

India, Dr James An-thysician, at Madras, is himself to the utmost power to provide some for these evils ; not by ly to heal the wound-e way of his profession ;
evising means for pro-subsistence for the ter the devastations of cease. He has kind-erous ardour in 'purseful knowledge, and desire to provide em-for the people in throughout the whole of India, the effects will be felt, long after or ever cease from his
! The rearing of co-
of indigo, of silk, of and spiceries, not yet ere, are the objects of ssful pursuits ; an ac-which we shall take opportunity to lay be-readers. May the n arrive. when the ll be beat into a plough-d the spear into a pru-k ; when the wolf shall with the lamb, and shall lay its hand on atrice den ; when every

Towns writes thus from Vi-19th May 1791 : Certain his country is not cultivated of its value, where it is in and it is an obvious and de-th, that upwards of 5000 have died this year from the ployment, and that several destitute of people which ully inhabited.

