Encyclopædia Britannica..

Now within Reasonable Reach of any Purse

Thoroughly Revised and Up to Date

All Arts, all Sciences, all Literatures, all Religions, completely and systematically treated. It is to-day what it has been for a century and a quarter—the Standard Reference Library of the world. Thirty superb octavo volumes, with over 12,000 illustrations; 340 full-page engraved plates; nearly 25,000 pages; 671 new maps and plans.

THE GREATEST—THE BEST—THE CHEAPEST.

CHARLES SPURGEON said, in recommending the Britannica: "If all other books were destroyed, the Bible alone excepted, the world would have lost but little of its information."

"To own a set of the Encyclopædia Britannica is to acknowledge one's self as recognizing the best there is in literature."—GLADSTONE.

A necessity—not a luxury—to every live, progressive Sabbath-school teacher and scholar. A limited number of sets to readers of this magazine at a bargain. Write at once or call. $1 down and 10 cents a day will secure a set.
