Editorial Notes

What has happened to the Post Office clock? We have not heard it strike for some time.

Our readers will be interested in the announcement of the coming Chautauque, Sept. 20-22, which appears elsewhere in this paper. This will be the first time Wolfville has had the privilege of hearing these programmes presented in our own town, and we feel sure a generous support will be given to the citizens who have guaranteed the undertaking. Those who secure season tickets before the opening of the entertainment will be able to hear the full six performances for the very moderate amount of $1.50. THE ACADIAN would like to see Chautauque become a regular institution in Wolfville and a generous patronage will make this possible.

A TIMELY SUGGESTION

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN:

Sir—
Owing to the natural beauties of the country about Wolfville as well as its good climate, it can readily become a favorite resort of American and Canadian Tourists, if well advertised by those who visit here give good reports when returning to their homes. It is certain that those who leave the place with resentment arising from the feeling they have net highwaymen and been skinned, will deter others from coming here and operate to the disadvantage of the town. Other towns fix the livery and motor car services—why cannot the town council here do likewise? Why cannot the rate to Blomidon, Look-off, Scotts Bay, through Gaspereau Valley, Grand Pre, Evangeline Beach, etc., etc. be fixed by town regulation and such regulation posted in the hotels, so that travellers may feel they have not been imposed upon and done up. Our town is not big enough to support pirates or sharpers—and these classes, wheter livery men, hotel men or tradesmen, ought to understand they do not possess the right of way to destroy the place. Let the Council act.

CITIZEN.

DIED

Barnaby.—At "Hillside Farm", Aylesford, August 27th, 1920. Miss Lydia A. Barnaby, in the 93rd year of her age. Funeral from her late residence, interment at Upper Canard.

The United States Bureau of Crops estimates that the sugar "shortage," from which that country has been suffering, was largely propaganda put forth by the refiners. The Bureau's bulletin makes it clear that during the existence of this alleged sugar famine there were 1,300,000 tons more sugar than usual in the country. We wonder what the exact figures for Canada would show during the much advertised "famine" in this Dominion—whether the "shortage" here, as well as "shortages" in other commodities, was manufactured according to the same plan.
