THE CRONIN MURDER.

Weaving the Not Around Martin Burke-Private Tolograms Ordered to be Ple--dreed.

WINNIFEO, Juneskië. -- Martin Burke in suntedy have for the marder of Dr. Oreain was remained by the Police Magiatrats to day mutil. Saturday, the Onicego officials being expected have on Thursday (b) identify him. Barke will simit nothing except that he was a day laborer in. Onicego and that he was a day laborer in. Onicego and that he was a day laborer in. Onicego and that he was a day laborer in. Onicego and that he was a day laborer in on the intended visiting Ire-land and wanted to see the Nerthwest before he left. He is very uncommunicative and excepting officials, sees no one but his coun-sel. When arrested he had with him a value in which there was a change of clothes. In in which there was a change of clothes. In it was a dark felt hat, evidently not his own, for it is a couple size too large for him. On the lining a name had been written, but it was carefully blotted with indelible ink, and although it was taken to a chemist it was found impossible to decipher it. All the marks on his clothes had also been carefully blotted out by the same means, and no papers were found on him that will give evidence identifying him.

CHICAGO, June 18,-Chief of Police Hubbard, speaking to day of the array of Mar-tin Barks in Winnipeg, said---'We have a good deal more evidence against Barks than has been published. The identification of his photograph is not nearly all. Burke was fre-quently heard to say Dr. Cronin ought to be removed. There is not a shadow of doubt in my mind that Barks helped to kill Cronin, but whether the Winnipeg man is he can't be stated positively, but there is not much doubt about it.'

It is stated that a friend of Burke has "squealed,' and will accompany the officers with the regulation to Winnipeg.

A BECALCITBANT WITNESS.

Tas sensation incident of the Oronin grand jury proceedings this morning was the re-fusal of Wm. E. Bell, of the Western Union Telegraph company, to obey an order of the jury to produce messages passing between Alexander Sallivan, Dan. Coughlio, P. O'Sullivan, John J. Maroney G. W. Melville. Bell maintained that it was against the rules of the company to produce such messages, and that the statutes of the state imposed a fine of $5,000 upon a telegraph company for divilging the contents of any personal or business message passing over its lines. After all attempts to induce the witness to obey had failed the jury, headed by State Attorney Lauguecker, repaired to Judge Shepherd's roum and appealed to His Honor to issue an order directing the witness to answer under pute of contempt and commitment. After argument the court ordered Bell to produce the telegrams.

STILL MUNTING FOR FACTS.

Maurice Morris, a friend of Dr. Cronin, was balare the jury and told how the doctor had fre-quently stated that he had incurred the enmity of certain persons high in authority in Irish succeeting, and shat he had fears for his life. Wm. Mulcahey, the suspect, was closed with the jury for nearly an hour, and those who heard his story became convinced he had no connection with the crime.

Fifteen or twenty witnesses were before the jury during the afternoon, but the greater num-ber were singularly devoid of information. Several employés of iceman O'Sullivan knew nothing of Sullivan's intimacy with Coughlin and Woodruff. Uther witnesses testified to the insimacy between Coughlin and O'Sullivan.

BURKE'S COMPLICITY.

The Carlsons were given another chance to identify, in the picture of Burke, the man Williams, who rented the cottage. They did not appear any more certain of his identity than yesterday, and the jury was loth to return an indictment against Burke without additional evidence. Chief Hubbard appeared before the ury and urged the prompt indictment of Burke, he knew Burke during the latter's residence here, but had no knowledge of his intimacy with O'Sullivan, Conghlin or any other of the suspected persons. Miss McCormick stated that she was at O'Sullivan's house the night of the murder. The iceman got up about 10 c'clock or later to admit a couple of employees who had spent the evening in Lake View. This is corroborated by the testimony of two of the icemen. Frank T. Johnson, formerly confidential clerk of J. T. Lester & Co., brokers, testified regarding fortunate speculations of Alexander Sullivan and is alloged to have substantiated the story that Sullivan made him a munificent present. Father Dorney gave particulars of P. W. Dunne's charge of embezzlement sgainst Sullivan, and Dorney's investigation of this oharge. Father Dorney stated that after a full investigation of Suilivan's affairs he prenonneed Dunne's charge groundless, Attempts to get information shout Clan.na.Gael affairs from Father Dorney and others were fa tile.

agfinited.: At the Gundian Pacific station he acted like a humbel animal, lying down be-hind the station until the care were opened, and then it once mining first one and taking his seat in a cornected the fax side from the platform. His description tailies, even be-the freckles on his face, with that of the man wanted, but witnesses to identify him will have to no brought from Ghicago. Hus ticket to Liverpool was made out in the name of W. J. Cooper. Ohiel McRas, is satisfied that the pringer is no other than one of the Williams brothers. He was photographed to day, and it is said was very restices while the ploture was being taken. Chicago re-portars are beginning to arrive to report the base. -

FOOT-PRINTS AS A CLUE.

OBIGAGO, June 20 .- The police have under close surveillance another Cronip - suspect. When the Carlson ostings revealed its terrible story one of the most promising dues was the footprints in the paint. The murderer walkad shout in his stocking feet. A shosmaker wrote to the police that a well-known Irishman and Clan-na-Gael man, whose name he had seen in the newspapers in connection with the murder, was his oustomer and had very peculiar feet. A piece of the floor was cut out with three tracks on it and taken to police headquarters. Then the shoemaker was asked to produce the book in which he served the tracings showing the shape of his oustomer's fest. The outlines of the suspected Irishman's feet were found to correspond exactly in size and shape with the footprints t kan from the floor. The peculiarity about the fost which made the paint tracks is the depth of the hellow part of it. In the paint tracks there is a great curve running in from the great too to the heel almost severing the latter from the front part of the foot. The board with the paint tracks on it and the measure book of and loss accounts the shoemaker have been in the grand jury room for several days. It is likely the suspect will be called before the jury.

It is reported the grand jury has obtained a complete list of members of Camp No. 20, Clan-na-Gael, known as the Columbia club, and has directed the subpons of every member. It was from this camp that Cronin was expelled a couple of years ago on the charge of treason.

Detectives last night arrested a grocery olerk named Kuhz, who is familiarly known as "Cooney," to make him explain his close intimacy with Dan. Coughlin during the months of March and April. P. O'Sulliver, the inverse indicated for com-

м P. O'Sullivan, the iceman indicted for complicity in the Oronin tragedy, was to day removed to the boys' department of the jall, the recognized haven for "squealers." It is said he has offered to make a full confession. His motive is said to be fright over the arrest of Barke at Winnipeg and the disclosure that Cooney, "The For," is being actively pur-uued. It is suspected, however, that his removal is simply shrewd tactics on the part of the authorities to break down one or another of the suspects. It is reported that O'Snlllvan, at his own request, has had conferences with the shariff and State attorney,

BURKE RECOGNIZED.

WINNIPRO, June 20.-Detective Collins, of Chicago, arrived here to-day and at once recognized Burke as the person wanted for the murder of Cronin. A warrant was formally issued, charging Burke with murder, and he was transferred from the police cells to the Provincial jail. The hearing of the case is fixed for to-morrow, but it is probable that there will be a remand in order to bring witnesses from Ohicago.

Burke still maintains a discreet silence, and, notwithstanding the sensational statem made in the American press, has nei made a confession nor admissions.

OTTAWA, June 20.-No application h been made for a warrant for the extradit Barke, held in Winnipeg in connection the Cronin tragedy in Chicago, WICHITA, Kan., June 20. — Informer V raff. who has figured so preminently Burke. Henry Stottenburg, Alexander Sullivan's olerk, knew nothing of Goughlin's calls at the lawyer's office. Thomas Given testified that be knew Burke during the latter's residence Henry Stottenburg, Alexander Sullivan's Black, his real name, however, being Frank Bellman, the name Black being borrewed from his stepfather. Before coming here he was mixed up in a murder mystery at Win-field, which has never been nuravelled, and which at the time was conjectured to he a "removal" of an obnexious individual by some secret society. • One night in April, 1887, William B. Van Oleare, a carpenter, of Winfield, was heard calling for help. It was found that he had been shot and he died in a few days. Before his decease, however, he made a statement to the effect that on the night on which the shooting occurred he was alone in the house and answered a call at his door, when he was immediately shot by a man he could not recognize. The inquest lasted a week and among the witnesses was a detective who asserted that this man Black, or Woodruff, was implicated. and that secret society troubles caused the murder. Black was brought before the jury, and though the guilt could not be fastened upon him, it was generally believed that he knew about the affair.

The Directors have again to report a large increase in the business of the Bank and also a substantial increase in the net profits, which have exceeded those of last year by about ten thousand dollars. This increase of profits has arisen largely from the expansion of business and to some extent from the small amount of losses from bed debts. In view, however, of the unfortunate loss at Hull, and the final settlement of a number of old accounts now in course of adjustment, the directors have not thought it invite the attention of business men and mem-bers of Parliament to its importance. The three great wants of Canada are railways, macadamized roads and cheap money. The Government has done much to supply the one, the people themselves must provide the other, and the banks must supply the third. The bank sirculation is the only mailed and the provide the country. On the other hand, if the Banks are deprived of their circulation, not only would they be obliged largely to diminish their loans, but to close at least one-half of their present agencies, which, would be unremunerative. At present the allians is those twin relies of feudal barbariam-aristo-eracy and reyalty. At present the alliance is only between the Parmellites in Ireland, and the Gladatonas in England, rather than between the two races; but this first step will surely result, at an early day, in a mion of the two demoat an early day, in a nnion of the two deme-oracies against beth aristocracy and revally. In the coming contest the Irisb, I think, will lead the way which the people of the Old World are sure to tread before the wronge of the million can be redressed. French, German, and even Russian thinkern are now the heraids of social and national progress, and the Irish people, although by temperament naturally conservative, are more thoroughly imbued with democratic ideas and better instructed in the practical workings and results of popular government than any other race in the Old World. It is again the stone that the builders rejected that is to be taken for the corner-stone in the fature tam. taken for the corner-stone in the future temple of European liberty. I place no great reliance on English friend-ship for Ireland. If the self-interest of the English Liberals did not make it imperative that they should extend Home Rule to Ireland, I should regard Pernellism as predoom. ed to failure. But the followers of Gladstone know that without the Irish sote and supnow they can never regain power, er if by some unforessen upheaval they should regain power, yot, without Irish support they could not hold it, and that the price of that support is Home Rule. Self-interest is a more powerful factor than sentiment ; and as the existing conditions, place Gladstons as much in Parnell's power as the Irish leader is in the pewer of the Roglish leader, there is no reasonable cause to doubt that what the Koglish Premier promised will be granted, even if the old man should die before that pledge is redeemed. Gladstone's party is irrevocably committed to grant Home Rule, not by pledges only, but by political necessity. Fortunately for Ireland, English necessity Fortunately for Ireland, Koglish necessity is strengthened by the solemn anotion of that grim god of the Koglish intellect-prece-dent. The English race is the most cowardly race, intellectually, of all the great races that have ever roled mankind. It treats new ideas as the Romans treated foreigners-that are barbarians until they are slowly assimilated, and can be claimed as " Haglish" or "British." Even the virtues common to all men-the love of fair play, for example-have to be branded as " British " before they are regarded with entire good will. English proceedant favors the granting of Home Rule to Ireland. Indeed the Tory opposition to Home Rule will soon be de-nounced as "opposed to knglish traditions " not to the dreaded "Americanization," but to the well-setablished British pullor: for Ireto the well-established British policy ; for Ireland to-day is the only distinct rection of the British Empire inhabited by English-speaking people to which Home Rule has been per-

INDICTMENTS FOUND AGAINST BURKE.

CHIGAGO, June 19.-The special grand jury in the Oronin case gave its first indication of results at noon to-day, in the shape of an indiotment against Martin Burke on two counts. Barke, allas Martin Dalaney, otherwise called Frank Williams, is indicted, first, for murder, and secondly, for conspiracy with Coughlin, P. O'Sullivan and Wood for the purpose of committing murder, Application will at once be made to Gov-e rnor Fifer by an officer who is now in Springfield, for requisition papers for the extradi-tion of Burke. These papers, properly at-tested, will be spread before the State de-partment at Washington and the secretary of State will make a formal request to the Canadian Government for the surrender and ex. tradition of Burke.

The indictment was returned upon the tes. timony of Michael Gavin, of the Chicago sewer department. Gavin testified that he had known Barke for a long time ; that he had frequently heard the latter boast of his friendship with P. O'Sullivan and others of the suspected parties, and that on one occasion Burke had expressed his conviction that Cronin was an enemy, if not a traitor, to the Irish cause.

A NEW SUSPECT.

CHICAGO, June 19.—An entirely new Oronin anspect is being looked for te-night. His name is Michael Cooney, known as "The For," because of a song he used to sing. Cooney and Burke, it is claimed, actually killed Oronin. Beth are Clan-na-Gael men, Cooney is a bricklayer and came from Ire land only a few years ago. Little hope is entertained of the immediate arrest of Cooney, States Attorney Longnecker d. lowed it to be inferred that he has twe what nesses who will swear Cooney and Bines slept in the Oarlson cottage several days pror to the tragedy, and were seen leaving he cottage on the fatal night. U. GARAND, Cashler Montreal, 31st May, 1889.

In moving the adoption of the report, the president referred to the increase both in the volume of business and of the net profits of the year. The loss at Hull arose through the neglect of the management there to attend to neglect of the management shere to avend to bis instruction to keep his reserve of notes con-stantly under lock and key. Since this loss hed occurred the bank hadjinsured its officens against negligence, as well as against dishonesty. This would cover similar losses in future, should such occur. Outside this the losses had been lighter than usual. The directors had noticed some time since that the orime of forgery was on the time since that the orime of lorgery was on the increase, and had taken special care to grand against is. No less had consequently arisen from this source. Another orime to be guard-ed against was that of parties repudiating their genuine signatures when the makers of com-mercial obligations left the country. Attempts to defraud the bank in this way had occurred, but it always was possessed of evidence to estab lish the genuineness of the paper. During the year payments had been fairly met, but less to during the last two months, particularly in the payment of small obligations, showing a general scarcity of money in the country, Since last annual meeting the old Bank building had been sold at the full price at which it stood in the books of the Bank, and the deeds were in course of completion. This would reduce the amount real estate nearly $40,000. By the settlement of several estate also he considerably reduced. The only large asset to be dealt with was the stock of the Bank taken over by the old management to protect the Bank from loss. The Directors were of opinion that this stock should not be put on the market unless at a considerable premium, as placing it at par would be tantamount to paying 7 per cent. for money. Another reason for de-laying the sale of this stock was the fact that, the Bank charters would expire next year, and and the terms of such renewal definitely ascertained.

Coming to the prospects of the current year the President remarked, that, although the President remarked, that, although the spring had been early, the crop prospects in this Province were scarcely equal to those of last Fromines were scarcely equal to those of last year. In tome sections the grass fields had suf-fored from frost, and the hay crop, so far as in-dicated from the agencies, would not. on the average, be equal to that of last year. The grain crop had also suffered from the cold web weather, particularly on low lands where the fields had been flooded. Still the farmers were in hopes that, with genial weather, the crops would not suffer so much as appearances at pre-sent indicated. sent indicated.

The dairy industry promised well, both as to quantity and price, the cheese market being considerably higher than at the corresponding date last year. The business in sawn lumber had been equal to that of last season most of the bank's custom ors having sold this reason's out as prices slightly in advance of the figures than obtained. The heavy rains had benefited the lumbermen, by enabling them to bring all their long from the small streams into the rivers, and in the case of this Province, most of the logs were now as the mills. In concluding his remarks, the President referred to the renewal of the Bank charters in the following words a state of the Bank charters in the following words a state of the Bank of the Bank blok that any Canddah Government will en-think that any Canddah Government will en-torean abe idea of depriving the banks of their orroulation, nor that any Ganadian Parliament would sanction a measure so fatal to the progress and prosperity of the country, still, se the quest ness. Among these was a young Irish lady, who, when the Holy Father had received her in the ordinary form and when it was expect. ed that she would ask for the blessings usual ly asked for on such occasions, said : "Holy Father pray for the cause of Ireland !" The Pope, with a look of marvellous sympathy on his countenance, said : "I always pray for Ireland; it is very near to my heart !" These words of the Sovereign Pontiff have been told in Rome to the Irish residents and have produced a most consoling feeling. The Holy Father has at all times declared that he had a special affection for Ireland : the reply he made to the young Irish lady has again con-firmed this most satisfactory declaration.

A Foe to the Jestits.

The death is announced of Hermann Wagener, the framer of the Act of 4th July, 1872. by which the Jeauite were expelled from Ger many. Wagener, however, was the tool of Bismarck in this matter. The Jesuits had done no injury, but they were successful teachers of religion and science, and as the Chancellor had made up his mind to persecute the Catholic Church. he naturally made his attack upon that order which was one of the strongest bulwarks of the Church. The first clause of the Act for the suppression of the Jeanits shows its tyrannical character. It was as foilows :---

"The Order of the Society of Jesus, all " Orders connected with it, and monastic institutions of a similar character are excluded from the territory of the German Empire. No settlements thereof may be established. Settlements existing at present must be dissolved within a period to be determined by the Federal Council, which period must not exceed six months." By the 4th of January succeeding, the law was in full operation and the Jesuits were expelled, but within a year Herr Wagener was charged with jobbery of the worst description. and was convicted before the public of the most infamous peculation, which brought his political career to a close. It was in Germany as elsewhere, the enemies of the Jesuits were those whose characters were most blemished with corruption and infamy.-The Record.

Ireland's Parliament existed for centuries, and was only aboliabed at the beginning of the present century. It was reduced to sui-cide by "metalic corruption," and against the united opposition, to use Grattan's words, "of the whole unbribed intellect of Ireland." 18 was only a Parliament of a small section of the people, not of the vation ; but its aboli-tion has been and is sincerely mourned by all classes of the Irish race.

It is certain, I think, that the Irish will be disappointed in many ways when they do secure a Parliament of their own. Unless the Act creating it shall give the power of regulating commerce-unless it gives them the right to protect Irish manufactures against the foreign free trade, home trade destroy ing competition of England, the Irish will still be dependent for subsistence on the soil alone. It will be impossible to establish di-1,858.018.38 versified industries, and the social condition of the peaceants will be but slightly improved. $2,535,544.17

Unless the Parliament shall have the right to exercise the power of eminent domain, and to sbolish landlordism as utterly as we abolished slavery Home Rule will be chiefly a sentimental victory-fair to see, but turning to ashes in the eager mouth of hunger.

Bat until Home Rule is established, under existing conditions, no other remedy for admitted evils can be applied, for the heart of the Irish people is fixed on Home Rule, and $215,831.84 whatever benefits it may be able to bestow must first be felt and their inadequacy acknowledged before the people can be united on any other or more radical issue,

Meanwhile, although it is 1,500 years since St. Patrick landed in Ireland, the population has barely doubled in all that long period-for there are only a little over four millions in Ireland to day—and, within the memory of men not yet old, the population of Ireland has decreased one half; and again 80,000 young men and women, the flower of the Irish race, are leaving her shores every year. South America, the Canadas, and the Autralian colonies, are all competing, either actively or passively, for her young and robust workers. Home Rule will obeck this for a bime, but if it fails to do so, or unless some other means be found to stop the movement, the future of the Irish race will be found in America or Australia, and not in the old home of the race. And therefore the interests of the Irlah race will be influenced for ages by the results of the next English Parliamentary election. No wonder that it is eagerly looked forward to by every friend of the Irish people.
