

DeLaval

The efforts of scared-to-death competition to put dirt on the good name of the DeLaval is unavailing. In contrast, stronger than ever stand forth the DeLaval qualities that for so long a time have divided Cream Separators into two classes—the DeLaval and the other.

Pandora Range

A Ventilating Oven that Ventilates.

There is only one practical way of ventilating a range oven, and that way has been adopted in the Pandora—is an actual, positive, working feature, and not a mere talking point.

Fresh air is drawn from the outside through small vents into the oven, while the odors and cooking fumes are forced by the fresh air out through small vents into the smoke flues, and up the chimney.

Puddings, cakes, bread, etc., cooked and baked in a "Pandora" oven are always light, fresh and entirely free from mixed odors and foreign flavors.

Ask your dealer to show you the Pandora Range or write to us for free catalogue before buying any other.

THE SPICE OF LIFE.

The greatest men make greatness possible to all. In a mysterious way it is we do these things.

Each duty performed is the breaking down of a reef of hindrance between our souls and God, permitting the fullness of His being to flow in upon our souls.

A noble cause cannot of itself make a man noble. We must despair of growing great, unless we can feel that we are given to the cause to work for it, and not it to work for us.—Philips-Brooks.

Do not rob or mar a tree, unless you really need what it has to give you. Let it stand and grow in virgin majesty, ungirdled and unscarred, while the trunk becomes a firm pillar of the forest temple, and the branches spread abroad a refuge of bright green leaves for the birds of the air.—[Dr. Henry Van Dyke.

One of the best rules in conversation is never to say a thing which any of the company can reasonably wish we had rather left unsaid; nor can there be anything more contrary to the ends for which people meet together than to part unsatisfied with each other or themselves.—[Swift.

The problem to be solved is that of making agricultural life more attractive to the young. Happily, the farming public is turning its attention to this all-important subject, and there is but little doubt that farm life is becoming yearly more and more desirable.

A Congressman once declared in an address to the House:

"As Daniel Webster says in his great dictionary—"

"It was Noah who wrote the dictionary," whispered a colleague who sat at the next desk.

"Noah, nothing," replied the speaker.

"Noah built the ark."

Willie.—I met our new minister on my way to Sunday school, mamma, and he asked me if I ever played marbles on Sunday.

Mother.—H'm! And what did you say to that?

Willie.—I said, "Get thee behind me, Satan," and walked right off and left him.

"Now, my dear, don't fret because James has gone into politics. A man must have some vice, and it is better to have it politics than gambling, or drinking, or—"

"But the newspapers say such awful things about him—"

"That's the advantage of politics over all the others, my dear. You don't have to watch him yourself."

An animal had escaped from a menagerie, and the keeper was in search of it.

"Have you seen a stray giraffe?" he asked of the group on the platform at the suburban railway station.

"Now that you mention it," said the red-nosed loafer sitting on the baggage truck, "I saw a tall step-ladder walkin' up the road past my house last night, but I didn't pay no 'tention to it. I thought I had 'em again."

Cheerfulness. — How contagious it is! "I cannot meet Mr. — without getting a gleam of sunshine into my own life," said a friend recently. How we all need it! How one cheerful face lights up and brightens a company, and changes in the thought of a disheartened pastor the whole aspect of a congregation! What right has one to look like a thundercloud and to generate darkness and gloom wherever he goes? Be cheerful. Cultivate a pleasant look, and a pleasant way of speaking to everyone. Never take a doleful view of things; then no one will cross the street to avoid meeting you, or feel that his peace of mind is destroyed by a brief interview. The clear sky and bright sunshine, after days of rain or fog, are no more grateful than the cheering face and presence of those who reflect the most of the image of God.—Inquirer.
