he ravages of the smallpox in Mont-They are far from being great, and shew that the smallpox this year is not of a very bad type.

As to varyination the Courier is wrong a supposing that our population has any ficient prejudices in regard to this precious and efficacious preventive. It is true that the English avail themselves of it more fixedly, comparatively, than the French and the fixed that most of them belong to the rich or wentso-do class, whilst the true plebs is largely composed of French Canadians. This is why the number of cases is larger amongst the French than amongst the English group, alshough the latter do not seem inclined to take this difference into account.

ESPLANADE J. & J. TAYLOR Safe in the great fire on the Esplanaae, To-ronto, August 3rd, 1885. OFFICE OF TORONTO SUGAR & SYRUF RE FINERY, TORONTO, 14th August, 1835.

Messrs, J. & J. TAYLOR.

Toronto Safe Works, City.
Gents,—On the morning of Monday, August 3rd, in the great conflagration that threatened to destroy our entire city front, the bottest and most prolonged portion of the fire was centred in our large glucose refinery, foot of Princess street. We had at the time our books in one of your fire-proof safes, and we feel it only justice to you to inform you of the satisfactory manner in which it preserved its contents. The immense amount of large timber and brick in this eight story building together with the combustible nature of its contents when fanned by the gale then blowing made the place like a blast furnace in its fury. None who saw the fire in its full force would imagine anything could resist its consum ng power, Yet we are thankful to say we found your Safe preserved its contents entire, which reflects great credit to your well earned reputation. Yours truly, Toronto Sugar and Syrup Refinery,

"By a thorough knowledge of the natura laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocca, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast table with a delicately flavored obeverage which may save us many heavy doctors bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame. "Civil Service Gasette."
