

Our Mothers, Wives and Daughters.

Thousands of Them Suffer from Nervousness and General Debility.

PAINE'S CELYRY COMPOUND Strengthens and Tones the System.

It Purifies the Blood and Gives Perfect Digestion.

It Brightens the Eyes and Gives a Clear and Soft Complexion.

No medicine in the world has ever done such a work for weak, nervous, debilitated and suffering women as Paine's Celery Compound.

Women of all ages, owing to their delicate and sensitive organisms, expend more nerve energy than men. Their organs require vigorous nerves to ensure healthy action.

For such troubles, Paine's Celery Compound is the true medicine for nourishing and strengthening the nerve fibres.

Weak and rundown women find in Paine's Celery Compound a wonderful strength giver and flesh builder.

The crests were held all that day against severe attacks and a heavy shell fire. Our men fought with gallantry.

MESSAGE FROM GEN. BULLER

Gen. Warren's Forces Withdrawn to the South of the Tugela.

Spion Kop Was Difficult to Hold For Want of Water, and the Officer Who Succeeded Gen. Woodgate Decided to Abandon It - Buller, He Thought a Second Attempt Unlikely - The Boer Story of the Bloody Retaking of Spion Kop.

London, Jan. 29. - The following is the text of Gen. Buller's despatch dated Spearman's Camp, Saturday, Jan. 27, 6.10 p.m.:

"On Jan. 20 Warren drove back the enemy and obtained possession of the southern crests of the high table lands extending from the line of Acton Homes and Honzer's Poort to the western Ladysmith hills.

"From then to Jan. 25 he remained in close contact with the enemy. The enemy held a strong position on a range of small kopjes stretching from northwest to southwest to southeast across the plateau from Acton Homes through Spion Kop to the left bank of the Tugela.

"The actual position held was perfectly tenable, but did not lend itself to an advance as the southern slopes were so steep that Warren could not get an effective artillery position and water supply was a difficulty.

"The Boers, who had been asleep, decamped, leaving everything behind, and the British, with ringing cheers, climbed to the summit.

"The Boers opened fire from several points, but it was apparent that they had been taken completely by surprise, and their resistance was dispirited. The western crest of the hill was soon won, and the infantry crept along the top of the hill.

LETDS WANT MEDIATORS,

But Again He Says the Transvaal Will Not Seek Peace First.

London, Jan. 29. - The Berlin correspondent of The Daily Mail says: "Mr. Leyds is a popular lion here. He is being welcomed with an enthusiasm ordinary extended only to most favored envoys. I have ascertained from unimpeachable evidence that he is trying to induce Germany to mediate."

Leyds Talks Again. Berlin, Jan. 29. - The Deutsche Tages Zeitung publishes an interview with Dr. Leyds, which represents him as having said: "The war with certainly lasted a very long time. The Transvaal will decidedly not be the first to seek peace and will refuse any proposals on the basis of the status quo."

Bravely Scaled the Height. London, Jan. 29. - A special despatch from Spearman's Camp, dated Friday, and supplying additional details of the operations of Wednesday says: "The British made a most successful movement to-day. They played to the westward their right flank and reinforced the troops in possession of Tabanyama. They were subjected to a heavy Boer shell fire, but stood their ground nobly. Part of Gen. Lyttleton's Brigade extended on the plain in front of Mount Aliva and within two hours scaled the height of Spion Kop under a heavy fire. One rifleman, who reached the summit before his comrades, proudly stood on top."

Boers Taken by Surprise. When Woodgate's Forces Climbed Hill and Won Western Crest. Spearman's Camp, Friday, Jan. 28. - About 2 o'clock on the morning of Jan. 24 (Wednesday), when heavy clouds rested upon the kopjes, the main point of the Boer position, Tabanyama, was stormed by the British infantry under General Woodgate. Our forces crossed over a ravine and climbed the mountain side steadily, getting within 30 yards of the enemy's first line of trenches.

Have you seen Timpson's new trap? I guess it was his trap. Any way, he had that rich Giffleather girl in it.

Physicians Prescribe It.

It has become quite common for physicians to prescribe Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for patients who are run down by the ravages of chronic disease. They recognize in it a restorative of inestimable worth which are found the very elements of nature required to build up the system and form new flesh and muscle. Its restorative action on nerves and blood places it beyond the reach of rivals as an absolute cure for diseases of the nerves and blood. 50 cents a box.
