QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Veterinary.

SUPPURATIVE MAMMITIS.

Young mare's mamme swelled and broke last winter. The swelling did not entirely disappear during the summer. Now that she is in the stable, it is swelling badly again. I have bred her, but she will not conceive.

B. G.

Ans.—This is suppurative mammitis. It sometimes occurs in young mares without apparent cause, and sometimes may be considered as irregular strangles or distemper. It is sometimes called genital strangles. A thorough recovery did not take place last winter, and it is probable pus is again forming. Give her a laxative of 1½ pints raw linseed oil; follow up with 4 drams hyposulphite of soda, three times daily. Bathe the mamme often with hot water, and, after bathing, rub well with camphorated oil. If abscesses form, lance and flush out three times daily until healed, with a 5-per-cent. solution of carbolic acid. It is possible this might have an influence in preventing conception.

SORE NECK—SWOLLEN LEGS.

1. Mare has had a sore neck since August. Little boils form, and as soon as one heals another forms, etc. I do not think the collar causes them. She was fed on grass, two-thirds alsike and one-third timothy, for three weeks in June and July. I think the alsike poisoned her blood. The grass was cut for her.

2. Her hind legs swell when she stands in the stable overnight. Legs are itchy.

W. J. H.

Ans.—1. The collar is the cause of the trouble. If it were not so, why is the trouble confined to one spot? Open up any boils that may be there now, and dress the parts three times daily with a 5-per-cent solution of carbolic acid until healed. If any refuse to heal, apply a little butter of antimony with a feather, once daily, for three days. If forced to drive or work her, use a breast collar until neck gets better.

2. Purge with 10 drams aloes and 2 drams ginger, and follow up with 1½ ounces Fowler's Solution of Arsenic twice daily for a week. Dress the itchy legs daily with a solution of corrosive sublimate, 30 grains to a quart of water. Keep warm until dry after dressing. Give regular exercise.

GOSSIP.

McFarlane & Ford, Dutton, Ont., write us that the young Shorthorn bulls they offer in their advertisement are up to the standard for excellence, among them being a fifteen-months' red bull, out of Imp. Lady Bess 2nd; an eight-months' one out of Alexandria 3rd (imp.); one out of Tidy Lass (imp.); also one out of Sylvia, of the Orange Blossom family. All are sired by Imp. Protector. Attention is also called to the young Clydesdales, by Imp. Leamside; also a two-year-old Hackney filly. McFarlane & Ford recently shipped to Henry Arkell, of Arkell, Ont., the eighteen-months' bull, MacDuff.

HORSE NOTES.

Give a colt range rather than confinement to make a good horse out of him.

The disposition of a horse has a great deal to do with his value on the farm.

When two horses become accustomed to working together, don't change them.

Do not bang the bits against the horse's teeth. Be patient and he will open his mouth.

Always see that the horses are well shod when travelling on slippery streets or icy roads.

Feeds rich in oils will keep the coats looking well, but they can't supplant the currycomb.

Never teach your horse to start faster than a walk, as it may some time assist you to avoid an accident.

When a pair of horses become accustomed to working together, do not keep changing them around and breaking up the team, as it is hard on both the team and the driver.—Horse World.
