GORE PLAITED SKIRT.

Anabel Worthington.

of making a skirt like that shown in the illustration.

In this box pleated model a fascinating effect is given by passing a trimming band of silk through longitudinal openings in the side and back gores, at side depth and underneath the box pleats. Three of these pleats are made in each half. A raised waistline is used and the entire upper edge of the skirt gathered.

Silk covered buttons to match the trimming band in tone ornament at the front ends, marking a broad panel to the garment. For wear with an afternoon blouse this is an exceptionally pretty model.

It is difficult to determine which of these fabrics has the most ardent followers for fall and winter skirts:—Satin, gabardine, velour, suede or fine broadcloth. Even to one who is inexperienced in the use of patterns the development of this design is easily possible.

The skirt pattern No. 7381 is cut in size 24 to 26 waist measure. To make in size 24 will require 5½ yards of 36 inch material and ¾ yard silk.

To obtain the pattern send 10 cents to the office of this publication.

Music and Drama

There has been an exceptionally large demand for seats for the bout at the Grand and it looks as though a bumper house will greet the mites when the gong calls them to the center of the ring. A large number of fight fans from outside points have written in for seats, the biggest outside demand being from Hamilton, the crowd from there having arranged to come up in special cars to cheer for their idol, Peter Scott. Jimmie Conway is expected in from Scranton to-night and will do a little light training here to-morrow morning. He sends word that he is already down to weight and that he expects to take the Indian's measure. Scott arrived back in Hamilton this morning from Buffalo where he did his training and he claims that if he does not defeat Conway he will quit the ring forever. He is down to the stimulated weight and will have experienced men in his corner. The first preliminary will start at 8.30 and no time will be lost between bouts as there are 23 rounds of boxing carded altogether. Brantford will have a worthy representative in the main preliminary when Clare Bets will hook up with Young Alter. Hamilton. The later established a reputation by defeating Soldier McCracken in Hamilton recently.

but he will meet tough opposition in Bets and is liable to go home a beaten man. The second preliminary will be between Eddie Carroll, of Toronto, and Neville, of Hamilton, while Jack Miller and Young Callow two Hamilton boys will meet in the curtain-raiser.

Barrie's total gifts to the British Red Cross canvass on Trafalgar Day was over $3,500.
