

65,000 Knights Templar to March Through Biggest Temporary Stadium Ever Built When They Meet in Denver Next Month!

The Great $300,000 Stadium with the view of the Colorado Rockies the Knights Templar will get as they go through their manoeuvres.

(Times' Special Correspondence)
Denver, Colo., July 29.—The biggest temporary stadium ever built anywhere is ready in Denver for the Knights Templar conclave, which will begin here on August 9.

The enormous stand occupies the new site, and it is 710 feet long, 410 feet wide, and it will seat comfortably 60,000 people! It took four weeks to build, and as soon as the Knights Templar conclave is over, a force of men is ready to begin tearing it down. The cost of the stadium is $300,000.

The stadium will be used for the drills, in which 6,000 knights will take part. It also will be used as a reviewing stand for the parade on August 12.

When 65,000 men are expected to march. The parade will take six hours to pass the stand.

But the big stadium is only one feature provided by Denver for this great conclave. For electric effects on the streets and decorations $150,000 is being spent.

The Church of the Holy Sepulchre, at Jerusalem, is being reproduced in half-reduction, and the Micklegrave Bay of the Benedictine abbey, York, England, is being reproduced complete.

A knight in armor, 50 feet high, against a Colorado sunset, towering 60 feet into the air, will be outlined in electric lights. The city streets, for 60 blocks, will be canopied with incandescent bulbs. No "world's fair" ever has had a lighting scheme to equal that planned for Denver.

An electric cross 60 feet high will be suspended from a captive balloon 1,000 feet above the dome of the state capital.

The grand parade in Denver will be the last in which Knights Templar will ever ride horses. So rapidly is the automobile replacing the horse the Denver committee has been unable to find, in the whole state, enough chargers to go around!

At the next conclave, three years distant, the knights will have to content themselves with seats in motor cars. Five hundred Pullman cars will be parked in the Union depot to relieve the crowded condition of hotels. It is estimated the Templars will use as many extra Pullmans as were in Washington for the inauguration.

TOURIST TRAVEL REPORTED HEAVY

Bookings on Ocean Steamers Full —Railways Report Increased
Traffic This Year

Montreal, July 30.—While hotel-keepers have been complaining that the tourist season has been a poor one so far this year, reports of transportation companies show that, notwithstanding the tightness in the money market, people are not restricting their travel.

For the steamship companies the season has been a very busy one, and it was stated by Thos. Cook & Son that the traffic between Canada and Europe has been just about double this summer as compared with last year. So great has been the transatlantic travel, it was said, that those who are depending on booking single passages back before Sept. 10 will have the greatest difficulty in getting accommodation. While the rush to Europe has been heavy, it is equally certain, taking the statements of the C. T. R., I. C. R., C. P. R., and the R. & O. Navigation Company, that Canada is becoming more and more popular for tourists from the United States as a touring and vacation country.

CHINESE AND HIS WHITE WIFE DIE

Burn To Death In Home In New York

CLOSE CALL FOR OTHERS

Fifteen More or Less Seriously Injured—Brave Work of Policeman Results in Rescue of People in the Burning Building

New York, July 31.—Steve Lee, a Chinese and his white wife, Ivy, were burned to death and fifteen persons were more or less seriously injured in a fire that gutted the four-story building with entrances at a Bowery and 24 Doyers street and for a time threatened to destroy the whole of Chinatown. The building is more than a century old.

Policeman Griffen of the Elizabeth street station was attracted to the fire by a series of explosions from the one-story kitchen extension in the rear of the building. A large quantity of fireworks stored in the attic of this structure fired by the flames from an overturned pot of grease on the stove, blew up and sent a mass of sparks and blazing rockets through the roof.

In a minute the whole place was a mass of flames, and after turning in an alarm, Griffen climbed up a rain-pipe to the fire escape to the second floor. He lowered the ladder to the street and then plunged through a sheet of flame coming from one of the windows to answer a call for help from a woman.

Griffen found Que Lan and his white wife, Mollie, and led them around to another window, where he lowered them to the ground. They were painfully burned about the face and the policeman's hair was singed from his head and his eyebrows and coat burned.

Sergeant Barnes and Andrew Blith, who happened to be in the neighborhood, helped Griffen to get the woman and child to safety. They found the woman leaning from one of the third story windows and cried for help. They found Sadie Gibney, who weighs 300 pounds and Mollie Smother, lying unconscious on the floor.

The policeman and Blith managed to carry the pair down to the second floor landing, where they were met with a wall of fire. Griffen had arrived by that time and by shooting a stream of water at the base of the fire they saved the lives of the quartette on the second floor landing. The women were carried from the building and were treated by an ambulance surgeon for burns and smoke inhalation. So were their rescuers.

Then while firemen poured streams of water on the stairway, Griffen Barrett and Greenland made their way up the stairs on the top floor, where they found Steve Lee and the Miller woman, unconscious.

The firemen grabbed the injured Chinese and the Miller woman and carried them to the street. Lee died southwards. Both Barrett and Greenland were painfully burned.

The damage from the fire will amount to $10,000.

IN NEW BRUNSWICK, TOO

Spruce Bud Worm Attacks Wide Area of Maine Forests

Greenville, July 31.—Spruce forests in the Moosehead Lake region, all over northern and eastern Maine as well as seriously menaced by the little grey or brown bug, known as the spruce bud moth, which now infests this section in great numbers. The pests have spread eastward and cover a large portion of the forests of New Brunswick, as well as Maine. They attack spruce, fir and hemlock trees impartially.

Great areas of these trees in this vicinity appear as though their tops had been scathed. The injury is caused by the insects. The damage this season is far more serious and of a much greater extent than is usual in Maine.

When moving into a new house it is a good plan not to furnish it completely at once, or before you have lived in it for a while. First place in position such of your old furniture as you wish to keep, then from time to time a new chair or another table can be added to fill some vacant corner.

GREAT NUMBERS OF LITTLE ONES ARE DYING IN MONTREAL

Montreal, July 30.—The unremitting efforts of the city's medical health authorities to bring about a reduction in the infant death rate, which, mounting steadily week after week reached a climax two weeks ago with a total of 214 for seven days out of a total death list of 321, appears to be at last showing some results. Last week's figures, indicate that the percentage has fallen from 71.2 per cent. to approximately 61.7 per cent.

There were recorded altogether from midnight Sunday, July 29, and midnight on Sunday night, a total of 273 deaths. Of these 169 were of children under five years of age, and of the 169 deaths no fewer than 150 were of infants less than one year old. A majority of the deaths of little ones took place in the east and southwestern districts of the city, though every ward, north and south, east and west, added its quota to the list.

Nearly 3,000 in Seven Months
If the weekly death lists seem large, that for the year 1913, so far as it has progressed, is astounding for, according to records kept in the office of Dr. J. Laberge, M. D., chief of the city's Contagious Disease Department, there have occurred in Montreal since January 1 last, 2,853 deaths of children under five years of age, very nearly one-half of the 6,298 deaths recorded during the whole period.

In other words, the half year's figures show that out of every hundred citizens who have died in Montreal since January 1 last forty-five were children who had not reached their fifth year.

This percentage, Dr. Louis Laberge, city health officer, pointed out is by far the highest of any city in Canada, and far higher than that of many American cities less well off as regards situation than Montreal.

For a radius of one hundred miles from the city, milk inspectors are out reporting on conditions under which Montreal gets its daily supply of milk. TRANSPORTATION MEN TO ORGANIZE FOR WAR
All Drivers of Vehicles in London May Join Fighting Union

London, July 31.—There is a big scheme afoot here to form a fighting union of taxicab drivers, street car men, bus men, and all drivers of vehicles in order to prevent "scabbing" when the railwaymen or members of other passenger-conveying organizations are on strike.

Six of the largest trades unions, with a membership of more than 100,000 have approved of the scheme, which will be elaborated still further at a conference at Manchester in September. When the scheme has been completed the unions will be able to tie up the entire passenger traffic of England.
