Babies in Musicoka Play With Sticks of Dynamite.

Bracebridge, Muskoka, April 17.—The 10-year-old daughter of Mr. Doley in Macaulay was playing with a dynamite cap she had picked up in an out-building. She picked the cap with a steel table-fork, when an explosion occurred. The girl's fingers of both hands were badly mangled, so that Dr. Topp found it necessary to amputate two of the fingers and a thumb. Her face was also badly torn.

Hugh Cargill, of Foley township, picked up what he thought was a new kind of lead psendi. Taking it home he gave it to the baby to play with. While the little one was playing with the supposed lead pencil it discovered something bright in the end of the pencil and began trying to pick it cut. Mrs. Cargill's attention was drawn to

That glittered in the zun like glass, Bekaize 'twer Easter Zunday."

The Easter bonnet is a pre-eminently noticeable feature of Easter Sunday—it was in London at any rate. The array of headgear to be seen on the streets and in the churches yesterday was dazzling to the eye. It seemed as if the folded blossoms of Lent had sprung with a magic suddenness into the full-blown flowers of Easter, such is the vivifying influence of the joyous period. Speaking of Easter bonnets, the prevailing shape is small and flat, with high trimming front and back. The flowers rival the rainbow in hue and variety. Corn color blue, which used to be a favorite one, appears to be revived.

EASTER IN THE CHURCHES.

Most of the city churches were decorated, more or less yesterday in honor of the glorious occasion which Easter Sunday is supposed to mark, and the fact that "Christ has Risen" was proclaimed in song by hundreds of church-going people. Special music was a feature of all the services.

In the Episcopal churches the services were of exceptional interest. The pulpit in St. Paul's Cathedral was beautifully adorned with Easter lilies and the music adorned with Easter lilles and the music was particularly fine. In the morning the edifice was crowded, the Bishop of Huron preaching a characteristic sermon. The dean officiated in the evening.

Dr. Sippi sang "Come Unto Him," an original composition, in splendid voice. Mr. George B. Sippi and his choir rendered special music.

The bishop spent a portion of the after-neon at Christ Church, Wellington street, where a confirmation service was con-ducted. Nine ladies attired in white and three gentlemen were the candidates. The three gentlemen were the caudidates. The bishop spoke to them on the subject, "Follow Christ." The front of the church was florally decorated for the occasion. At the evening service the choir rendered special music. They were assisted to the extent of a solo by Mrs. R. J. Smith, of Brantford. The pastor, Rev. J. W. P. Mrs. Celeste V. Keltie, Miss Julia Dibbs, and Messrs. Leach and Ranahan were the soloists. Special praise is due the efficient orchestra of "D" Company Band. DEATH IS NOT DOOM.

Christians Realize That Life Is Quite Long Enough.

The Grave as Much a Benediction as the Cradle.

BROOKLYS, N. Y., April 17.—Being Easter morning, the Brooklyn Tabernacie congregation had been invited by Dr. Talmage to bring flowers the night before, and a bank of them was on the front of the pulpit and wreaths of them over the pulpit. The word "Resurrection" was spelled out in letters of white lilies. Special music was added to the congregational singing. Text, I. Samuel, xv., 32: "Surely the bitterness of death is past."

So cried Agag, and the only objection I have to this text is that a bad man uttered it. Nevertheless, it is true, in a higher and better sense than that in which it was originally intered. Years ago a legend and better sense than that in which it was originally nufbred. Years ago a legend something like this was told me: In a hut lived a poor woman by the name of Misery. In front of her door was a pear tree, which was her only resource for a living. Christ, the Lord, in poor garb was walking through the earth and no one would entertain him. In vain he knocked at the doors of palaces and of humble dwellings. Cold and hungry and insufficiently clad, as he was, none received him. But coming one day to the hut of this woman, whose name was Misery, she received him, and offered him a few crusts and asked him to warm himself at the handful of coals, to warm himself at the handful of coals. to warm himself at the handful of coals, and she sat up all night that the wayfarer might have a pillow to rest on. In the morning this Divine Being asked her as he departed what she would have him do in the way of reward, and told her that he owned the universe and would give her what she asked. All she asked was that her pear tree might be protected, and that the boys who stole her fruit, once climbing the tree, might not be able to get down without her consent. So able to get down without her consent. So the tree were compelled to stay there. After a while Death came along and told the side do not want to go, for, however poor poor woman she must go with blim. But she did not want to go, for, however poor not's lot is, no one wants to go with Death. Then she said to Death: "I will go with you if you will first climb up into my pear tree and bring me down a few pears before I start." This he consented to do, but having climbed into the tree, he could not again come down. Then the troubles of the world began, for Death did not come, that there was no room for the young who were coming on, and the earth got overstated, and from all the earth the cry went up, "Oh, for Death! Where is Death." Then people came to the poor common and begged her to let Death descend from the tree. In sympsthy for the world she consented to let Death come down on and the ged her, and for that reason we always have her, and for that reason we always have her, and for that reason we always have here without that I mean to present on this.

and ne kept his word and never removed her, and for that reason we always have Misery with us.

In that allegory someone has set forth the truth that I mean to present on this Easter morning, which celebrates the resurrection of Christ and our coming resurrection—that one of the grandest and mightiest mercies of the earth is our divine permission to quit it. Sixty-four persons every minute step off this pianet. Thirty million people every year board this planet.

As a steamer must unload before it takes another cargo, and as the passengers of a rail-train must leave it in order to have another company of passengers enter it, so with this world. What would happen to an ocean steamer if a man, taking a staterom, should stay there forever? What would happen to a rail-train if one who purchases a ticket should always occupy the seat assigned him? And what would happen to this world if all who came into it nover departed from it? The grave is as much a benediction as the cradle. What suk that ship in the Black Sea a few days ago? Too many passengers. What was the matter with that steamer on the Thames, which a few years ago went down with 600 lives? Too many passengers. Now, this world is only a ship, which was launched some 6,000 years ago. It is sailing at the rate of many thousand miles an hour. It is freighted with mountains and cities, and has in its staterooms and steerage about 1,600,000,000 passengers. So many are coming aboard, it is necessary that a good many disembark.

The biblical and historical evidences of the resurrection occupied Rev. J. A. Murrous powers, but they are very limited. There are beasts that can outrum us, outlift us, outcarry us. The birds have both the earth and air for travel, yet we muss the earth and air for travel, yet we muss stick to the one. In this world, which the human race takes for its own, there are creatures of God that can far surpass us in some things. Death removes this slower and less adroit machinery and makes room for something better. John was right when he said, "It doth not yet appear what we shall be." Blessed be death! for it removes all the hindrances. And who has not all his life run against hindrances. We can not go far up or far down. If we go up far not go far up or far down. If we go up far we get dizzy, and if we go far down we get suffocated. If men would go high up they ascend the Matterhorn or Mont Blanc or suffocated. If men would go high up they ascend the Matterhorn or Mont Blanc or Himalaya, but what disasters have been reported as they came tumbling down. Or, if they went down too far, hark to the explosion of the fire damps, and see the disfigured bodies of the poor miners at the bottom of the coal shaft. Scientists tell us that the human body changes en tirely once in seven years, so that if you are 28 years of age you have new your fourth body. If you are 42 years of age you have new your you have had six bodies. If you are 70 years of age you have had ten bodies. Do you not, my unbelieving friend, think if God could build for you four or five or ten bodies he could readily build for you one more to be called the resurrection body. Aye! to make that resurrection body will not require half as much ingenuity and power as those other bodies you have had. Is it not easier for a sculptor to make a statue out of silent clay than it would be to make a statue out of some material thas is alive and moving, and running hither. statue out of some material to make a statue out of some material is alive and moving, and running hither and thisher? Will it not be easier for a make the resurrection body out of and thither? Will it not be easier for God to make the resurrection body out of the silent dust of the crumbled body than it was to make your body over five or six or eight times while it was in motion, walking, climbing, falling or rising? God has already on your four or five bodies between the times were completed to the stowed tent times more completed.

If what I have been saying is true, we should trust the Lord and be thrilled with the fact that our own day of escape cometh. If our lives were going to end when our heart ceased to pulsate and our lungs to breathe, I would want to take 10,000,000 years of life here for the first installment. But, my Christian friends, we cannot afford always to stay down in the cellar of our Father's house. We cannot always be tuning our violins for the celestial orchestra. We must get our wings out. We must mount. We cannot afford always to stand out here in the vestibule of the house stand out here in the vestibule of the house must mount. We cannot afford always to stand out here in the vestibule of the house of many mansions, while the windows are illuminated with the levee angelic, and we can hear the laughter of those forcer free, and the ground quakes with the bounding feet of those who have entered upon eternal play.

All these thoughts are suggested as we ture of those rocks, and the snap of that governmental seal, and the crash of those walls of limestone, and the step of the lacerated but triumphant foot of the ris Jesus we to-day celebrate with acclaim of Worshiping thousands, while with all the nations of Christendom, and all the shining hosts of heaven we chant, "Now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that slept."

Appreciating the Doctors' Services.

First three months free of charge. On account of the large number of invalids who have been unable owing to the rush to consult the staff of eminent physicians and surgeons located at No. 456 Talbot street, lucar Queen's avenue, London, before May 1st will receive services for the first three months free of charge. The only favor desired is a recommendation from those whom they cure. The object in pursuing this course is to become rapidly and personally acquainted with the sick and afflicted.

The doctors treat every variety of disease and deformity and will perform all surgical operations free this month, viz. The removal of cancers, tumors, cataract, polypi, etc. All diseases of the eye, ear, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder, and all female difficulties arising from whatever cause, all nervous prostrations, failing vitality, and diseases originating from impure blood, treated with the greatest success.

Catarrh in all its various forms cured by their new method, which consists in breaking up the cold-catching tendency, to which every person suffering from catarrh is susceptible.

which every person suffering from catarrh is susceptible.

Invalids will please not take offense if they are rejected as incurable. The physicians will examine you thoroughly, free of charge, and if incurable, they will positively tell you so. Also caution you against spending more money for useless medicine. Hours from 9 a.m. to 5, and from 7 to 8 p.m. Sundays, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Invalids outside the sity can write, and be treated by express.

Address all communications to Mr. William H. Hale, Manager, No. 456 Talbot street, London, Ont.
