

INTERNAL SQUABBLE GROWS MORE SERIOUS

Conservative Members of Legislature Wrangle Over Another Matter in Which Graft is Alleged—Colonel Guthrie's Outspoken Remarks on Statements That Have Been Made Involving His Name.

Fredricton, N. B., April 26.—The internal squabble among the government supporters is not ended yet. There was another chapter added today when Colonel P. A. Guthrie rose in the house and spoke to a question of privilege concerning some charges made by a government contractor, J. M. Chappell, which dealt absolutely any connection with Chappell with respect to the contract in question.

This new story seems to be another outcome of the differences between the York county members. Chappell is a messenger of the house of assembly, while in session, and a concrete contractor in number of the legislative buildings and his office was accepted by the public works department amount paid him was about $1,000, and after he had his money he went into the department with an envelope upon which were marked in small letters his name and the name of Blair.

Mr. Blair says, however, that he did not give any money but he refused and did not even handle the envelope, but finally told him if he was anxious to contribute there was a political party which was finding it difficult to make payments on, and he would not doubt find T. V. Monahan glad to have it for that purpose. Chappell took the envelope to Monahan and left it there.

Mr. Price said he regretted that he had not heard the earlier portion of the remarks of the hon. member for York, but his name had been mentioned by the hon. member for York who had risen to speak regarding his friend Mr. Blair, secretary of public works, he felt he should make some statement. He had heard the member for York say that he had been approached by Chappell (Price) had approached Chappell regarding the matter referred to.

Other Names in Discussion. The names of two other members, Messrs. Price and Woods, were brought into the discussion and their replies did not contain the cordial acceptance of Colonel Guthrie's statement that might have been expected.

While there were denials that the Chappell story was designed to be used against the members of the legislature, the members had obtained that idea of it and were resentful of any attack upon Colonel Guthrie.

There was just another strong evidence of the internal differences in the government party.

From the Official Report. Fredericton, N. B., April 26.—The house met at 9 o'clock. Lieutenant-Colonel Guthrie rose to a question of privilege, and stated that he had been approached by a contractor, J. M. Chappell, who had been told that he had been paid $1,000 for the construction of the legislative buildings.

Mr. Price said he regretted that he had not heard the earlier portion of the remarks of the hon. member for York, but his name had been mentioned by the hon. member for York who had risen to speak regarding his friend Mr. Blair, secretary of public works, he felt he should make some statement.

Other Names in Discussion. The names of two other members, Messrs. Price and Woods, were brought into the discussion and their replies did not contain the cordial acceptance of Colonel Guthrie's statement that might have been expected.

While there were denials that the Chappell story was designed to be used against the members of the legislature, the members had obtained that idea of it and were resentful of any attack upon Colonel Guthrie.

There was just another strong evidence of the internal differences in the government party.

From the Official Report. Fredericton, N. B., April 26.—The house met at 9 o'clock. Lieutenant-Colonel Guthrie rose to a question of privilege, and stated that he had been approached by a contractor, J. M. Chappell, who had been told that he had been paid $1,000 for the construction of the legislative buildings.

Mr. Price said he regretted that he had not heard the earlier portion of the remarks of the hon. member for York, but his name had been mentioned by the hon. member for York who had risen to speak regarding his friend Mr. Blair, secretary of public works, he felt he should make some statement.

Other Names in Discussion. The names of two other members, Messrs. Price and Woods, were brought into the discussion and their replies did not contain the cordial acceptance of Colonel Guthrie's statement that might have been expected.

While there were denials that the Chappell story was designed to be used against the members of the legislature, the members had obtained that idea of it and were resentful of any attack upon Colonel Guthrie.

There was just another strong evidence of the internal differences in the government party.

From the Official Report. Fredericton, N. B., April 26.—The house met at 9 o'clock. Lieutenant-Colonel Guthrie rose to a question of privilege, and stated that he had been approached by a contractor, J. M. Chappell, who had been told that he had been paid $1,000 for the construction of the legislative buildings.

Mr. Price said he regretted that he had not heard the earlier portion of the remarks of the hon. member for York, but his name had been mentioned by the hon. member for York who had risen to speak regarding his friend Mr. Blair, secretary of public works, he felt he should make some statement.

Other Names in Discussion. The names of two other members, Messrs. Price and Woods, were brought into the discussion and their replies did not contain the cordial acceptance of Colonel Guthrie's statement that might have been expected.

While there were denials that the Chappell story was designed to be used against the members of the legislature, the members had obtained that idea of it and were resentful of any attack upon Colonel Guthrie.

There was just another strong evidence of the internal differences in the government party.

WOULD MAKE P. G. MAHONEY CABINET MAN

Friends Present Him as Morriasy Successor—Opposition Not Likely to Agree to Letting Him in Unopposed

Fredricton, N. B., April 25.—The friends of P. G. Mahoney, M. P. F. of Westmorland are urging his candidature for the portfolio of minister of public works in case Hon. John Morriasy resigns or vacates his office for any other reason.

His colleagues and others while here last week kept the government quiet, but the demand by the government newspaper for Morriasy's dismissal last Thursday disclosed the object they were working for.

Such a thing should not be thought of for a moment, was their contention. They, better than any of the opposition leaders throughout the province, realize the condition of affairs here and the ruin that is facing New Brunswick if the government remains in charge of affairs.

The decision with regard to the Valley railway was arrived at without consulting him. No such state of affairs has existed in any government in New Brunswick so far as is known in any other province before, and it cannot last long here.

ST. VITUS DANCE IN YOUNG CHILDREN

Can Only Be Cured by Enriching the Blood and Toning Up the System

One of the commonest forms of nervousness which afflicts young children is St. Vitus dance. This is characterized by a great demand made on the body by growth and development, together with the strain caused by study. It is characterized by tremors, twitches, and spasms of the muscles.

Dr. Price said he regretted that he had not heard the earlier portion of the remarks of the hon. member for York, but his name had been mentioned by the hon. member for York who had risen to speak regarding his friend Mr. Blair, secretary of public works, he felt he should make some statement.

Other Names in Discussion. The names of two other members, Messrs. Price and Woods, were brought into the discussion and their replies did not contain the cordial acceptance of Colonel Guthrie's statement that might have been expected.

While there were denials that the Chappell story was designed to be used against the members of the legislature, the members had obtained that idea of it and were resentful of any attack upon Colonel Guthrie.

There was just another strong evidence of the internal differences in the government party.

From the Official Report. Fredericton, N. B., April 26.—The house met at 9 o'clock. Lieutenant-Colonel Guthrie rose to a question of privilege, and stated that he had been approached by a contractor, J. M. Chappell, who had been told that he had been paid $1,000 for the construction of the legislative buildings.

Mr. Price said he regretted that he had not heard the earlier portion of the remarks of the hon. member for York, but his name had been mentioned by the hon. member for York who had risen to speak regarding his friend Mr. Blair, secretary of public works, he felt he should make some statement.

Other Names in Discussion. The names of two other members, Messrs. Price and Woods, were brought into the discussion and their replies did not contain the cordial acceptance of Colonel Guthrie's statement that might have been expected.

While there were denials that the Chappell story was designed to be used against the members of the legislature, the members had obtained that idea of it and were resentful of any attack upon Colonel Guthrie.

There was just another strong evidence of the internal differences in the government party.

From the Official Report. Fredericton, N. B., April 26.—The house met at 9 o'clock. Lieutenant-Colonel Guthrie rose to a question of privilege, and stated that he had been approached by a contractor, J. M. Chappell, who had been told that he had been paid $1,000 for the construction of the legislative buildings.

Mr. Price said he regretted that he had not heard the earlier portion of the remarks of the hon. member for York, but his name had been mentioned by the hon. member for York who had risen to speak regarding his friend Mr. Blair, secretary of public works, he felt he should make some statement.

Other Names in Discussion. The names of two other members, Messrs. Price and Woods, were brought into the discussion and their replies did not contain the cordial acceptance of Colonel Guthrie's statement that might have been expected.

While there were denials that the Chappell story was designed to be used against the members of the legislature, the members had obtained that idea of it and were resentful of any attack upon Colonel Guthrie.

There was just another strong evidence of the internal differences in the government party.

PROHIBITION BILL PRODUCED IN THE LEGISLATURE

Referendum Not to Be Taken Until the New Act Has Had Trial

It Will Forbid the Sale of Intoxicants But Allow the Sale of Beers—Not Definitely Known When the Law Will Become Effective, But Probably Not Until May 1, 1917—Mr. Baxter Makes Bitter Attack on Opposition Leaders.

Fredricton, April 26.—The prohibition measure was introduced this afternoon by the attorney-general, who, if his speech had been confined to the merits of the bill and the history of similar legislation, would have made an able presentation.

It is said here tonight that the prohibitory law will not go into effect until May 1, 1917—a year from now. The new law will not in itself affect Scott Act counties, but such counties may adopt it if they choose.

It will forbid the sale of intoxicants but allow the sale of beers. It is reported that the percentage of alcohol in these beers is not to be allowed to exceed two per cent. That provision is not yet complete.

It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete.

It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete.

It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete.

It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete.

It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete.

It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete.

It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete.

It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete.

It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete.

It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete. It is understood that that provision is not yet complete.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR THE BABY

The best medicine for the baby is the one that never fails to cure and which, at the same time, the mother may give with perfect assurance that it is absolutely safe.

Such a medicine is Baby's Own Tablets. They are the only medicine absolutely guaranteed entirely free from poisonous drugs and what is known as "junk" never fail to free the baby from those minor ills of babyhood and childhood.

Once a mother has used them she would use no other medicine. They regulate the stomach and bowels; drive out constipation; expel worms and make teething easy. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Hub (during the spat)—I don't believe in pardoning my virtues. Wife—I don't see how you could. It takes quite a number to make a parade.

Hub (during the spat)—I don't believe in pardoning my virtues. Wife—I don't see how you could. It takes quite a number to make a parade.

Hub (during the spat)—I don't believe in pardoning my virtues. Wife—I don't see how you could. It takes quite a number to make a parade.

Hub (during the spat)—I don't believe in pardoning my virtues. Wife—I don't see how you could. It takes quite a number to make a parade.

Hub (during the spat)—I don't believe in pardoning my virtues. Wife—I don't see how you could. It takes quite a number to make a parade.

Hub (during the spat)—I don't believe in pardoning my virtues. Wife—I don't see how you could. It takes quite a number to make a parade.

Hub (during the spat)—I don't believe in pardoning my virtues. Wife—I don't see how you could. It takes quite a number to make a parade.

Hub (during the spat)—I don't believe in pardoning my virtues. Wife—I don't see how you could. It takes quite a number to make a parade.

Hub (during the spat)—I don't believe in pardoning my virtues. Wife—I don't see how you could. It takes quite a number to make a parade.

Hub (during the spat)—I don't believe in pardoning my virtues. Wife—I don't see how you could. It takes quite a number to make a parade.

Hub (during the spat)—I don't believe in pardoning my virtues. Wife—I don't see how you could. It takes quite a number to make a parade.

Hub (during the spat)—I don't believe in pardoning my virtues. Wife—I don't see how you could. It takes quite a number to make a parade.