THE FOES OF WEDLOCK.

Most of those who practise celibacy on the pretext of economy are persons who could afford very well to marry if they would be content to begin life with simple, honest, wholesome comfort, to be increased as life went on.

Extravagance, no doubt, is the grand foe of wedlock. But extravagance has its cause, and that cause is the love of pleasure. This is a predominant feature of our society, not of our peculiarity, but of ours more universally than of any other.

EFFECTS OF MOUNTAIN CLIMBING.

Some important observations have been during the past summer on the effects of mountain climbing on the most important bodily functions. Dr. Marceet has published his "Observations on the Temperature of the Human Body at various Altitudes in connection with the act of Ascending."

A STORY OF THE BATTLE FIELD.

A soldier was wounded in one of the battles of the Crimea, and was carried out of the field; he felt that his wound was mortal—and he said to his comrades who were carrying him: "Put me down; do not trouble to carry me any further; I am dying!" They put him down and returned to the field.

THE CHINESE MIND.

Lord Elgin says, the distinguishing characteristic of the Chinese mind is this; that at all points of the circle described by man's intelligence, it seems occasionally to have caught glimpses of a heaven far beyond the range of its ordinary ken and vision.

This Library is based upon a similar series of works now in course of issue in France, the popularity of which may be inferred from the fact that over one million copies have been sold! They are written in popular style, and where scientific subjects are treated of, with careful accuracy, and with the purpose of embodying the latest discoveries and inventions, and the results of the most recent developments in every department of investigation.

Familiar Talks on Themes of General Christian Experience. By Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. The subject-matter of this book was delivered in Mr. Beecher's week-night prayer meetings. The "Talks" are not only colloquial and familiar, but they carry in them much more of the personality of the speaker than is usual in such remarks.

THE REV. WM. HARRISON, late member of the Black River Annual Conference, having himself been entirely cured of Consumption, by an English physician, after his case had been pronounced hopeless by several eminent physicians of Central New York, during the past six years has administered, with most extraordinary success, the same remedy to more than 10,000 persons suffering in the various stages of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, & CATARRH.

A MOST EXTRAORDINARY CASE! The following statement of a most extraordinary case ought to convince the most skeptical of the efficacy and power of this most remarkable remedy for lung diseases:

Rev. W. HARRISON. Dear Sir:—For the sake of the vast numbers of people who are suffering "and dying with that dire scourge of our land, Consumption, (trusting they may be induced by reading these lines to partake of your great remedies and "be healed," I offer this testimonial as to the extraordinary merits of your medicines:

For many years I was troubled with Catarrh, which finally culminated in a settled cough. My lungs had several spells of profuse bleeding, and soon became very badly diseased. I faithfully used one kind after another of various advertised nostrums, and at different times took treatment from some of the best physicians in our section, but instead of receiving any permanent benefit I continued to grow weaker and evidently sinking into a helpless decline. I suffered greatly from night-sweats, extreme nervousness, piercing pains in the lungs, cancer sore throat, coldness of the feet and hands, disordered and morbid condition of the stomach and bowels, and excessive weakness. I expected to die, but instead of receiving any permanent benefit I continued to grow weaker and evidently sinking into a helpless decline. I suffered greatly from night-sweats, extreme nervousness, piercing pains in the lungs, cancer sore throat, coldness of the feet and hands, disordered and morbid condition of the stomach and bowels, and excessive weakness. I expected to die, but instead of receiving any permanent benefit I continued to grow weaker and evidently sinking into a helpless decline.
