ALLAN LINERS DUE
The Allan line steamer Pretorian is reported to be due at Quebec at nine o'clock on Saturday morning, and the Allan liner Sicilian is reported due at Quebec at ten o'clock on Sunday morning.Nurse Weds in Moncton Moncton, Nov. 17.—Marshall E. Fol-kins of Norton, Kings county, was married to Miss Edith Parkin at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Rebecca Parkin, Petticoat, on Wednesday evening by Rev. Milton Addison, Baptist pastor. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Guy Parkin. The bride is a graduate nurse and for some years has been member of the staff of the C. C. M. Hospital, St. Stephen. They will reside at Midland, Kings county.CO-OPERATION IN RECRUITING (Toronto Star.)
The credit for the invitation extended to Sir Wilfrid Laurier to co-operate in recruiting is due, not the Dominion government, but to Sir Thomas Tait, the man who found that because of partisan meddling he could not work with the government. It is worthy of note that this idea of co-operation was put forward by Sir Thomas Tait very soon after his appointment. It is not his fault that it was made late in the day after the war had been in progress more than two years, after the government had framed its policy in some matters and neglected to frame any policy in others, after its character and attitude had become fixed. The time for consultation and co-operation was in the early and formative stages of the government's war history. That time was allowed to go by, that opportunity was lost.Co-operation in recruiting might still be of some advantage. But it must be borne in mind that the question of recruiting does not stand alone. It is connected with the whole war policy and record of the government. It depends largely upon confidence in the government. It is prejudicially affected by such blunders as were made at Camp Borden. It is prejudicially affected by the common belief that huge fortunes are being made by those who are manufacturing and supplying munitions of war. Even apart from cases of "graft," in the sense of actual stealing, there is a belief that the war profits are excessive. The excess over a fair profit ought to be taken for the public use.
If that were done a strong argument would be placed in the hands of those who are asking for recruits. They are asked to give themselves and risk their lives for the country. They should be assured that the makers of war supplies are giving up at least a fair proportion of the money they are making out of the country's need and the soldier's sacrifice.WANTED TO PURCHASE—GEN-

A CHURCH UNION STORY.

(Montreal Financial Times.)
W. M. Birks, who is an enthusiastic advocate and worker for church union, tells a beautiful tale of the consequences of the present religious disunity in small Canadian towns. He was recently compelled by a train delay to spend a portion of Sunday in the town of Schreiber, Ont., where he found four Protestant churches all within a couple of blocks.He attended the Presbyterian church, and found four adult males there besides himself and the women and children; the three other churches, when their congregations came out, produced adult males to the number of three, two and one respectively. Later he came across an acquaintance in the town and asked him how the ministers of these rival churches-lets got along together."Well," said the friend, "the other day we had a small railway accident and one of the men was fatally injured. They took him to the Y. M. C. A. and he died there. He was not a church man, though a very decent fellow. The other boys at the Y. M. C. A. pondered what to do. 'If there was only one minister here, of course, we would get him for the funeral,' they said, 'but how can we pick one out of four and not make the others jealous?' So they buried the poor chap themselves."The Best
