'OUT THERE' AGAIN ON FRIDAY EVENING

Splendid Impression and Universal Praise Make Another Performance Desirable

It will be interesting news to the public to learn that it has been decided this afternoon to hold over the British war-play "Out There" for a special extra-performance tomorrow (Friday) evening at the usual hour.

The instant success of the piece at the Imperial last evening and the consequent response for matinee and evening tickets today suggested the wisdom of continuing the engagement one extra show.

The matinee programme tomorrow will be Vivian Martin in "Little Miss Optimist," the fifth chapter of "The Fighting Tull" serial, and two vaudeville acts.

The curtain will rise on the "Out There" performance at 8.15. Saturday the Imperial resumes for all day, with three new acts of vaudeville.

PERSONALS Rev. Joseph Hayes, of the Cathedral staff, has returned after a visit to his home in Devon.

Rev. Mr. Muir of Annapolis Royal will be in St. John tomorrow. Mrs. M. B. Keith of Petrolia, announces the engagement of her daughter, Alice, to Dwight F. Pickard of Seckville, the marriage to take place at an early date.

WHEN THE LAST TOTAL IS READ Saturday is the first of December and the last day of the Victory Loan.

The totals will be added up at noon. The whole country will hold its breath to see whether or not we have done what we aimed to do—double the subscription to the Victory Loan.

Such a piece of news will have a clear and definite effect on the morale of the enemy. It will have an unmistakable and serious effect. It will actually help shorten the war by weakening its resistance.

But if, when the last figures are punched in on the adding machine, and the last total is "pulled," we have fallen short—what delight for the Kaiser!

The Garden of Eden

Canon Parfit of Jerusalem, who described himself as "Vicar of Mesopotamia and rural dean of the Garden of Eden," told a few Eastern tales in London the other day.

He said that when he first saw his "charge" the scenery did not impress him. The people were poverty-stricken and begged for "bakalooch," the children were "brilliantly clad in olive oil and the sweetest of smiles."

A soldier, writing home, said the heat was so intense that the population were feeding their fowls on ice cream to prevent them laying hard-boiled eggs.

Another, referring to scorpions and mosquitoes, said: "Everything in the Garden's lovely (I don't think). It wouldn't take a flaming sword to drive me out of it."

At Baghdad, the pontoon bridge having been washed away, the Sultan determined to build a new one, so he set about raising the money.

The people were whipped and blackmailed into parting with $200,000. The bridge cost $20,000; the tax gathered pocketed the rest.

One of my friends bought a Victory Bond for his baby boy, aged 3 years. He figured out just how much the boy would have if each dividend of $5.50 was re-invested until the boy was 23 years old, he would have $358.

That is a tidy sum. Multiply it by 10; make it $1,000 bond, and the boy would have capital to put him in business for himself.

The Victory Bond is worth going without a suit of clothes for. Better still, buy a suit and overcoats at my necessity sale and save $5 to $10.

NOTED ACTRESS ON SCREEN AT THE GEM

Clara Kimball Young is Star in Delightful Picture—A Great Acrobatic Act

The Gem's new programme is a winner and it was keenly enjoyed last night. In "The Rise of Susan" the picture feature, glorious Clara Kimball Young plays a star part.

She uses Susan, a parvenu who wants to get into society. She uses Susan, a model, dubs her a countess and presents her to society in lieu of a real countess who was to be her guest.

To disappoint the guests she invited, whereas Representative William S. Goodwin of Arkansas, said: "I talked with prominent French and British officials, as well as with the military chiefs of the Allies in France and none of them, including Lloyd George, appeared to have any definite idea as to the probable duration of the war."

Mr. Goodwin said the morale of the troops in France left nothing to be desired, and the health of officers and men, including the American forces, was very good.

Representative Daniel V. Stevens, of Nebraska, said the party visited the front from Switzerland to the English Channel a distance of 1,200 miles, traveling mostly at night by automobile.

"The journey occupied thirteen days," he continued, "and was made through lights on the car, as it would be dangerous otherwise. We usually stopped travelling at dawn and resumed after dinner in the evening. Although it had been made clear that the visit of our party to the front was not official, we enjoyed every minute of the trip."

Another member of the party, Clarence C. Dill of Washington, who acted as spokesman, said the trip was "an experience to the next congress, and will do our best to tell our colleagues of the actual conditions."

The other members of the party were John F. Miller and Albert Johnson, of Chicago; Charles F. Taylor, of New York; and Edward D. Taylor of Colorado.

WAR MAY CONTINUE FOUR YEARS MORE?

Impression Gathered at Front By Member of American Congressional Party

Eight members of the Congressional party which left the United States on October 15 to visit the battlefront in France and Belgium, returned this week to an Atlantic port on a four-year voyage.

They had no doubt the Allies would win, in view of the aid of the United States. When the war started the Germans fired one hundred shells to one fired by the Allies. Now the Allies fire twenty shells to the German's one. The British and French have ample ammunition to keep the Germans on the alert all through the winter."

Mr. Goodwin said the morale of the troops in France left nothing to be desired, and the health of officers and men, including the American forces, was very good.

Representative Daniel V. Stevens, of Nebraska, said the party visited the front from Switzerland to the English Channel a distance of 1,200 miles, traveling mostly at night by automobile.

THREE DAY DRIVE FOR VICTORY LOAN IS WELL STARTED

A committee of prominent citizens to raise $1,000,000 in three days; the formation of a $100,000 club to raise $100,000 in three days; these are the two new organizations to which birth was given at a meeting of business men in the Union Club last evening. This morning saw the first move made in the actual carrying out of the plans.

At last night's meeting the appointment of a committee to raise $1,000,000 was left with the chairman, Senator Thorne. This morning that committee was appointed and it is now down at work for the pushing forward of the big drive. It is no ordinary committee for it consists of some of the principal financial men of the city, and they are after that $1,000,000 necessary to put St. John in the $4,000,000 class. That this big plan can be carried out is regarded as absolutely certain. It is pointed out that the money on deposit in the city in savings exceeds the total allotment made for the city by several millions.

The big drive will be brought to a close on Saturday, so there is but little time left. By noon today favorable progress had been reported. It will be some hours before any figures will be available.

For the $100,000 club the first $100,000 has been subscribed. Wanted immediately nine more citizens willing to pledge their country to the extent of a $100,000 loan. Step forward and make the $100,000 club a success. You have but three days in which to do it.

It is urged on all concerned to register that tomorrow is Merchants' Day and that on that day all the cash receipts in the local stores will be converted into Victory Bonds. These merchants have already subscribed, but they want to do something more. It is for the customers to see that the cash receipts will be made breaking.

A final appeal is made to the citizens of St. John to come forward and boost the figures of St. John's Victory Loan contribution.

It is urged that all canvassers dispel their badges on the lapel of their outer coat. It is felt that there are many citizens who will make it a point to see to a canvasser for the purpose of unscrubbing and that there will be no danger of delay if canvassers are easily distinguished by their badges.
