

truth of the matter, I am at that time his man rather than he my horse.

6. It is not so unwieldy as to make it necessary to have recourse to the complicated machinery of double elections.

7. A history now by a Mr. Hume, or a poem by a Mr. Pope, would be examined with different eyes than had they borne any other name.

8. The separation did not take place till after the language had attained the ripeness of maturity.

9. The Duke of Manchester died at Rome on the 18th of March, 1843. His Grace in 1793 married the daughter of the late Duke of Gordon, and was 71 years old.

10. There is not a girl in town but let her have her will in going to a mask, and she shall dress as a shepherdess.

11. It is now about 400 years since the art of multiplying books has been discovered.

12. For I remember that among your ancient authors, not only all kings, but even Jove himself is so termed.

13. If we examine the question carefully we will find that there is more than one way of stating it.

14. And many a holy text around she strews
 That teach the rustic moralist to die.

15. I never have and never will consent to the scheme though it possesses some features which are far more preferable than the present.

16. I thought I would have died with hunger.

17. Day and night are a consequence of the earth revolving on its axis.

18. He seemed sort of discouraged like and said he never succeeded nor never expected to.

19. In no case are writers so apt to err as in the position of the word only.

20. It was one of the most important alliances that ever was formed.

21. If he prefer a virtuous life and is sincere in his professions he will succeed.