Speaking from over twenty years' experience, I can sum up in a few words some of the results of the indiscriminate use of glasses. In the case of old eyes—gradual loss of sight in the weaker eye, ending in blindness of that eye, strabismus (or squint), diplopia (or double vision), and a gradual weakening of the good eye and making it much more susceptible to disease, glau-coma, iritis, etc. In cases of astigmatism, unsuitable glasses will cause neuralgic pains in the eyes, frontal headache, nausea, paralysis of the accommodation, resulting in permanently impaired vision which no skill can restore. The time will come—and I hope soon—when sight-testing opticians will be placed on the same footing as dentists and chemists, and have to pass an examination before being allowed to practice.

I will be at Anderson & Nelles' (Druggists) Thursday to Tuesday, Sept. 20 to 25, only.

Nothing impure or injurious contamini-ates the popular medicine to pain, throat and lung remedy and general corrective, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of any other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earache, bruises, cuts and sores succumb to its action.

Lafe Prince, a farmer, living two miles from Nottingham Center, Ohio, almost clipped his wife to pieces on Wednesday and then cut his throat with a razor. The woman died in a few minutes and the man cannot live.

for a few days.

—Master Elford Mara and Paul Harding, —The minstrel show given by the Orientals at the People's Theatre, Dundas street, is deserving of patronage. The troupe is purely local and their specialties are good.

—Miss Rosa Bailey, formerly of London, who has been visiting friends in the city has returned to her home in Adrian, Mich.

—Mr. W. P. Plant, of Norwood, who has been visiting in the city, has returned home. After an absence of over seven years Mr. Plant has many changes in his former home.

was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. J.
W. Johnson, who will remain in London —Mr. J. J. Kelso, of Toronto, is among the throng whom the Fair brings to London.

He will be glad to meet with any interested

Mr. R. R. Parker's office, Richmond and Dundas streets, will reach him.

—Brantford Examiner: News has been received in the city of the death in London of the mother of Mr. C. A. Gillespie. Mr.
Gillespie left for London yesterday morning, and on his arrival he sent a message stating that his mother could not live through the night, and the message received this morning confirmed the sad prophecy.

She's All Right.

—Mlle. De Veau, the daring queen of the air, who struck a chimney while descending from her aerial empire to terra firma with the aid of a parachute last night, is not very badly injured. The chimney seems to have got the worst of it and was partly demolished. Mlle. De Veau fell twelve feet, and though painfully bruised and out, will probably visit the clouds again tomorrow, starting from the Fair grounds.

—In the High Court of Justice yesterday: Joyce vs. Armitage.—Hoyle, Q.C., for the plaintiff, appeared from the report of the master at London in an action distinction action on the ground that the master should have charged the defendant (an executor) with certain moneys which have been lost to the estate; also on the ground that the master should have declared the plaintiff entitled to the estate; and also on the ground that the defendant should not have been allowed compensation for legal services, or, at all events, not so much as has been allowed. Counsel also moved for judgment on further directions. Swabey, for the defendant, contra. Reserved.

Tonight's Play.

"The Ivy Leaf," which will be the attraction at the Grand tonight, is an Irish play, yet it does not belong to the class of pieces made popular by Dion Boucicault and only two other Irish comedians.
There are no red coated English soldiers to bring sorrow and trouble to the poor sons of the Emerald Isle, neither are there any cases of eviction by heartless landlords.
On the contrary nearly everything is all sunshine, a few tears that are shed are soon swept away like the dew before the morning sun. The Ivy Leaf is a well-timed plot which is developed in an intelligent and natural manner. During the action of the play a number of pleasing songs and dances and other specialties are introduced, and add, in no small degree, to the evening's entertainment.

Binus—Gray.

Mr. A. S. Binks, the well-known representative of R. J. Whitt & Co., Winnipeg, was married to Miss Margaret M. Gray, at the residence of her mother, 416 Simcoe street, yesterday morning, by Rev. J. A.
Murray, assisted by Rev. Dr. Sparling, Winnipeg. Miss Kitta Anderson, of Toronto, acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Alex.
Murray as groomsmen. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thompson, of Midland; Miss Whyte, of Dundas, and Harry Slater, of Winnipeg. The happy couple left for their western home by the noon C. P. R. express, followed by the best wishes of a host of friends. A merry peal from the chimes of St. Paul's Cathedral greeted the bridal party as they passed on their way to the station. Mr. and Mrs. Binks are very popular. The groom is well known throughout Western Ontario, having traveled west of Montreal for years before going to Winnipeg.

A Pioneer's Reminiscences.

Mr. John Montague, one of the pioneers of London, now resident in Iowa, is in the city on a visit. Mr. Montague lived in London with his parents over 65 years ago, and he knows no one but the veteran James Williams now living who was in this place then. The Montague home was on Ridout street, just below where the court house now stands. All around was woods then, and there was plenty of game to hunt and a big river full of fish. Mr. Montague well recalls when the first newspaper printed in London came out. He was the pioneer newsboy, for he distributed among the subscribers of the village the first issue.
There were no bridges over the Thames in those days, and Mr. Montague's father kept a canoe for the accommodation of himself and his friends. Well does he recollect the first families here—the Williams, the Goodhues, the Lawrensons, the Daniels, Col. Askin, Wm. McBride and old Mr. Meredith. Nearly all are gone, however, and new generations have risen up, causing astonishing changes. Mr.
Montague expresses surprise to find the Shibal Hill Tells of Lack of Ambition and the Cure.

He writes from Hamilton, Dec. 8, 1890, as follows:
Isaac Williams Company, London, Ont.: Dear Sirs—After suffering for a long time with pains in my back, extending to my lower parts, also no ambition to do my daily work, I was induced by Mr. Bickell to try Royal Crown Remedy. After taking two bottles, and Pills, as directed, I consider myself entirely cured, and can highly recommend your medicine, R. C. R. and Pills to do all you claim them to do. I should be in every home. It saves hundreds of dollars in doctors' bills. Yours truly, SHIBAL HILL.

A Pretty Wedding.

The many lovers of the beautiful in this city are charmed with the recently commenced wedding of Art and Nature on Dundas street in the store of Gammage & Sons. Not in London is there a more pleasing or artistic interior finish than that shown by ceiling and walls, the work being of an entirely new line of fine art decoration. This, combined with the exquisite electrical lighting arrangements, makes a most attractive setting for the floral gowns on view. Messrs. Gammage have issued a tasty invitation to their many friends and customers to visit them today at their fall floral exhibit, and it will be a decided treat to those who attend.
