AN ODD FISHERMAN.

The Funny Way Boys In Some Parts of England Catch Pike.

There are many odd methods of catching fish, but one of the funniest is employed by boys in some parts of England when they wish to catch pike. They use a goose, and, in their own words, "to catch the goose is the hard-est part of the whole affair."

Constable—Brixton 'Ill., your washup."—London Telegraph. Suppose this difficult feat is accomplished, they then take an ordinary fish line, about eight feet long, on on end of which is fixed a barbed hook or spoon, and tie it to the leg of the goose She takes to the water right away, and the line goes with her. For awhile she swims about in her usual dignified fashion, but pretty soon, if the time is well chosen, she starts suddenly, as kidneys, which must be strengthened before backache can be cured. kidneys, which must be strengthened before backache can be cured. Why not use Dr. Hamilton's Pills? They(cure the kidneys quick, make them strong and able to filter disease-breeding poisons from the blood. At once you feel better, stronger, brighter. Kidney health is guaranteed to avery user of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. It is only that the pike has nibbled at the bait and has become hooked in so doing. This hooking means a sharp jerk to the leg of the unsuspecting goose, which makes a dash for the shore. This time he must go faster and get in one window and out the next, running in and out of the ring, and back to the starting point while the song

Carrying Children In the Pocket. Not every one has so easy a way of disposing of children as the pretty and curious sea horse, which is a common creature in all seas. The sea horse has a pocket—a regular, properly shaped pocket, which it carries just as if it were strapped to its waist. In this is without a thought that she is over-burdened. Among the pleasant leta-ters received by Dr. Pierce are those from husbands who have waked up before it was too late to the crushing burdens laid upon the wife, and in the search for help have found in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a restorative which has given back to the mother the health of the maiden and the maiden's happiness. "Favori ite Prescription" always helps, and almost always cures. It has perfect-ly cured ninety-eight out of every hundred women who have used it when afflicted with diseases peculiar the children, and as the sea horse has large families, sometimes numbering as many as fifty, fishermen are often finely surprised after catching a sea horse and putting it into water to find that their single captive has apparently turned into half a hundred.

Can You Do This Sum? A grocer asked a Tady how many eggs she had in her basket. She replied, "When counted two, three, four, five, six, at a time I always have one odd one left, but if I counted seven at a time they came out even sevens." How many eggs in the basket?

RULES FOR THE BATH.

Not Every Woman Is Able to Stan the Cold Morning Tub.

The early morning cold bath is bene ficial only to those persons who possess sufficient vital energy and nervous force to insure a good reaction with no subsequent languor or lassitude.

If one feels greatly refreshed after one's morning bath, but two or three hours afterward feels tired or languid, there is sufficient evidence that the practice is injurious and should be discontinued.

Those who have an ample supply of blood and flesh, who possess a lymphatic or sluggish temperament and whose nervous force is not depl may indulge in their morning bath to advantage.

Those inclined to be thin, whose hands and feet upon slight provocation become cold and clammy, who digest their food rather slowly and assimi-late it with difficulty, who are nervous and are burdened mentally, all such individuals should avoid bathing during the early morning hours.

To all such persons a bath during the middle of the day or before retir ing at night will prove of much greater advantage. The bath should be fol-lowed by rest of body and brain till equable conditions of circulation are re-established.

Then there is another class of persons-those who are weak in nervous power, but who have such excitable peripheral nerves that after a coolbath perfect reaction takes place at once, losing more, however, in after effects than gaining in the first place This class of individuals should not bathe too frequently and when they do bathe should use tenid water.

One of the troubles
