HERKIMER BAPTISTS' TROUBLE

To the Editor of the Times: Sir,-Kindly allow me space in your Sir, Kindiy allow me space in your valuable paper to say that no compro-nise has been reached by Herkimer Church, nor has the situation of the af-fairs of the church in any way been smoothed out; but the pastor having changed his mind, and the fact that changed his mind, and the fact that some of the members have extended to him a second call, has divided the church more hopelessly than ever. A statement in the Herald of Aug. 19 would make it appear that the pastor and the several boards had discussed matters and the compromise had been effected. There has been no official meeting of any of the boards, and the building of the new church was dropped as soon as the pastor's resignation was accepted, because the Building Committee decided not to build without a pastor.

I would also say that there is quite a large number of the members of Herkimer Church who will not remain in the church if the present pastor remains.

About 8 o'clock ice cream was served, and an hour later the ladies made for the cars.

COST OF CARAVANING.

Few But the Idle Rich Can Afford

as an Amusement.

The Caravan Club of Great Britain and Ireland have just held its second meet. According to the secretary of the club it is, as a rule, rich people who take to caravaning, at least to caravaning for amusement. A recent addition to the membership is a woman who said she had eight motor cars. She was tired of rushing about and wished to try ambling for a time.

It is natural that caravaning should attract well off rather than ill off poeple, says the Queen, for however great economy is practised there must great economy is practised there must always be the initial cost of a van which is still not less than (which is still not less than £60 to £80, without fittings and furnishings), the hire and keep of a horse, besides food, which can often be bought from farmhouses and need not of course be at all relatively expensive.

If the horse is stabled there are tips to grooms. Some one who had spent many week ends caravaning estimated that for three or four persons the cost of a week end worked out at about 15s, per day, everything included, but that
