The Weekly Monitor.

BRIDGETOWN, NOVEMBER 12, 1879.

UNITED STATES.

Although it may be thought that the strength of parties and of political matters in general in the neighboring Republic is of little importance to the people of these British Provinces; yet as the whole southern frontier of the Dominion from the Atlantic to the Pacific, is bordered by the United States, and that extensive commercial relations between the two countries, has and must continue to exist, we cannot be indifferent to what is transpiring throughout the wide domain of our southern neighbor, geographical contiguity, reciprocal trade and other obviously important considerations render it impossible that we should not feel an interest in the complexion of whatever party may be in the ascendant at Washington. The currency question alone is such that it cannot fail to be a matter of grave moment to the people of these Provinces, inasmuch as traffic between us and our republican neighbors cannot smoothly flow without fluctuations in the value of our currency being permissible, and unremediable by silver or gold. Ever since the suppression of the late rebellion of the Southern States the currency has been mostly in a state of derangement and uncertainty; and the consequent inconveniences have been felt on both sides of the border.

The late return to a sound currency by the joint action of Congress and the Executive, has already had a reviving effect upon the trade and industry of the Country. It is to be lamented, however, that the Democratic party, now out of power, is willing to sacrifice public interests—to do anything, in fact, to regain ascendancy and control in the national councils. This party depends mainly for its strength on the restless discontent of the States, lately in revolt, and is determined as ever to virtually deprive the colored population of all personal rights and civil immunities. To the enfranchised Negroes the elective privilege is a mere bagatelle, if they, in their approach to the polls, are confronted with threats, intimidation and physical force. They, as far as civil rights are concerned, might as well have remained unemancipated.

During the last and extra congressional session, the Democratic party has shown its factiousness and readiness to sacrifice national interests that it might vault into the seat of power. Such unscrupulousness, evinced by its leaders has aroused the indignation of the people in the northern and western States; and the State Elections this Autumn are indicative of the popular feeling against the factious course pursued by the Democrats in both branches of the national legislature. A year ago they were a formidable, increasing party, and the prospect was that they might ere long depose the existing executive, and once more get hold of the rule of affairs at Washington. Owing to gross errors, if not obnoxious faults, on the part of the Republicans, they had become somewhat unpopular, and a number of their adherents in the national constituency, were ready to go over to their opponents; but the cloven-foot, shown by the Democratic in the last congressional session, repelled, rather than attracted, dissatisfied party wavers, and the recent State Elections clearly demonstrated that the Tilden party has been diminishing in both strength and numbers. The party is like an image of snow, melting away in the sunshine of Spring. Tilden's own State has gone against him, and the chance of a Democratic election for the presidency next year is not as promising as it was in 1878.

The Northern States shrunk from the idea of being governed by a preponderance of those of the "South."

Mr. Jeremiah Calnek. We learn by a Halifax newspaper that Mr. Jeremiah Calnek died a few days ago in the County of Guysborough, aged 90 years. Formerly he was a prominent resident of this town, and is still respectfully remembered by the senior members of the community. When quite a young man, he bought a tract of wilderness land on Wilnot mountain; and transformed it into a productive farm. About the year 1824—5 he was put in possession of a large sum of money by a wealthy German relation. He then left his mountain farm, and went into mercantile pursuit in this town. Meanwhile, he built the large house in which Joseph Wheelock Esq., now resides. As a business man, he was not prosperous. His wife having died, he lived mostly in his declining years with his children. He was much respected by his contemporaries, most of whom passed away before him. He was the father of W. A. Calnek, a gentleman of very respectable literary tastes, tendencies and ability, who started the first newspaper in this town, the Western News, and who has favored the reading world with quite a number of choice poems.

The S. P. C. A. is the name of a new journal published in Halifax by the above Society. We gladly give it a place on our exchange list. Its object is a noble one—the protection of our dumb creation, and we hope it will meet with the success it merits. It is a folio sheet neatly printed, and well edited.

Last week there was a fire within the penitentiary walls at Halifax, and some wooden buildings were burnt; but the main structure (stone) and the prisoners were saved from the ravages of the devouring element.

LOCAL AND GENERAL EDITORIAL ITEMS.

Shipments of gold from England to the United States continue.

Quire & Garretts—Canning has a hog eight months old that weighs 400 pounds.

INDIGATIVE—Bismarck has requested Russia to withdraw 20,000 cavalry from Poland on the borders of German territory.

The election to fill the vacant seat in the representation in Halifax for the Local Assembly, will come off on the 25th inst.

Fears of a lawless outbreak in Ireland, it is stated have induced the British government to send thither two regiments of cavalry and a body of infantry.

The State Elections that came off in Yanketodolendum last week have assured the Republicans of success in the choice of a President next year.

Andrew Shields, Esq., a Scotchman by birth, died at Dartmouth a week ago, aged 87 years. He was a poet of no common order. But his harp is hushed forever.

Phonics for London.—The brig, "Belle Star," Capt. Davis, chartered by Messrs. Pickels & Mills, cleared on the 5th for London, takes 2,800 barrels of apples, and 180 boxes of smoked fish, valued at $6,500.

Bismarck's health is not so good as his friends wish.—Last night he is suffering severely from neuralgia and gout. We hope the joint attack of these tormenting diseases will not impair the vigor of his business brain.

The Kentville people are jubilant over a blooming honey suckle at this late season of the year. In this County we have rosy cheeks that bloom the whole year round—the beauty of which transcends anything in Flora's domain.

Further accounts of the late storm betoken not only great loss of property in the eastern parts of Nova Scotia, but also in Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and the Magdalen Islands. The overwhelming tempest left devastation, ruin and wreck in its pathway.

Our readers will not be surprised to learn that the notorious "Bon" Butler, who was again a candidate for the gubernatorial chair of Massachusetts, has been defeated a second time. He will probably be an annual candidate for that position as long as he lives.

The three years' embargo on moveable property has had the desired effect. It is said that our forests are teeming with the antlered denizens of wooded wilds, where hunters are anticipating much sport before the first of February.

On Monday last, the steamer Scout took the place of the Empress on the route between St. John, Digby and Annapolis. The Empress has been laid up for the winter. We also note a change in the present command of that steamer, and welcome Capt. Fleming back to a charge he so very ably managed for a number of years.

From Halifax police reports, it is apparent, that no considerable proportion of the poorer classes in this city are being charitably provided with an article so necessary as food. Howard's mantle seems to have fallen on the shoulders of the stipendiary magistrate.

Messrs. John Silver & Co., of Halifax, have obtained a verdict of $7,000 in the Supreme Court against the Dominion Telegraph Company for furnishing the St. John, N. B., press with a dispatch announcing the failure of the plaintiffs, whose mercantile standing and credit were thereby grossly misrepresented.

We regret to announce the sad and sudden death of Mr. John Wesley Everett, of Digby, which occurred yesterday by falling from one of the bridges on the W. C. Railway. Mr. Everett was married last summer to a daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Burchard, of this town, and leaves a widow to deplore his untimely end.

We understand that Mr. J. McLeod is removing from his present stand, the "Commercial House," St. George's, Annapolis, to his old quarters the "American House," lately occupied by Mrs. Hamilton, situated a little farther up on this same street. All those favoring Mr. McLeod with their patronage may be sure of first choice accommodations.

On Tuesday night last, the down freight of the W. & A. Railway ran into an ox standing on the track near Bloody Creek Bridge. The poor animal's leg was broken only and he was left to suffer until night fall of the next day. The section master, made every effort to discover the owner, but was unable to do so, and did not care to take the responsibility on his own shoulders of despatching the animal, him responsible for the full value. He finally telegraphed to headquarters stating the case and received orders to kill the poor brute at once. It seems a hard case that the law would hold a man responsible in performing an act of humanity such as was required in this instance, but so it is, we understand. Some provision ought to be made for such cases.

The Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F. of the Lower Provinces, has just sent to the yet low fever sufferers in Memphis, Tenn., the sum of $325.75, through Mr. Taylor, Grand Treasurer of the Order. This, when added to last year's donation, makes the sum of $1,400 in all sent by them for the same object.

YARMOUTH.

A FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLAR FIRE.—Yarmouth, Nov. 11.—A fire which broke out very near the mill at Tuskent, owned by N. W. Blethen & Co., Yarmouth, at two o'clock on Sunday morning, took the whole mill completely destroyed, together with about a million and a half feet of lumber, Kansas house and stable, and the grounds owned by the same company, and occupied by R. H. Van Norden, and a house owned by Ass Robbins. The mill alone cost forty thousand dollars and the whole loss exceeds fifty thousand dollars. The flames spread so rapidly that Van Norden could not save his furniture, having barely time to remove his horses and cattle from the stables. He had six hundred dollars insurance on his furniture. Robbins was uninsured.

By the vigorous efforts of the fire company the fire was prevented from spreading further. The origin of the fire is yet uncertain.

Andrew Clendenning died suddenly early this morning. He was in the street yesterday.

One or two bottles cure Whooping Cough or Kidney Troubles. Six to eight applications cure any case of EXCORIATED NIPPLER or IRRITATED BREAST. One bottle has cured Lamb Rags of eight years standing. Daniel Flank, of Brookfield, Tioga County, Pa., says: "I was thirty miles for a bottle of your medicine, and sold by my neighbor, CURR & COOKED LARD, by six applications."—Another who has had Asthma for years, says: "I have had a bottle left, and still do not know where to buy any more."—Rufus Robinson, of Nunda, N. Y., writes: "I have had a bottle left, and still do not know where to buy any more."—It is composed of Six of the Best Oils that are known. It is as good for internal as for external use, and is believed to be infinitely superior to any thing ever made. Will save you much suffering and many dollars of expense.
