carrying a revolver, as frequent complaints were made to the police that a colored girl in male garb had stopped different young women in the streets. About this time Clara disappeared, and it has been ascertained that she went to Manitoba, returning about eight months ago, when she went to board at Mrs. Dorsey's, 152 York-st., where she has resided since.

When Mrs. McKay and Clara were working at her trade as a tailor in the various Hebrew tailor shops in the vicinity, when her room was searched, after her arrest, a suit of men's clothing, several men's white shirts and a .38-caliber revolver, with two empty chambers, were found.

The first time Clara was arrested was working on the case since the shot was fired. Three weeks ago a pointer dog obtained from her was dropped in conversation by a woman. Then the officers went on a still-hunt for Clara Ford, but not until yesterday did they succeed in locating her.

At 4.30 yesterday afternoon Detective Slemin and Porter never ceased working on the case since the shot was fired. Three weeks ago a pointer dog obtained from her was dropped in conversation by a woman. Then the officers went on a still-hunt for Clara Ford, but not until yesterday did they succeed in locating her.

The arrest. At 4.30 yesterday afternoon Detective Slemin and Porter never ceased working on the case since the shot was fired. Three weeks ago a pointer dog obtained from her was dropped in conversation by a woman. Then the officers went on a still-hunt for Clara Ford, but not until yesterday did they succeed in locating her.

When Mrs. Dorsey was shot, Mrs. Dorsey at an early hour this morning. She was an orphan with one sister. She was born and raised in Toronto, but her parents have been dead for some years. Some time ago she went to Manitoba, returning eight months ago. Since her return she has boarded with Mrs. Dorsey, working for the greater part of that time with Mr. Barnett. Mrs. Dorsey could not tell from memory what time of night Clara returned to her boarding house on Saturday, October 6, the evening Frank Westwood was shot, but was sure she could not have been out till 11.30 o'clock.

"I don't give my board phlegmatically," but let them in myself. Clara always came in between 9 and 10 o'clock, and it was then that I noticed the girl. I certainly would have remembered it.

Always Carried a Revolver. "There's nothing in the finding of the revolver," continued Mrs. Dorsey. "Clara owned that revolver. I've seen it often. She always carried it with her when she went out nights to protect herself, and slept with it under her pillow. She also wore men's clothes sometimes. She was very masculine, and frequently went out in male attire, often wearing a pair of men's pants under her dress."

During the eight months she has been with me she has worked for different Hebrew tailors in York-st. I have never heard her talk much about the Westwood case, but of course she discussed it same as the rest of us did."

Her Employer. Samuel Barnett, the girl's employer, also said that Clara was steady and industrious. She had worked for me on three different occasions during the past eight months, said Mr. Barnett, coming here the last time on Saturday, Sept. 15. Since that time she has been working continuously, often until 9 and 10 o'clock at night. I am sure she worked on the day of the Westwood shooting, and also the Monday following, because I remember her remarking that morning, when we were reading the account of the shooting, that "it wouldn't be safe for anyone to go to the door after this." She never spoke much to the other girls, but attended to her work. Her little 14-year-old sister used to come and see her occasionally, and once when she came at night Clara told her never to go along York-st. at night, and always to come in the daytime. We have been very busy of late, working nights, and Clara has always been here. Only this afternoon she said, "I guess we'll have to work on Thanksgiving Day and try to catch up, but I don't mind."

When the detectives took Clara away they did not inform Barnett as to the crime with which she was charged, and he knew nothing of the suspicion against her that she was the murderer of Frank Westwood until told by The World. There were several tailors in the shop at the time, and they were dumfounded. The girl had certainly made no confidant of any of them, nor let drop anything that would lead them to suspect her in connection with the tragedy.

Frank Knew the Girl. Ed. Lemox, poor Frank Westwood's chauffeur, told The World last night that he knew the girl Clara Ford by sight. He used to live about two years ago at the avenue. He believed Frank Westwood knew her also by sight, but he could not remember Frank had an intimate acquaintance with her.

The Evidence to Date. The evidence upon which the young mulatto was arrested is briefly as follows: The girl lived for a long time in the immediate vicinity of the Westwood house, and was consequently familiar with the locality. She is known to have been acquainted with Frank Westwood; witnesses swear to having seen her in the house alone, and rumor did not give her a good reputation. Even then she is supposed to have been addicted to perambulating in male attire and carrying a revolver, as frequent complaints were made to the police that a colored girl in male garb had stopped different young women in the streets. About this time Clara disappeared, and it has been ascertained that she went to Manitoba, returning about eight months ago, when she went to board at Mrs. Dorsey's, 152 York-st., where she has resided since.

LEADER HAYCOCK SPEAKS.

EXPONDS PATRON PRINCIPLES AT TORONTO JUNCTION.

Citizen John Brown's second meeting of his campaign against Mr. Clarke Wallace in West York—Members should not ride on Passes—To Do Away With the Medical Council.

The Patrons of Industry of West York held their second meeting at Toronto Junction last night in the interest of Candidate John Brown. In point of attendance the meeting was more successful than the previous one. Yet the magic name of J. L. Haycock, the leader of the Patrons in the local organization, did not draw more than 200 to Kilburn Hall.

The chair was occupied by John A. McDonald, ex-deputy mayor of York, who, on the platform with him were John Brown, George Wrigley, A. W. Holmes, Phillip Thompson and J. W. Haycock, M.L.A. for Frontenac.

The Patron Leader. After address by the chairman and Mr. Holmes, J. L. Haycock, M.L.A., and leader of the Patrons, was given a warm reception. He did not claim to be an orator, but only a common laboring man with a following, because I remember her remarking that morning, when we were reading the account of the shooting, that "it wouldn't be safe for anyone to go to the door after this." She never spoke much to the other girls, but attended to her work. Her little 14-year-old sister used to come and see her occasionally, and once when she came at night Clara told her never to go along York-st. at night, and always to come in the daytime. We have been very busy of late, working nights, and Clara has always been here. Only this afternoon she said, "I guess we'll have to work on Thanksgiving Day and try to catch up, but I don't mind."

When the detectives took Clara away they did not inform Barnett as to the crime with which she was charged, and he knew nothing of the suspicion against her that she was the murderer of Frank Westwood until told by The World. There were several tailors in the shop at the time, and they were dumfounded. The girl had certainly made no confidant of any of them, nor let drop anything that would lead them to suspect her in connection with the tragedy.

Frank Knew the Girl. Ed. Lemox, poor Frank Westwood's chauffeur, told The World last night that he knew the girl Clara Ford by sight. He used to live about two years ago at the avenue. He believed Frank Westwood knew her also by sight, but he could not remember Frank had an intimate acquaintance with her.

The Evidence to Date. The evidence upon which the young mulatto was arrested is briefly as follows: The girl lived for a long time in the immediate vicinity of the Westwood house, and was consequently familiar with the locality. She is known to have been acquainted with Frank Westwood; witnesses swear to having seen her in the house alone, and rumor did not give her a good reputation. Even then she is supposed to have been addicted to perambulating in male attire and carrying a revolver, as frequent complaints were made to the police that a colored girl in male garb had stopped different young women in the streets. About this time Clara disappeared, and it has been ascertained that she went to Manitoba, returning about eight months ago, when she went to board at Mrs. Dorsey's, 152 York-st., where she has resided since.

When Mrs. McKay and Clara were working at her trade as a tailor in the various Hebrew tailor shops in the vicinity, when her room was searched, after her arrest, a suit of men's clothing, several men's white shirts and a .38-caliber revolver, with two empty chambers, were found.

The first time Clara was arrested was working on the case since the shot was fired. Three weeks ago a pointer dog obtained from her was dropped in conversation by a woman. Then the officers went on a still-hunt for Clara Ford, but not until yesterday did they succeed in locating her.

At 4.30 yesterday afternoon Detective Slemin and Porter never ceased working on the case since the shot was fired. Three weeks ago a pointer dog obtained from her was dropped in conversation by a woman. Then the officers went on a still-hunt for Clara Ford, but not until yesterday did they succeed in locating her.

When Mrs. Dorsey was shot, Mrs. Dorsey at an early hour this morning. She was an orphan with one sister. She was born and raised in Toronto, but her parents have been dead for some years. Some time ago she went to Manitoba, returning eight months ago. Since her return she has boarded with Mrs. Dorsey, working for the greater part of that time with Mr. Barnett. Mrs. Dorsey could not tell from memory what time of night Clara returned to her boarding house on Saturday, October 6, the evening Frank Westwood was shot, but was sure she could not have been out till 11.30 o'clock.

"I don't give my board phlegmatically," but let them in myself. Clara always came in between 9 and 10 o'clock, and it was then that I noticed the girl. I certainly would have remembered it.

Always Carried a Revolver. "There's nothing in the finding of the revolver," continued Mrs. Dorsey. "Clara owned that revolver. I've seen it often. She always carried it with her when she went out nights to protect herself, and slept with it under her pillow. She also wore men's clothes sometimes. She was very masculine, and frequently went out in male attire, often wearing a pair of men's pants under her dress."

During the eight months she has been with me she has worked for different Hebrew tailors in York-st. I have never heard her talk much about the Westwood case, but of course she discussed it same as the rest of us did."

Her Employer. Samuel Barnett, the girl's employer, also said that Clara was steady and industrious. She had worked for me on three different occasions during the past eight months, said Mr. Barnett, coming here the last time on Saturday, Sept. 15. Since that time she has been working continuously, often until 9 and 10 o'clock at night. I am sure she worked on the day of the Westwood shooting, and also the Monday following, because I remember her remarking that morning, when we were reading the account of the shooting, that "it wouldn't be safe for anyone to go to the door after this." She never spoke much to the other girls, but attended to her work. Her little 14-year-old sister used to come and see her occasionally, and once when she came at night Clara told her never to go along York-st. at night, and always to come in the daytime. We have been very busy of late, working nights, and Clara has always been here. Only this afternoon she said, "I guess we'll have to work on Thanksgiving Day and try to catch up, but I don't mind."

When the detectives took Clara away they did not inform Barnett as to the crime with which she was charged, and he knew nothing of the suspicion against her that she was the murderer of Frank Westwood until told by The World. There were several tailors in the shop at the time, and they were dumfounded. The girl had certainly made no confidant of any of them, nor let drop anything that would lead them to suspect her in connection with the tragedy.

Frank Knew the Girl. Ed. Lemox, poor Frank Westwood's chauffeur, told The World last night that he knew the girl Clara Ford by sight. He used to live about two years ago at the avenue. He believed Frank Westwood knew her also by sight, but he could not remember Frank had an intimate acquaintance with her.

THE WARDEN WILL BE CALED.

AFTER A DETROIT FRANCHISE.

TORONTO STREET RAILWAY COMPANY BRANCHING OUT.

Mr. Everett Submitted a Petition to the Detroit City Council last night asking for a franchise in rivalry to the existing lines. The proposition looked on with favor.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 20.—Greene Pack, Albert Mack and Henry A. Everett, who are interested in the Toronto street railway, presented their petition for a franchise to the Detroit city council last night. The petition was organized by the Detroit street railway company, and the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it.

The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested. On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

CHATELLE'S RELATIVES

Have Not Decided to Defend Him Although Some Toronto Lawyers Have Offered Their Services.

Stratford, Nov. 20.—Malcolm Macfarlane is in St. Hyacinthe, Quebec, and while there had an interview with Emese Chattle, the half-brother of the murderer.

The half-brother keeps a grocery store in St. Hyacinthe, and appeared to be doing a flourishing business. Chattle, the prisoner, left St. Hyacinthe when his half-brother was only two years old, so that the latter never saw him until he returned there last spring. Emese knew from his father that there was such a brother, while St. Hyacinthe the prisoner worked as a laborer on a railway, and appeared to be very quiet. He who knew himself was shocked to hear of the murder, and all the laborers with whom he had worked all said that they had considered him very quiet. To his half-brother especially the news was a terrible shock.

"He has had several letters from parties in Toronto making inquiries about his brother's insanity, and offering to defend him on that plea. Emese, however, thinks his brother is perfectly sane, and asked Mr. Macfarlane's opinion as to the advisability of defending him. After giving Mr. Chattle minute details of the evidence against the prisoner, Mr. Macfarlane said he did not think it would be advisable to defend him. Mr. Chattle in response, "He's a hard jail," remarked Mr. Macfarlane. "He must be," was the answer.

He has had several letters from parties in Toronto making inquiries about his brother's insanity, and offering to defend him on that plea. Emese, however, thinks his brother is perfectly sane, and asked Mr. Macfarlane's opinion as to the advisability of defending him. After giving Mr. Chattle minute details of the evidence against the prisoner, Mr. Macfarlane said he did not think it would be advisable to defend him. Mr. Chattle in response, "He's a hard jail," remarked Mr. Macfarlane. "He must be," was the answer.

He has had several letters from parties in Toronto making inquiries about his brother's insanity, and offering to defend him on that plea. Emese, however, thinks his brother is perfectly sane, and asked Mr. Macfarlane's opinion as to the advisability of defending him. After giving Mr. Chattle minute details of the evidence against the prisoner, Mr. Macfarlane said he did not think it would be advisable to defend him. Mr. Chattle in response, "He's a hard jail," remarked Mr. Macfarlane. "He must be," was the answer.

He has had several letters from parties in Toronto making inquiries about his brother's insanity, and offering to defend him on that plea. Emese, however, thinks his brother is perfectly sane, and asked Mr. Macfarlane's opinion as to the advisability of defending him. After giving Mr. Chattle minute details of the evidence against the prisoner, Mr. Macfarlane said he did not think it would be advisable to defend him. Mr. Chattle in response, "He's a hard jail," remarked Mr. Macfarlane. "He must be," was the answer.

He has had several letters from parties in Toronto making inquiries about his brother's insanity, and offering to defend him on that plea. Emese, however, thinks his brother is perfectly sane, and asked Mr. Macfarlane's opinion as to the advisability of defending him. After giving Mr. Chattle minute details of the evidence against the prisoner, Mr. Macfarlane said he did not think it would be advisable to defend him. Mr. Chattle in response, "He's a hard jail," remarked Mr. Macfarlane. "He must be," was the answer.

He has had several letters from parties in Toronto making inquiries about his brother's insanity, and offering to defend him on that plea. Emese, however, thinks his brother is perfectly sane, and asked Mr. Macfarlane's opinion as to the advisability of defending him. After giving Mr. Chattle minute details of the evidence against the prisoner, Mr. Macfarlane said he did not think it would be advisable to defend him. Mr. Chattle in response, "He's a hard jail," remarked Mr. Macfarlane. "He must be," was the answer.

He has had several letters from parties in Toronto making inquiries about his brother's insanity, and offering to defend him on that plea. Emese, however, thinks his brother is perfectly sane, and asked Mr. Macfarlane's opinion as to the advisability of defending him. After giving Mr. Chattle minute details of the evidence against the prisoner, Mr. Macfarlane said he did not think it would be advisable to defend him. Mr. Chattle in response, "He's a hard jail," remarked Mr. Macfarlane. "He must be," was the answer.

He has had several letters from parties in Toronto making inquiries about his brother's insanity, and offering to defend him on that plea. Emese, however, thinks his brother is perfectly sane, and asked Mr. Macfarlane's opinion as to the advisability of defending him. After giving Mr. Chattle minute details of the evidence against the prisoner, Mr. Macfarlane said he did not think it would be advisable to defend him. Mr. Chattle in response, "He's a hard jail," remarked Mr. Macfarlane. "He must be," was the answer.

He has had several letters from parties in Toronto making inquiries about his brother's insanity, and offering to defend him on that plea. Emese, however, thinks his brother is perfectly sane, and asked Mr. Macfarlane's opinion as to the advisability of defending him. After giving Mr. Chattle minute details of the evidence against the prisoner, Mr. Macfarlane said he did not think it would be advisable to defend him. Mr. Chattle in response, "He's a hard jail," remarked Mr. Macfarlane. "He must be," was the answer.

He has had several letters from parties in Toronto making inquiries about his brother's insanity, and offering to defend him on that plea. Emese, however, thinks his brother is perfectly sane, and asked Mr. Macfarlane's opinion as to the advisability of defending him. After giving Mr. Chattle minute details of the evidence against the prisoner, Mr. Macfarlane said he did not think it would be advisable to defend him. Mr. Chattle in response, "He's a hard jail," remarked Mr. Macfarlane. "He must be," was the answer.

He has had several letters from parties in Toronto making inquiries about his brother's insanity, and offering to defend him on that plea. Emese, however, thinks his brother is perfectly sane, and asked Mr. Macfarlane's opinion as to the advisability of defending him. After giving Mr. Chattle minute details of the evidence against the prisoner, Mr. Macfarlane said he did not think it would be advisable to defend him. Mr. Chattle in response, "He's a hard jail," remarked Mr. Macfarlane. "He must be," was the answer.

He has had several letters from parties in Toronto making inquiries about his brother's insanity, and offering to defend him on that plea. Emese, however, thinks his brother is perfectly sane, and asked Mr. Macfarlane's opinion as to the advisability of defending him. After giving Mr. Chattle minute details of the evidence against the prisoner, Mr. Macfarlane said he did not think it would be advisable to defend him. Mr. Chattle in response, "He's a hard jail," remarked Mr. Macfarlane. "He must be," was the answer.

He has had several letters from parties in Toronto making inquiries about his brother's insanity, and offering to defend him on that plea. Emese, however, thinks his brother is perfectly sane, and asked Mr. Macfarlane's opinion as to the advisability of defending him. After giving Mr. Chattle minute details of the evidence against the prisoner, Mr. Macfarlane said he did not think it would be advisable to defend him. Mr. Chattle in response, "He's a hard jail," remarked Mr. Macfarlane. "He must be," was the answer.

He has had several letters from parties in Toronto making inquiries about his brother's insanity, and offering to defend him on that plea. Emese, however, thinks his brother is perfectly sane, and asked Mr. Macfarlane's opinion as to the advisability of defending him. After giving Mr. Chattle minute details of the evidence against the prisoner, Mr. Macfarlane said he did not think it would be advisable to defend him. Mr. Chattle in response, "He's a hard jail," remarked Mr. Macfarlane. "He must be," was the answer.

He has had several letters from parties in Toronto making inquiries about his brother's insanity, and offering to defend him on that plea. Emese, however, thinks his brother is perfectly sane, and asked Mr. Macfarlane's opinion as to the advisability of defending him. After giving Mr. Chattle minute details of the evidence against the prisoner, Mr. Macfarlane said he did not think it would be advisable to defend him. Mr. Chattle in response, "He's a hard jail," remarked Mr. Macfarlane. "He must be," was the answer.

HOBBYS BY A MAJORITY OF 800

LONDON WAS A LIBERAL THANKSGIVING FEAST.

The Fight Was a Hot One to the Last. But When the Ballots Were Counted Mayor Esary Was Elected—Conservatives Charge Wholesale Bribery, Corruption and Persecution.

London, Nov. 20.—T. S. Hobbs (Lib.) was to-day elected to represent London in the Legislative Assembly by the large majority of 800. The contest for the seat resigned by Chief Justice Meredith was a warm one, and the Liberals are wildly enthusiastic over the result. The supporters of Mayor Esary, the defeated Conservative, claim that the election was won by open bribery and corruption of all kinds, and that the Liberal candidates were charged with attempted perjury, and that in the cells and several other cases in which the Liberal candidates have been reported.

In one single ward of the city, which elected Mr. Esary last January, gave a majority, the whole six went Liberal by majorities ranging from 90 to 200, and all helping to swell the total.

The Horrible Details. The counted figures as arranged last night show Mr. Hobbs' election by an even 800. The vote by wards was as follows:

Ward	Hobbs	Esary
1	408	431
2	566	596
3	590	592
4	655	595
5	477	548

Total ... 3517 ... 3017
The majority 800. Largest that has ever been given to any candidate in the history of the city. For the last few years the Liberal party has been a virtual minority.

The candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper. The Liberal candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper. The Liberal candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper.

The candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper. The Liberal candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper.

The candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper. The Liberal candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper.

The candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper. The Liberal candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper.

The candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper. The Liberal candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper.

The candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper. The Liberal candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper.

The candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper. The Liberal candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper.

The candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper. The Liberal candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper.

The candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper. The Liberal candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper.

The candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper. The Liberal candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper.

The candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper. The Liberal candidates were widely distributed. Mr. Esary is a fluent speaker, and rather apt to lose his temper.

MISSING!

AFTER A DETROIT FRANCHISE.

TORONTO STREET RAILWAY COMPANY BRANCHING OUT.

Mr. Everett Submitted a Petition to the Detroit City Council last night asking for a franchise in rivalry to the existing lines. The proposition looked on with favor.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 20.—Greene Pack, Albert Mack and Henry A. Everett, who are interested in the Toronto street railway, presented their petition for a franchise to the Detroit city council last night. The petition was organized by the Detroit street railway company, and the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it.

The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested. On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.

On the question of the franchise, the Detroit city council will be asked to grant it. The petition will appear before the Railway Committee at its next meeting, when the legal question of the liability of the county to contribute towards the cost of the franchise will be tested.