UNIVERSITY WILL LOCATE SPECIAL CLASSES IN THE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE

Growth of Evening Class Training Forces Establishment of Downtown Center For Growing Commercial Economics Classes.

A branch of the University of Western Ontario will probably be located in the Central Collegiate Institute this fall to accommodate the remarkable growth of the arts department's evening classes as well as giving those classes a central location. Application has already been made by university officials to the Board of Education for the use of a wing of the Central Collegiate, and it will probably be granted at the next session of the trustees.

Dr. H. R. Kingston, head of the department of mathematics at University College and director of the summer school, will probably be named the executive head of the evening class department.

Depending on the numbers who apply, practically all of the university's new course in commercial economics will be taught in the evening classes, through which those having matriculation standing may obtain a degree.

However, the degree part of the evening class work is not to be stressed. As pointed out to-day by Lieut.-Col. Brown, the slogan of the new evening school will be "Special Training for Business Specialists."

MANY CLASSES.

"Classes will be formed in any subject that students forming a large enough group for class work (nine or 10) may require," he said. "The training to be given is not technical in a narrow sense. The whole object is to teach young business men and women the underlying principles of business.

Business is not a matter of guesswork to those who have studied the broad field of economics applied to trades. Two and two make four in trade cycles as well as in simple addition. Those that know the underlying principles of business are prepared for executive positions in the world of commerce.

"Some gain that knowledge in the school of hard knocks, but cost is much higher, the training period much longer than that which the university now extends to young men and women of London.

"To illustrate my point. Let us imagine two cities starting only a few miles from each other. One of these, as the years go by, becomes a railway center and probably has navigable water at hand as well. The other city, which has none of these things or in smaller measure, manages to pass the more favored community. What is the reason?

MEN, THE NEED.

"The answer is men. Trained men are Canada's most valuable asset. Trained men made London what it is to-day. And the London of to-morrow will owe its greatness to young men and women who now prepare themselves to master conditions as they exist here.

"We want 200 young men and women in our evening classes this fall wherever they may be held. The cost of the tuition will be very small, but the personal benefits that may be derived will be invaluable.

"Those planning to take the special work should register with Dr. Neville now. His office is at the university and preliminary registration may be made by telephone."

GARAGE DOORS ARE OPENED, TOOLS GONE

Delaware Mechanic Would Like To Know Where His Good Tools Went.

After enjoying the hospitality of the garage at Delaware all night recently a motorist, believed to have come from this city, departed, somewhere about daybreak, by taking the locked garage doors off their hinges, and, incidentally, some of the best tools in the young garage man's stock, or else they were taken by someone else, after the motorist's informal departure.

The man in question is said to have driven up to the Delaware repair station in the evening and asked if the proprietor-mechanic could fix his headlights, which had gone out.

For over an hour the mechanic worked on the lights and then declared that he would have to have daylight to complete the job. He suggested that women members of the party go on to London in a car whose driver had stopped for a moment and had offered to take them in.

The driver, however, was offered the use of the garage during the night and he was allowed to sleep in the car to prevent hotel expenses.

When the garage owner came down next morning he found the doors off their hinges and his guest gone. Also several fine tools were missing.

BURIAL OF WILLIE WILLISON. — The funeral of Willie Willison, whose death occurred on Saturday night in Victoria Hospital, was held this afternoon from the home of his sister, Mrs. John Pinnell, 2 West York. Services were conducted by Rev. N. L. Tucker, of St. Paul's Cathedral, and interment took place at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Boy Slayer?

This 11-year-old youngster, Roy Shields, living near Shook's Gap, Knox County, Tenn., is held for murder. He and his father, T. S. Shields, have been indicted jointly for the shooting of Mrs. Susan Hicks, 60, a neighbor. It occurred during an argument over the boundary line between the two homesteads.

COURT DISMISSES LIQUOR CHARGES

Officer's Evidence Contradicted By Automobile Party.

PICKED UP BEER BOTTLE

Thought It Was Thrown Out By Defendant.

When Motor Cycle Officer Monahan saw a car pass him on the Wharncliffe road last night he hurried to catch up with it because he knew there was a summons waiting to be served on the driver, W. P. Cox. Due notice of these circumstances was given to Mr. Cox, who was driving, with three companions, at Becher street and the Wharncliffe road, and as the car passed over the King street bridge on the way to the police station, Officer Monahan saw two beer bottles hurled from it by a passenger in the front seat—that is, he thought he did.

One of the bottles was smashed to pieces when it struck one of the bridge girders. The other hit a board fence and fell by the roadside. Constable Monahan stopped to pick it up and it was exhibited as evidence against Cox and his companions in to-day's police court, where they were charged under section 41 of the O. T. A. with having liquor in other than a private dwelling. There was a small amount of beer still in the bottle.

"There were two men sitting in the front seat and two in the rear," the officer testified. "The bottles came out of the front seat and were thrown by a man with a gray sleeve. When we got to the police station the floor of the car by the front seat was wet and a cap for a bottle was in the center of the moisture. Parts of the clothing of the man sitting next to the driver were also wet."

Evidence submitted by J. M. McEvoy, counsel for the accused quartet, through the men themselves, brought out the statements that they had been to Springbank Park, had had nothing to drink and all denied throwing the bottles out. Cox said he saw something hurled from a car some distance in front, but he didn't know what it was.

Magistrate Graydon dismissed the charge.

ADDITIONAL STREET LIGHTS TO BE PLACED

Additional street lights will be placed on the following streets with the approval of the City Council, on the recommendation of City Engineer Near. One light will be placed on Waterloo street opposite St. George's School, four additional lights on Quebec street between Dufferin avenue and the C. P. R, one on Ashland avenue south of Dundas street, one on Eleanor street south of Dundas, one center light at intersection of Egerton, Trafalgar and Hamilton road, one on Adelaide street between Dundas and King streets, two extra lights on Wharncliffe road north and one center light at intersection of Wharncliffe road and Oxford, one on Oxford street east of Wharncliffe road, one on Tecumseh avenue east of Gerrard street, one on Wortley road between Bruce and Craig, two on Regent street, one east and the other west of Wellington street, one on Regent street between Christie and Colborne streets, seven lights on Cheapside, distributed between Richmond and Maitland streets, one light at easterly end of Carlton avenue.

MOTOR CARAVAN FOR KIWANIANS

Fifteen Cars To Take Members To Hamilton.

FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION

Premier Ferguson Among the Principal Speakers.

Some 15 cars, gaily decorated, carrying banners announcing their origin, will form a motor caravan carrying delegates of the local Kiwanis Club to Hamilton for the Ontario-Quebec convention of Kiwanians, meeting on Thursday and Friday of this week. Harry Morgan will act as marshal of the parade, which will enter Hamilton in massed formation.

As a result of the encouraging reports received from The Free Press special investigator concerning Western Ontario farm crops, each London Kiwanian who attends the conference will wear a large straw hat of the kind affected by agriculturists.

Though T. H. Yull and Harry Morgan are named as official delegates, about 30 members with their wives will accompany them to the convention, which has arrayed a particularly fine collection of speakers, including Hon. Harry Cockshutt, lieut.-governor of the Province of Ontario, Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, premier of Ontario, and international officers of the Kiwanis. In addition to the regular business sessions, several social affairs have been arranged for the entertainment of the visitors during the two days of the convention.

Churches and Clubs

ST. GEORGE'S A. Y. P. A.

The members of the A. Y. P. A., of St. George's Anglican Church, visited Beechwood recently and successfully presented their jolly comedy "Sally Lunn." It was given a hearty reception and its funny situations were met with gales of laughter, betokening the enjoyment felt by the auditors. The story was of matrimonial advertisements in which a group of young college students became entangled and for good measure had an unexpected mother-in-law who managed to complicate still further a complicated situation. Adequate presentation was given the little drama by the cast which included Miss Anna Johnsen, Edna Hobbs, Norma Andrews, Mrs. S. Sims and Jack Johnston, James Dean, junior, and Harold Dean.

WORTLEY ROAD M. C.

The first meeting of the Mission Circle, of Wortley Road Baptist Church, was held yesterday with Mrs. George Post presiding. Mrs. Stewart led the devotions and Miss Myrta James contributed a pleasing vocal solo. The feature of the meeting was a spelling match in which the sides were captained by Mrs. Post and Mrs. Bartlett and for which the words given were the names of mission stations in India. The meeting was concluded with a special hour and the serving of light refreshments at which time Mrs. Clarke was the convener and her assistants were Mrs. G. Wenige and Mrs. Marchbanks. There was a large attendance.

Weddings

Murrell-Gilmore.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at Centennial Methodist parsonage on Monday at 3 o'clock when Miss Bertha A. Gilmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gilmore, Childers street, became the bride of Bernard C. Murrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Murrell, Ridout street south. The young people were unattended. Rev. E. M. Thompson officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Murrell will take up their residence in London.

Dawson-Arscott.

The marriage was solemnized at the Centennial Methodist parsonage at 10 o'clock this morning of Mrs. Annie Arscott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stainton, York St., who became the bride of James H. Dawson, Thorndale, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dawson, Nissouri. Rev. A. E. M. Thompson officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Dawson will take up their residence in London.

POSTPONE TOUR BY CITY TRADE BOARD

Will Be Taken the Week Following the Western Fair.

The London Chamber of Commerce tour of Western Ontario towns and cities scheduled to take place on Thursday and Friday has been postponed until the week following the Western Fair.

The delay is partly due to the number of local business men busy with arrangements for the Western Fair and also on account of leading business men in the cities to be visited either having exhibits at the Canadian National Exhibition or planning to attend it this week. Many applications were received here for information regarding the proposed tour, but so many would have been forced to remain in London that it would probably have been cancelled on this account if the request had not come through from the other cities concerned for a postponement.

SCOTTIE TO CONVINCE OWN STAFF OF PROWESS

Doubting Thomas Barbers To Be Shown What a Fisherman Can Do When Goaded Beyond Endurance

Some of the most expert fishermen that ever fouled a tackle will leave the city over the week-end, under the guidance of "Scottie" MacPherson, veteran Nimrod of these parts. The entire staff of "Scottie's" barber shop, with the baking staff of the Home Dairy, intend visiting Port Rowan and giving the fish a lively time. Scottie has told so many tales of his prowess with the rod, that in order to convince his employees that he is really there, he is taking them with him, every man of them. That the natives will stand aghast and the gulls reel drunkenly in their flight and portentous signs and omens herald this event is a foregone conclusion. Scottie is on the warpath again. Last week Scottie brought but few fish back with him, which fact is attributed rather to innate modesty than to scarcity of conquests. Besides, a few paltry four or five-pound bass pale into significance beside that memorable catch of the Thames. Scottie will not display his catch unless it enhances his past achievements.

Horse Race Betters Are Having Field Day With Bookmakers As the Goats

Turf Followers Unable To Collect Winnings From Bookies, Who Are Losers of Thousands.

How often does one ever get ahead by playing the ponies. Invariably the answer is never, but right now London turf followers are experiencing the thrill of being unable to collect bets placed with the majority of bookies in town. On top of this, the leading bookies are refusing to take any more of the public's money and those who make up the populace of the sporting blood of the city are enjoying a good chuckle.

During the past season the bookmakers have been hit the hardest in years. The reason for this is that practically all of the favorites have been running true to form, paying anywhere from $15 to $30, with almost every race track follower having bets on them. One local man at the present time is waiting until one bookie takes in $1,000, that being the amount he is unable to collect, while many others have bets won that run into the hundreds.

Even those that rely on code telegrams are taking in the money, with the bookmakers looking forward to the opening of the winter tracks to recuperate. Horses such as Best Pal and Colonel Leopold are a few of the bets that have helped put the bookmaker on the loosing end. Of the Canadian tracks, the Windsor races have played havoc with the gentlemen known as the bookmakers. An example of how flourishing they are as a whole may be taken from the statement of one bookie at Windsor a few days ago, who stated that in all the years he has been in the profession, never has he seen so many favorites running true to form. This is particularly true of all the Canadian race tracks.

Just when the local bookies will resume their operations, depends entirely on what the nags do, while those who place their money in the hands of these gentlemen are hoping that luck will still remain with them. For those who are considering making a living by playing the ponies it might be a good time for them to make a start.

TECHNICAL SCHOOL PUPILS MUST REPORT

Those Intending To Enter After Western Fair Must Enroll On Thursday Evening.

Owing to the unprecedented enrollment at the London Technical School, students who do not enter until after the Western Fair are asked to report to the principal's office on Thursday evening, September 4, in order that time-tables for the term may be made out at once. Those who fail to report may find themselves laboring under a severe handicap or prevented from taking some of the new special courses.

MANY HOMES REQUIRE DOMESTIC WORKERS

Women's Employment Bureau Section Has Many Desirable Positions Open.

Now is the time for all girls desiring work as domestics to file their applications at the women's department of the employment bureau, it was announced to-day by Miss Friend, director. According to her, the demand for servants has increased greatly during the past few weeks and there is any amount of this particular occupation available at good wages.

Several colored girls filed their applications this morning.

In connection with the recent arrangement between the employment bureaus and immigration department in regards to bringing domestic help to London, more than a dozen applications through this scheme have been received since the plan was first announced. At the rate they are coming in it may be that the first quota of girls to be brought to London for distribution throughout Western Ontario may arrive during October.

Work for girls in factories amounts to little, according to the number of requests from local manufacturing plants.

LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS AUTHORIZED BY COUNCIL

Curbs and Gutters For Many Streets Are Authorized.

The following local improvements will be undertaken, the necessary by-laws having been passed by the City Council: Cement curb and gutter on Robert street, from Beverley street to Trevithen street; cement walks on Robert street, from Beverley to Trevithen; cement sidewalks on Raywood street, from Beverley to Trevithen; water mains on Weston street, from Trevithen to Jean street; cement curbs and gutters on Edward street, from Briscoe to Emery; cement curbs and gutters on Langarth street, from Cathcart to Edward; sheet asphalt pavement on Edward street, from Briscoe to Emery; sheet asphalt pavement on Langarth street, from Cathcart to Edward; private drain connections on High street, from the river to Tecumseh avenue; private drain connections on Wellington road, from river to Whetter road; private drain connections on Clarke street, from Wellington road to end of street; private drain connections on Grand avenue, from High to Gerrard; private drain connections on Kennon Place, from Wellington road to end of street; private drain connections on Watson street, from Wellington road to end of street; sewer on Lockyer street, from Tecumseh to Duchess avenue; tile sewer on Oxford street, from near Strand street to Becher street.

COLORED WOMAN IS ORDERED TO LEAVE

Found With Man in Vicinity of Holeproof Factory.

Emma Mason, young colored woman, who gave Toronto as her home when charged with vagrancy in police court to-day, said she was waiting for a train when a police officer apprehended her in a lane near the Holeproof Hosiery factory with a man.

Chief Birrell said it was close to midnight when the arm of the law appeared, but she declared it was just a little past 11 o'clock and that her train left about midnight.

Magistrate Graydon advised her to return to Toronto without delay and ordered her immediately out of town. If she is arrested here again, she will be convicted, he warned.

CHURCH LEAGUE PLAYOFF

There will be a final playoff of the Church League at Sunshine Park on Friday night. Empress Avenue and Hamilton Road Baptist Church will meet in a sudden death game to decide who will hold the championship for the coming year. The two teams have already played two games in the finals, but owing to the fact that both have been protested the league executive have decided to settle the series in this way. A particularly fast class of ball has been served up in the Church League this year so that the final game promises to be one of unusual interest.

HID IN SISTER'S CELLAR AT BYRON

Dan Kargus Uses Novel Shelter When Pursued By Police.

SPED PAST YOUNG CHILDREN

Fined For Speeding Between Springbank and Amusement Park.

When Dan Kargus, aged 22, set out in his car for a ride on Tuesday afternoon, he was observed speeding past the entrance to Springbank Amusement Park at between 40 and 50 miles an hour, High Constable Wharton states, endangering the lives of a group of small children who were attempting to cross the road at the time.

Failing to stop after the high constable had signaled for him to slow down, he kept on going, leaving behind him only a trail of dust. Jumping into his car the Middlesex chief constable followed and after scouting around in the Village of Byron he found Kargus hiding in the cellar of his sister's house.

To-day he appeared in the county court and was scathingly denounced by Magistrate Hawkshaw, who declared that he might have faced a charge of manslaughter. According to the evidence of the high constable, Kargus was fairly burning up the road and at the time should have been jailed for reckless driving.

After the court had finished administering a severe tongue thrashing he was fined $10 and costs.

ARRESTED BY POLICE AFTER GETTING JOB

Hamilton Man Was Sleeping in Hayloft and Using Carpet For Cover.

Just an hour and a half before Earl Blundell was scheduled to commence a new job he was arrested as a vagrant and taken to police headquarters. He was arrested at 6.30 this morning after being found sleeping in the hayloft of a barn at 1462 Dundas street, with a carpet thrown over him as a covering. Blundell will be given more comfortable quarters in the county jail until he receives aid from relatives in Hamilton, whom he said he believed would come to his rescue.

The accused admitted when arraigned before Magistrate Graydon that he has not had a room to go to for a number of days. He came here from Brantford some time ago, he claimed, and has since been working for short periods at different places. The job he was scheduled to begin to-day was one of digging at a convent.

These prospects did not impress the court and after some questioning concerning the relatives in Hamilton, Blundell was remanded for a week while he gets in communication with them. If aid is secured the accused will be allowed to go, the court intimated.

LIONS TO WELCOME VISITORS TO FAIR

Business Men's Club To Maintain Social Center Tent

Probably one of the outstanding features of the Western Fair this year in regard to the caring for visitors will be the Lions Club social center tent, which promises to prove the meeting place for hundreds of visitors to this city.

All expenses in connection with the operating of this tent will be shared by the members of the club, who are planning a treat in the manner of hospitality that will undoubtedly prove an annual affair. At the present time letters are being sent to municipalities surrounding London, acquainting them of the privileges accorded at this tent.

The tent will be in charge of Lions Club members and their wives.

Good Advice For Nervous People

WHAT WORN, FRAZZLED, UNSTRUNG, "JUMPY" NERVES REALLY NEED

When you are run down, out of sorts, tire easily, have lost confidence in your ability to do things, and ambition seems to have deserted you, it's a sure sign your nerve force has run down and that your nerves need a stimulant to restore to your system its old-time strength and energy, and bring back the good old pep that used to make you famous.

Standard Drug Co., Cairncross & Lawrence, L. K. Liggetts, and many other of the leading drug stores in London and vicinity are selling a wonderful nerve remedy called Ferro-Peptine on a positive guarantee of satisfaction or money back. It's amazing how quickly Ferro-Peptine tones up the entire system, calms and steadies the nerves, and puts vim, vigor and vitality into men and women who are fagged out, nervous, despondent and ambitionless.

Thousands testify to their remarkable value in cases of severe mental depression, nervous prostration, nervous dyspepsia, trembling, "jumps," "fidgets," and the generally unstrung nerves that come from excessive work, worry, lack of sleep or overindulgence in drinking, eating, or smoking. They never fail to benefit. If you are blue and feel as though you didn't give a hang, or are cross, irritable, and your nerves are right on edge, get a package of Ferro-Peptine right away. It comes 42 tablets to a box. Eat one with every meal for a few days, and see what a wonderful improvement they make in your whole nervous system.—Advt.

Courage's White Light Beats On That Wooden Cross At Vimy's Crest

First Division Men Asked To Replace It With a Stone Memorial — This District's Assessment Is Only $125 — Send Contribution To-Day.

Now that the holidays are over the matter of raising $125 in the London military district to make permanent the First Division Memorial on the Thelus Road at Vimy Ridge can be easily carried to a successful conclusion.

No man who served in the First Division but holds those years of comradeship with some of the finest characters that ever walked the face of earth as the happiest of his life. The terror is forgotten, the horror has fallen into the abyss of memory. All that remains is the white light of courage beating on a wooden cross on top of a cairn of field stones and the red light of sacrifice and friendship which endure beyond death.

Only $900 is wanted from the First C. E. F. in all Canada. London and the London district's share is only $125. Checks or postal notes may be sent to the honorary treasurer of the fund in this district, Lieut.-Col. F. B. Ware, district headquarters, London, Ontario.

Or, if it is more convenient, contributions may be left at The Free Press office, on Richmond street.

TWO SCHOOLS ARE OVERCROWDED

Readjustments Relieve Aberdeen and Lord Roberts School.

Congestion in Lord Roberts and Aberdeen public schools is the major problem which inspectors are dealing with, following the opening day enrollment. It has been found necessary to readjust the school boundaries somewhat and to send several of the students to neighboring institutions.

No building additions to these schools will be considered by the officials because there is sufficient accommodation now provided for all the school population. Some children who have been accustomed to attend Aberdeen and Lord Roberts are now being sent to Simcoe, Alexandra and St. George's. Two rooms in the old Colborne Street School were closed and this has accentuated overcrowding at Aberdeen.

The situation is not so serious in other centers. Ryerson is able to care for the North End attendance satisfactorily, while the three units in South London have eliminated practically all overcrowding. Ealing is well filled, but will be able to provide room for all the district pupils.

Additions have been made to the flures compiled by the public school principals yesterday, so that the attendance is now well up to 90 per cent. of the expected enrollment. One of the reasons is that fair week does not interfere with attendance as it does usually and there is a keener desire on the part of the pupils to get off to a good start at the first of the term.

WAS NOT BARRED FROM HIS HOME

Mrs. J. E. Henshaw Explains Case of Injured Husband Sent Home From Hospital.

Editor Free Press: I hope you can give this place in your valuable paper to make an explanation. I wish it understood my husband was not barred from his home. I was only too pleased to have him home, but the point is the Victoria Hospital discharged him, saying he could walk and take care of himself and he certainly cannot move off his back or feed himself. What are hospitals for if not for such cases, when I am willing to pay all I possible could. I certainly will be pleased and thankful if Mayor Wenige can take up Mr. Henshaw's case before the compensation board.
