ELECTION CARDS

ELECTION CARD

I beg respectfully to inform the Electors of St. John (not overlooking the lady voters) that, in response to requests from citizens in the north, south and west sections of the City, I have decided to enter the field as a candidate for the office of Commissioner at the ensuing Civic election.

The new council will have to deal with some very important subjects, including the routing of the Valley Railway, to the terminals at East St. John, the completion of the paving of Main street, the paving of some other streets on which the traffic is heavy, the care and maintenance of all of the streets, the providing of a more equitable system of taxation and the improving of the ferry service in Carleton by utilizing a slip extending to Union street, if the change should be found to be a practical one.

In these and in several other important matters, as well as in departmental work, I should hope, if elected, to be of service to the City, and I would advocate the "open door" at City Hall and the taking of a plebiscite at an early date on a number of public questions not requiring expert knowledge for their decision.

I will be pleased to receive such support as may be accorded to me.

G. FRED FISHER.

Paradoxical Mrs. Pankhurst.
At a luncheon in her beautiful New York residence a newspaper man said to Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont:—
"I am glad you entertained Mrs. Pankhurst so splendidly while she was here. Mrs. Pankhurst is, saving your presence, the most brilliant woman speaker, the most eloquent woman speaker, I have ever heard."

"And yet," said Mrs. Belmont smiling, "she never finishes her sentences, does she?"

EPIGRAMS FOR HEALTH

Postal Cards Used In Kansas To Warn People Against Diseases

(Indianapolis News.)
Kansas is testing the postcard in its campaign to improve the health of the people and prevent the spread of contagious and infectious diseases. Thousands of cards are being sent out containing health epigrams and advice to fit all ordinary human ills. The cards are the ordinary postcard size, with space for the address and space for a communication on one side and the health epigrams on the back. The vital statistics, pure foods and drugs, sanitation and water survey bureaus of the health board receive hundreds of letters a day, and the cards are used in acknowledging the receipt of these letters. In each letter sent out in reply two or more cards are placed, and with each package, a bundle of the cards is enclosed with a printed statement asking the recipient to mail the cards to friends. In this way the cards get into the hands of hundreds of people every week.

LIST OF EPIGRAMS.
Here are the health epigrams:
Swat the fly!
It takes time to boil baby's bottles, but it saves sorrow and sleepless nights. Whooping cough in children under five years of age is a "grave" disease. The parent who does not care "two whoops" whether his child has whooping cough or not will later have those "two whoops" multiplied a thousandfold. If you let the child have measles when he is young, you may save a doctor's bill later on, but you may have to pay the undertaker now.

The man who says he had rather have smallpox than be vaccinated never had the smallpox.
One large pock on the arm is better than many small pocks on the face.
An open window is better than an open grave.
Warm rooms have killed more people than ever froze to death.
A "self drink" messes the stomach, warms but the skin cold.
A mustard bath for the feet will do more to ward off pneumonia than a gallon of lug.
Avoid patent medicines as you would a pestilence.
Air your home thoroughly daily.
If your roof and your well both leak, fix the well first.
A good iron pump costs less than a case of typhoid.
The time to fix your well is before you have to send for a doctor.
Two dollars for a doctor is cheaper than $100 for a funeral.
Flies in the kitchen may be almost as dangerous as "rough on rats" in the parlor.
A fly in the milk often means a member of the family in the grave.
Keep flies from the house and you will help keep the doctor from the gate.
Flies in the dining room precede nurses in the sickroom.
A full barrel of water—a house full of mosquitoes.
If some people were as much afraid of flies as they are of bad water there would be less typhoid.
Good water is more to be prized than gold.

The fly has small feet—but a million aphid germs can ride comfortably on one of them.

A rusty tin cup and the wooden bucket in the schoolroom are convenient, but they are dangerous.

It is the glory of Kansas that she was the first to abolish the public drinking cup in schools, railroads and hotels.

Many a cough ends in a coffin. A stuffy room is the germ's best ally. A little ventilation is more effective than much quinine.

Open your windows for the fresh air and you will seldom have to open your pocketbook for the druggist.

It is better to sleep in the fresh air than in the fresh grave. It is difficult to cure consumption; it is easy to prevent it.

Avoid consumption "cures." They never cure.

A careless spitter with a little cough is more dangerous than a man with a big revolver.

A sanitary toilet costs less than a funeral.
