OFFERS HOYT FOR URBAN SHOCKER

Huggins of Yankees is Trying to Put Over Deal.

New York, Nov. 8.—Waite Hoyt has been offered by the Yankees to be exchanged for Urban Shocker. The St. Louis club has countered with a demand for Joe Bush or Herb Pennock, but if the deal is made it will be as proposed by the New York management. And, incidentally, if Shocker does come back to the Yankees it will be one of the very few changes made in the lineup of the Huggins troupe for next season.

Miller Huggins is dusting in his home in Cincinnati, but he will be in this city before very long to formulate plans preliminary to the American league meeting in this city in December.

Huggins is still after that hard-hitting right-handed outfielder he wanted last winter. He still wants a first-class catcher and a shortstop. He could use a pitcher, too. But he has decided to make no frantic efforts to get new blood on the club.

Huggins realizes that the Yankees lost the pennant not because they did not have the material with which to win it, but because of the faulty psychology of his players. He knows that if the Yankees had not been so careless about those early season games they dropped to much inferior clubs they would have walked in.

He knows that if the Yankees had been on their toes from the start they would have finished five games to the good, even with the disappointing showing of Sam Jones and a couple of the other veteran flingers.

Jones fell down so badly because for a couple of years he has been throwing the deadly "corkscrew ball." This entails a tremendous strain on the wrist and arm muscles and is even more serious than the "spitball" in its effects on the pitcher. If Jones will abandon the "corkscrew" and go back to throwing curves and using the old "noddle" he may be successful again next year as he was in 1923.

WILL LEGALIZE 12 ROUND BOUTS

Promoters on Pacific Coast Propose to Erect Big Arenas.

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—California has adopted by an unofficial majority of about 25,000 a law which will legalize 12-round boxing contests. Under the present law, boxing is restricted to four rounds.

No definite plans have been made by the sponsors of the measure to carry its provisions into effect, but promoters in San Francisco and Los Angeles, where boxing is most popular, are considering the construction of big arenas with the idea of attracting pugilistic talent to the State.

The measure provides for a State athletic commission which will regulate and control boxing and wrestling contests. Out of the gross receipts from the shows the State will receive an amount sufficient to pay the commission's expenses and to maintain a home for veterans of any war in which the United States has participated.

DEAN OF JOCKEYS LEAVES HOSPITAL

Earle Sande is Convalescing From Injuries Sustained in Race.

Earle Sande, America's leading jockey, who was severely injured during a race at the Saratoga track on Aug. 6, will live in Cambridge this winter. This is the word from the home of Sande's father-in-law, C. Harry Casey, at 168 Lexington avenue, Cambridge.

Sande was recently discharged from the Roosevelt Hospital, New York, where he has been undergoing treatment for injuries, which consisted of a leg broken in two places, a cracked rib and a broken collar bone. The famous jockey went to his home at Jamaica, Long Island, where he will remain for a few days before leaving for Cambridge.

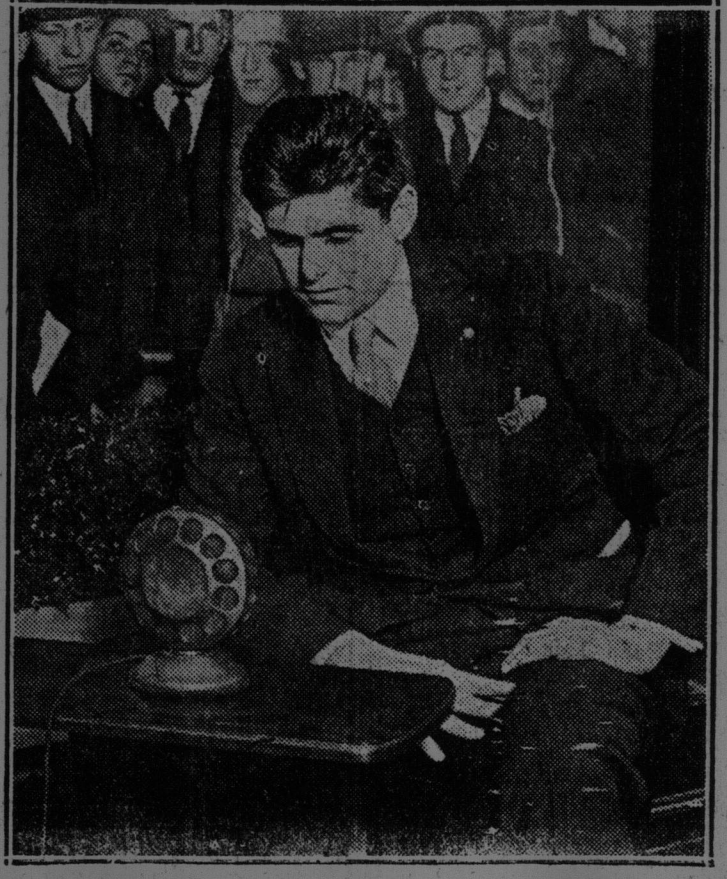

Sande is able to walk with the assistance of a cane.

The crack jockey insists that he will ride again, although he will rest in Cambridge all winter.

Charlie Gorman's Plans

At the Hotel Martinique, New York, on one week from Sunday, decisions of considerable importance to the city of St. John will be made when the International Skating Union executive meets in annual session to discuss various matters, including the allotting of the big meets this year. St. John is represented in the person of "Joe" Page and the C. P. R. man has instructions to seek a sanction, preferably for a world's meet with the pick of the European skaters competing. While here, Mr. Page dropped a hint that if these skaters do come over, they might train for the various meets in St. John although the U. S. centres such as Lake Placid and Saranac Lake would undoubtedly put up a strong bid for them.

A Times-Star reporter bumped into Charlie Gorman, St. John's own ace, recently and asked him about his plans for the winter. Gorman said he thought the idea of bringing over Thunberg and the others a mighty fine one and expressed the hope he would be able to get a chance to compete against them. "Those Finnish boys sure put it all over us from this side of the water at the Olympic games. They have tremendous stamina and were skating under conditions that suited them. Everything was with them and against Jewett and the rest of us. Now, if they come over here, I think you will see that our own boys will show up pretty well. For one reason, the racing conditions will be different. Over there, each man skated in his own lane and opposite to his opponent and against time. Over here, they will be bunched in heats and will have to go some to get the inside track and the jump. You can take my word for it."

SOCCER MONDAY.
The Trojans and the St. Andrews soccer football teams will play a game of soccer on Barrack Green on Monday at 2 o'clock. The Trojan players will be as follows: Goal, Gilzean; full backs, Hughes and Chatter; half backs, McLean, Smith and Montgomery; forwards, Bain, Evans, (captain), Dobblestein, Ross, Ralaine, and Thompson, reserve.

New York, Nov. 7.—Sammy Mandell of Rockford, Ill., won the decision from Jack Bernstein of Yonkers last night after a 12-round lightweight fight which kept Madison Square Garden in an uproar.

CITY LEAGUE TO START NEXT WEEK

Promising youngsters are often plucked too early in their careers by the big league scouts. Take the case of infielder Lester Bell for example. He joined the St. Louis Cardinals last spring, coming from Houston in the Texas League.

Bell was a bust from the start. After a three weeks' trial he was sent to Milwaukee in the American Association. His work proved that he needed just one more year. He is back with the Cardinals after leading the American Association with an average of .385.
