--Uncle Tom and Eva. "Axp now, Marie," said St. Clare, "your golden days are dawning. Here is our practi-cal, business-like New England cousin, who will take the whole budget of cares off your shoul-ders, and give you time to refresh yourself, and grow young and handsome. The cereinony of delivering the keys had better come off forth-with." This remark was made at the breakfast-table, a few mornings after Miss Ophelia haa arrived.

arrived. "I'm sure she's welcome," said Marie, lean-ing her head languidly on her hand. "I think she'll find one thing, if she does, and that is, that it's we mistresses that are the slaves down here?" "Oh, certainly, she will discover that, and a world of wholesome truths besides, no doubt, " "Talk about our karning cleare on it was the "Talk about our karning" "Talk about our karning" "Talk about our karning cleare on it

"Talk about our sceping moves, as if we due it for out concercience,'' as id Marie. " If me aure, if we consulted that, we might let them all go at once." Bragedine fixed her large, serious eyes on her mother's face, with an earnest and per-ploxed expression, and eai simply, " What do you keep them for, mamma ?" " I don't know, I'm sare, except for a plague; they are the plague of my life. I believe that more of my ill-health is caused by them than by any one thing; and ours, I know, are the very worst that ever any-body was plagued with." " Oh, come, Marie, you've got the blues this morning," said St. Clare, " You know 'tim' teo. There's Mammy, the best creature living-what could you do without her I'" " Mammy is the best force Thew," and Marie; " and yet Mammy, now, is sallah-dread-fally selfish; it's the fault of the whole race." " Well, now, there's Mammy, " said Marie; " I think it's selfash of her to sleep so sound nights; she knows I need little attentions al-most every hour, when my worst turns are on, and yet she's so hard to wake. I absolutely am yone, this very morning, for the efforts I had to make to wake her last night." " Hann't abe east up with you a god many mights lately, mamma ?" said Marie, " Blue didn't complain; she only tod." " She been complain; she only in suc-scion!" " Why don't you let Jane or Rosa take her place a night or two," said St. Clare, " and latins" " St. Clare, you really are inconsiderate! So worke and alguts you'd had—so many in suc-scion!" " Man du't you let Jane or Rosa take her place a night or two," said St. Clare, " and latins" she ought to, she'd wake caster-of course she would. Fve heard of people who had such deviced servant, but it nover was any usek" and Marie sighed. " Has Ophelia had listened to this conversation in mis and an inder on the or the server as any in such of the sighed."

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY,

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY, Famir, 18th March. BEDEQUE AND SHEDIAC FACKET. House in Committee on the Petition of cer-tain inhabitants of the Island, against the granting of any further sum or sums of money in aid of Packets-Hon. Mr. Jardine in the Chair.

granting of any further sum or sums of money in aid of Packets-Hon. Mr. Jardine in the Chair. The Potition is as follows : To the Honorable the House of Assembly of Prince Edward Island in Colonial Barliament convened. The Potition of the undersigned inhabitants interested in the expenditure of the Public Re-venues of the said Island,... Respectfully shewoth ; That, your Petitioners have learned that, in the Session of your Hon. House, in the year 1852, there was provided a Grant of money for a Packet to ply between Shediac in New Bruns-wick, and Bedeque in said faland, to the amount of Eighty Pounds, besides other advantages equal to about Eventy Pounds, making the whole equal to an annual Grant of Bout Ose hundred Pounds Currency; and also a Grant of Fifty Pounds Obered to a Packet to ply between Pio-tou, in Nors Souts and Georgetown, in said Is-land (the latter however is not likely ito be claimed, and your Petitioners are fully of opi-ajon that the running of a Packet on the for-mer station, in the absence of any legislative oid, is a very lucrative exployment for a first rate sailing Packet.
