Judge Noah W. Cheever read a paper before the Association of superintendents of the poor at its recent meeting in Ann Arbor, taking as his subject "Poverty caused by idleness in youth." He said:

"In this nation the people constitute the government; if the people are drunk it that the people are paupers, the government is that the people are paupers, the government is to be preserved the people must be elevated and purified. Though we have soils of every variety, manufactories in a prosperous condition, a climate that is healthful and vigorous, though we have navigable lakes and rivers and railroads covering our land, still we have more paupers than under the circumstances we ought to have.

Another ingenious device to gain an easy livelihood came very near costing two St. Louis men their lives recently. Early in December one of them conceived the idea that he and his companion could be manufactured into Siamese twins by a simple surgical operation, and twins by a simple surgical operation, and they employed a surgeon to perform it. A piece of skin about four inches wide by three deep was cut and raised from one arm of each, exposing the bare flesh beneath. Then the two arms were brought together, the pieces of skin lapped one ever the other and the arms tandaged firmly and tightly together. The men were told it would take between 20 and 30 days for the two arms to grow firmly together, and during that time for this is made by taking one cup of sugar, one egg, half a cup of butter; beat these together till light, then fill the dish with boiling water—there will be a sort of cream on the top—and when serying be sure to dip the grayy ladle deep in the bowl, so that the first one helped to pudding will not have all of the cream.
