

HEAT ROAD RACE

Riders Suffer From the Intense Heat.

ced to Rest at Leamington—Two or Three Accidents—Jackson Keeps Up His Record.

At 6.44 this morning the start of the century road race was made. There were twenty-six starters and the race was a merry one that ended off in the hundred miles being ridden in considerably less than hours, a finish in five hours and being predicted by some of those who witnessed the start. The starters were: Thomas, Toronto; B. Coleman, Toronto; John Morrison, Smith's Falls; W. W. Montreal; J. J. Wright, Toronto; Anderson, Ayr; Geo. A. Thomas, D. C. Thomas, Brantford; C. Con. Windsor; U. R. Huchison, Oshawa; Cassidy, Toronto; A. F. Gimbert, Toronto; J. K. McMillough, Winnipeg; Hebb, Winnipeg; W. Simpson, Toronto; R. Stoner, Toronto; J. Smith, Toronto; W. H. Faulkner, Winnipeg; R. H. Cameron, Montreal; P. Brantford; A. E. Jackson, Chatham; C. Roberts, Toronto; J. Elrick, G. W. Riddle, Winnipeg; and R. Ridgeway.

The first six miles of the course is that rough, but the remainder a route covers the best roads to be found in the Dominion. The four miles out of the start, had a break down. He turned back to the starting point at Peninsular Park track, secured her wheel and took a fresh start, at 17.12 minutes after 10, friends had expected great things of him, but he was predicted to win the race. He was carrying off the prize, and his mishap was a very unfortunate one. But he may yet come for a time prize, and as he paces himself his goal will be struck some- what sooner than that the string of Benham, about 13 miles out, was chafed at 10.38 by the main body of road racers. About 3 miles out, Benham, Thomas of Ayr.

He rode to Benham on a run and there dropped out. But one was ahead of him in throwing the sponge, and four of the starters were missing when Benham was ahead. Citizens who met the riders at the Springs going out say they were very closely bunched, Jackson riding, and were known to be off at a rate of about 18 miles an hour. Number looked completely done out, but were passed to them as they did by.

AT LEAMINGTON. Late, of Ridgeway, passed through Leamington first out was lost sight of Leamington, Jackson, of Chatham, was the first to arrive in Leamington, reached there at 12.34, having covered the distance in two hours and fifty minutes. He was soon followed by all the other riders. The order was: Morrison, White, Gimbert, Conough, Wilson, Wright, Thompson, Muir, Abraham, Simpson, Hebb, Coleman and D. C. Cameron.

Most of the riders appeared pretty used up with the heat but the eagerly started on the return.

wire from Leamington later on that at 1.15 p. m., number 58 (is lebb's number) had set out on return, badly disabled but still going.

R. G. Cameron, of Montreal, is reported to have broken his collar bone in his return.

ON THE RETURN. Cameron passed through Benham followed by Morrison, Connor, Cameron, Walker, and Wright. They all pretty well finished.

THE FINISH. Most of the riders, Toronto, in 5 hours and 40 minutes.

A second man in was Clay Carver, of Ayr. His time was 5.45. He appeared quite fresh when he came in. A cheering crowd wanted to take him off his wheel and carry him down the track on their shoulders, but he would not have it. He rode on, and afterwards sprinted round them.

After the other hand, seemed to be slightly dazed. He must have been in the coming, he was lifted from his bicycle and carried into the dressing room where he was attended. It is feared he may have suffered a slight sun stroke.

E. Jackson, of Chatham, was a third, and was in prime condition. He showed signs of fatigue of any of the other riders.

AN OUTSIDE VIEW.

What the Windsor Record Thinks of the Meet.

Many Windsorites spent the day pleasantly at Chatham. The weather there was delightful, a heavy rain on the night previous clearing the atmosphere. The crowd at the meet was not nearly as large as was expected, but in other respects it passed off most successfully. There were between three and four hundred people at the grounds. Pandemonium reigned at night. The merry bicyclists let themselves loose and they out up all sorts of tricks.

One of the capers on the program was to set fire to the Grandstand, but the fire department had received a hint before hand and were there in time to save it. It was, however, afterwards torn down and burnt up. The Woodstock minstrels held forth at the opera house, bands in all sorts of costumes, were playing at the hotels, there were shirt tail parades and all sorts of other things which made the night one that Chatham will not forget in some years.

The Gagner House was said to have doubled their rates on visitors yesterday and the boys said last night they wouldn't do a thing to the Gagner to get even. If this morning's sheets were found torn, towels stolen and glassware destroyed, the proprietors will know the reason.

With all the levity, the best of good feeling prevailed. There were no fights, drunken brawls or rows of any kind. The only feature that serious objection could have been taken to by the citizens of Chatham, was the dress parade of one of the Toronto clubs, which savored of the indecent.

"Billy" Holman says the part of the above referring to the Gagner House is absolutely foundationless. No rates were raised, and the "boys" he declares all behaved like perfect gentlemen. In fact, he says he never saw a better behaved crowd of the same dimensions.

BUCKETS FROM THE WELL.

Set down the bucket and draw a single tacker full of water from your well. By looking at and tasting it you know the condition of all the water in the well. A doctor doesn't need to talk long on a subject in which he is interested in order to show you his real character. You can form a pretty correct estimate of him in ten minutes. On the same principle you are frequently able from the occurrences of an event, to judge of the history of a year.

This is Nature's way of teaching large truths by samples.

For instance, there are two or three short sentences taken from a letter, which in all does not comprise more than a hundred words; yet they point out what went on during twelve years of the writer's life.

"Sometimes," he says, "I had an awful pain and distress in the stomach, with no medicine that I took relieved it. I had a sour taste in the mouth and pain after all I ate. There was a great sense of fullness and tightness at the chest, and I was constantly belching up wind. From time to time I consulted a doctor who gave me medicines but I got no better. In this manner I continued to suffer for twelve years."

Now think a minute what this means. Healthy people cannot understand it at all; but most of us have experienced pain, some time or other, to help us to fancy what such a long and weary stretch of it must be. It is like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you.

It is like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you.

It is like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you.

It is like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you.

It is like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you.

It is like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you.

It is like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you.

It is like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you.

It is like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you.

It is like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you.

It is like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you.

It is like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you, like a cold, miserable, that never leaves you.

AN APOLOGY

To The People of Canada.

Doctors Were Unable to Handle The Crowds Who Called on the Queen's Jubilee Day.

The announcement in the Canadian papers last week that Dr. Goldberg & Co., of 291 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich., would treat free till cured all Canadian patients who called on them on the Queen's Jubilee Day, brought such tremendous crowds to their offices, that, although the entire staff of physicians were busy from early morning till late at night, they were unable to interview all who called and a great number were unable to be seen. The doctors take this opportunity of extending their apologies to those people of Canada who were turned away disappointed and have concluded to extend the humane offer till Monday, July 20, 1897, inclusive, where all who are in need of medical or surgical treatment may call and interview them free of charge. The doctors make a specialty of treating all forms of nervous, chronic, private and delicate diseases, also diseases of stomach, bowels, rectum, kidney and bladder, as well as blood and skin diseases.

They may be seen daily from 9 a. m. till 9 p. m. Sundays from 9 a. m. till 4 p. m.

THE CARD GOT HERE

Was Travelling Around For Two Weeks.

Then It Came to the Meet—A Bothwell Individual's Novel Idea.

On the 15th of June Bella Luke, of Bothwell, forwarded an illuminated postal card to the meet, announcing that Bothwell was the oil town of the west. The following is the card, and it explains itself:

Bothwell, Ontario. I send this card this 15th day of June, to H. A. Loefer & Co., Toronto, expecting them to forward to anyone they wish (lady or gentleman). My motive is to see how many places and persons it will reach before the "Chatham Meet," so keep it going, and will the person that receives it on the 25th of June forward to S. R. Wilkie, Bothwell, Ont., and he will forward to the president of the C. W. A., Chatham, and it will be theirs by the 1st of July, so go, little postal, go—and try and not get lost, strayed, or stolen.

RELLA LUKE, C. W. A. This card went to H. A. Loefer & Co., Toronto; W. Cooper & Co., Clinton; Charles Lee, Goderich; Mullett & Co., Sarnia; Mr. Stone, Mitchell; and S. R. Wilkie, Bothwell. Mr. Wilkie sent the card as directed to President Stephenson, of the Chatham Cycle Club. It reached here on the eve of the meet.

DRESDEN.

July 3.—Ed. Carpenter made a shipment of hogs from here yesterday. We understand the principal of the Wallaceburg public school will preside at the primary examinations in Dresden next week.

Bert Courtney and W. Courtney are taking in the meet at Chatham, and after that wheel to Windsor and return home by way of Port Lambton.

Miss Rachel Shepherd, of Windsor, is here on a visit.

Rev. Charles Carleton, of Dresden, will preach his initial sermon in the Martin circuit to-morrow.

Will H. Green is spending a few days here between returning to Toronto.

The Junior Epworth League of the Methodist church, met last evening, direct, but well-pleased crowd of spectators arrived home yesterday morning at 1.30, after taking in the C. W. A. meet, and the measures of the whoopee and others at the Maple City.

Harry Dever, of W. A. McKim's dry goods establishment, left for Cleveland for a trip.

Harry Westcott, of Leamington, is here on a visit.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Harry Bishop, took place this morning to the Dresden cemetery. A short but impressive funeral was conducted at her late residence by the Rev. Mr. McTavish, after which the remains were interred in the Dresden cemetery.

Services in the different churches to-morrow will be the usual hour.

Mrs. Leonard, of Dresden, underwent an operation yesterday and is doing nicely.

FORGED TICKETS. They Were Used At The Bicycle Meet.

There is a scandal on foot. Some body is believed to have brought forged tickets of admission from Toronto. To what extent the bicycle club was swindled by their use the first day is unknown, but an investigation in on foot. They are known to have been offered for sale here. The receipts at the gates the first day were between $800 and $900. The cash and tickets did not correspond, and an investigation into the matter followed.

The genuine tickets were printed by the Dunlop Tire Company, and supplied to the club here. Somebody must have secured one of these and forged duplicates. The Tire Company are joining in the investigation and there is little doubt but that the forgers will be run down and punished. The use of these bad tickets was prevented the second day by the use of a special mark. The total receipts the first day were a little over $1500.
