ANOTHER GAS STRIKE MAKES ELATION AT ATHABASCA

Whole Region Is Underlined With Natural Gas, and Oil Is Looked for Too

Athabasca, May 19.—Another great strike of natural gas occurred in well No. 4 on the east side. At the roughest computation there is a pressure of 200 pounds to the square inch, which means, approximately, a flow of between two and three million feet of gas a day. Gas was struck some time ago in this well, but it was only a pocket and it was decided to continue the boring in the hope of striking the main strata. The result has exceeded all expectations.

Only one other well in Athabasca so far has given such a yield, and that one is well No. 3, situated in the centre of the town at Coles street, which was struck on the 17th of March last. This well is still yielding as well now as on the day it was struck, and there is every reason to suppose that No. 4 will do likewise. These two wells are about a mile apart, and are abundant proof that this whole region is underlined with gas.

These two wells, together with wells Nos. 1 and 2, which have been in operation since last fall, already assure Athabasca of a supply of between five and six million feet of gas per day, and there are eight more wells yet to be bored this summer. The value of this resource of the town cannot be estimated, but at the lowest estimate there should be enough gas to meet the demands of a city of at least 30,000 population both for light, heat, and power.

A proposition is under way to continue drilling operations after all the gas wells have been completed, for the purpose of finding oil, which is generally found in gas regions, although at a much lower strata. Scientific and government records show that the Athabasca region is all oil producing at certain depths, and there are also workable seams of good quality coal in the vicinity, coal outcropping being plentiful right inside the town limits. All these great natural resources, taken in conjunction with the railroad and navigation facilities, should make Athabasca the greatest industrial centre in Canada west of the great lakes.

MANUFACTURERS' TRAIN WILL ARRIVE HERE ON JUNE 7

Official Welcome from Board of Trade—Western Men Are Giving Exhibits

The "Made-in-Canada" train will arrive in Calgary on June 7 and will receive an official from the members of the Calgary board of trade. The council at its meeting last week came to the conclusion that it would only be proper and fitting that the representatives of Canadian manufacturers should get a great reception in Calgary.

The general impression that the train is composed of eastern manufacturers is hardly correct as the following list of the exhibitors who have a display of their manufactures on the train will show.
