Cocking

HAMILTON vs. ROCHESTER, N. Y.

ROCHESTER VICTORIOUS.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 28, '77.

Editor of Sporting Times:

During the past few days it has been the sporting part of our community would have the pleasure of witnessing excitement of the cock pit. The utmost was maintained in regard to the match. But it transpired, that the match was between certain parties in this and two gentlemen from Hamilton, Ont. I knew where it was to come off or arrangements had been made. Last night, however, the rumors were displaced by definite information, and your reporter found himself in a hall not a thousand miles from the four corners. He first paid his respects to about two hundred other individuals before he was admitted to a view of the cock pit. There he ascertained that the main was to be for $25 a battle and $250 on the odd fight. Both parties to show cocks, and fight all that fell to weight, or take two ounces. Heavy weight 5lb 2oz; light weight, 4lb 2oz; 1 1/2 in heels; New Rules (slightly modified for this occasion, so that they allowed the handlers to hold and pull feathers.) On exchange, it was found that 17 pair had been in which would require one party to 9 fights to decide the main. The first fight was called at 9 o'clock, but it was past 9 before the welcome cry of "Here they are" cheered the hearts of the anxious crowd, who, by the way, had been entertained in the meantime by a number of songs, jokes, the majority of which were sung by a well known Buffalo sport, and the effect of keeping the audience in the best possible humor. The pit was quickly surrounded by the lovers of sport, and the fighting commenced slowly, the odds of 5 to 1 on Rochester, being taken by the Canadian in a few times. The Canadians did not lose 25 all told and conspicuous by their absence were representatives from Toronto, Oakville, Kingston, Belleville, and St. Catharines; not a man from any one of the places being present, to my knowledge. The first fight was a shake, which some means was counted as one of the main.

1st Fight—Rochester showed in a black cock, while Hamilton was represented by a grey. This was a long tedious fight, the birds being badly cut in the first few minutes, making them both weak and unable to push the other severely. It ended by the Hamilton bird being counted out—Time 25 min. 1st fight for Rochester.

2nd Fight—Rochester showed another black red; Hamilton a white henney; both 4oz. The Hamilton fowl was remarkably handsome, but the red fellow was a better, and going straight to his bird commenced in grand style, and never quitting a moment lay the henney dead at his feet in 4 minutes.

3rd Fight—Red pile for Rochester and one of the same color for Hamilton. The Rochester party had the call in this fight and led a 5lb 9oz; Hamilton misunderstood and heeled a 4lb 10oz bird, and did not recover their mistake until after the fight was over and the birds taken out of the pit. No better birds could hardly be found, both strong, rapid fighters and hard hitting; at one time it looked as if Hamilton would win, but the weight told against him.

the Rochester bird being one ounce lighter. This was another hard fight. The Hamilton party having great confidence in their bird, backed him for all the money they could get up, and for a second time completely out bet the Americans. This time to their sorrow, for after a terrible battle of 10 1/2 min. the pile turned tail and run, much to the disgust of the Kanucks who looked on him as a dead game bird. 7 for R. and 2 for H.

10th Fight—Black red for Rochester, a grey for Hamilton. The Hamilton bird had this fight won to all appearances, but a chance blow from the R. bird, who had his wing broken in the first fly, but kept fighting and finally won in 6 minutes.

11th and last—Black red for Rochester, a grey for Hamilton, both 5lb 12oz. A good fight; Hamilton having the best at the start again, but Rochester winning in 12 minutes.

At the finish of the last fight the Canadians said they had enough, and as that fight decided the main the Rochester party consented to a proposition to consider that the last fight, although they might have insisted on the remaining battles being fought.

REMARKS:

A few remarks might not be out of place here. In the first place the Canadians were out-generaled; they allowed the Americans to have too much their own way. In agreeing to go to Rochester, they should have known that their birds would suffer by transportation; in fighting with a short straight heel, that they knew nothing about, they were at a great disadvantage; and fighting under rules that they were not conversant with was also wrong. I think the match was so well made on the Rochester side that even if the Hamilton fowls were as good as the others they could not have won.

Rochester showed in this main 21 as good cocks as ever represented this city, being all one strain, either full or half brothers, and they were in the best possible condition; while the Hamilton birds appeared to be of several different strains and in no condition at all, though they felt pretty good when in hand, they were evidently weak. Everything passed off in the best possible manner, nothing occurring to mar the sport, and the Canadian delegation proving themselves to be gentlemen in every particular. I must make an exception to the above in one case:—While the main was in progress some villain made his way into the room where the Canadian fowls were kept and stole 4 birds, two dead ones and two live ones; those stolen being the ones who were engaged in fights Nos. 8, 4, 5 and 9. Had he been discovered and handed over to the tender mercies of the Rochester sports I don't think he would have been in condition to attend another main for some months to come. The loss of these 4 birds appeared to grieve the Canadians more than the loss of their money on the main. Trusting that the parties may come together again this season, is the wish of your correspondent—P.L.E.

THE LATE MAIN—A CARD.

HAMILTON, Dec. 29, '77.

MR. EDITOR.—I have just returned from Rochester, N. Y., where I have been to see the great cocking main, Hamilton vs. Rochester, and which was won by Rochester by 9 to 2. On behalf of the Canadians I desire to return our sincere thanks to the Rochester gentlemen for the kind and liberal treatment we received at their hands, and hope we may some time be able to reciprocate it. To our Buffalo friends we have placed ourselves under a lasting obligation; wishing them every success.

I remain, yours, &c.,
HAMILTONIAN.

MICHIGAN NOTES.

BY ARCHER.

BATTLE CREEK, Dec. 12, 1877.—Last week a dog belonging to George Rogers vomited up forty-five cents in nickels and pennies. Since then all the small boys of the city have tried to capture that dog; but he has been caged, and emetics are being administered to him by the bushel.

GRATIOT COUNTY.—Two farmers have been compelled to pay $167 for sheep destroyed by a couple of worthless curs, of the breed known as "yaller dogs," of which they were the water fowl kept there. They killed thirty-six geese, ducks and swans, valued at $400. The collection of fowls was one of the finest in Massachusetts, comprising many rare specimens from Australia. The dogs were caught and killed, and now the owners threaten to sue the corporation for damages.

The Detroit Boat Club, of Detroit, has nominated the following officers:—President, Henry Russell; Vice-Pres., A. Moffatt; Sec., C. L. Andrews; Treas., A. M. Campbell; Captain, Geo. Campare; Commander, T. H. Whiting; Lieut. Commander, F. W. Fletcher; Ensign, H. R. Newberry.

Whether Baldwin, the anti-spiritualist, can tie White, the spiritualist, so that the spirits cannot untie him, is the question uppermost in the minds of the people of Ann Arbor, Mich. Baldwin has done it once, and wagers $100 he can do it again.

Billiards.

THE LICENSE QUESTION.

At a meeting of the Markets Committee, of this city, held on Saturday last, the following letter, by Mr. Samuel May, in reference to the abolition of licenses on billiard tables, was read:—

"I enclose a copy of petition asking the removal of the license tax now imposed on billiard tables (at present under your consideration), and at the same time would most respectfully draw your attention to the following additional facts bearing on the subject:—That the amount of $912 is paid annually by eleven rooms, and that the proprietors of the rooms pay in addition to this tax other taxes and licenses amounting yearly to over $9,100, exclusive of heavy water rates. And therefore it is hoped that you will earnestly recommend the Council to remove this oppressive and most unjust tax from a game that is deservedly popular, a healthy exercise, and should be a cheap amusement. Billiards in England are a recognized British institution, and the game is indulged in by everybody, not excepting the clergymen of the Established Church. The English Government some years ago appropriated £80,000 sterling for billiard tables for the army. The modern police stations of London are furnished with tables for the use of officers when off duty, and there are numerous institutions in England established by benevolent gentlemen of means, where the workingman and mechanic can play billiards on good tables, in comfortable, well lighted rooms for a penny per game. They are thereby brought socially together, and are intelligently entertained, greatly to the benefit of society and themselves. In the domestic circle of all parts of Great Britain the billiard room as well as the nursery is an indispensable portion of an Englishman's house when he can afford it. But the day is past when an argument is needed in favor of the game of billiards. It has won its way through all classes in the Old World and the United States, and therefore I, as a Canadian who has devoted his business life to developing and elevating the game, and at the same time establishing a new industry in our Dominion, would again most respectfully ask you to recommend the abolishing of this oppressive tax, and at the same time remove from the game the remains of a stigma nowhere else existing."

A slight discussion ensued, but it was decided to allow the matter to remain over until a meeting of the Committee to be held this week.

Owing to the press of matter on our columns to-day we are compelled to hold over an article on May's Billiard Factory.

John Hickey has turned up in Boston and is matched with Schaefer.

A game of 1,500 points was played at McArthur's Hall, Buffalo, N. Y., on the 27th ult., for $200, between Mr. S. J. Cronyn and Mr. W. H. Carney. The former won by 303 points.

Mr. James Bennett, of Toronto, the winner of the first prize at the Montreal Tournament, is about to take charge of a billiard room in Ottawa. We commend him to the lovers of the game in the capital; and what is Toronto's loss in this matter is Ottawa's gain.

Veterinary.

MONTREAL VETERINARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

At the meeting of this Association, held on Thursday evening, 20th ult., a large number of members and visitors were present. The President, Prof. McEachran, occupied the chair. A very interesting paper was read by Mr. C. J. Alloway, V.S., on the "History of the Veterinary Profession," who, after tracing the rise and progress of the art through the various stages of the world's history, concluded by pointing out the very rapid progress it has made during the present century, not only by the higher and more thorough educational requirements, but in the literature of the science, hitherto scant and imperfect, which was now extensive and scientific. The days of empiry, when ignorance and credulity reigned prevalent, were rapidly being replaced by thorough scientific investigation and enlightened practice. The art so long relegated to barbers and groomers is now the profession of the educated scientist. With such universities as McGill, through her Medical Faculty, identified with the science, and her example about to be followed by the University of Oxford, and not only the medical men but the medical journals in all the European countries inviting the co-operation of the sister science, and going hand in hand in the same fields of scientific research, there is a certain and glorious future for this important branch of medical science. Mr. P. W. McCallan, Bridgeport, Connecticut, also read a very interesting communication on the disease in horses known as Hermoglinuria, being the report of a case treated at the College hospital during the present season in which he pointed out the circumstances under which it occurs as being errors in feeding. Thus, a horse in regular work, for some cause, is kept in the stable for several consecutive days, during which time he is allowed his full complement of food as when at work; on being taken out of the stable, in apparent good health and exuberant good spirits, after proceeding a mile or two, he suddenly stops, crouches, and stiffens in the hind quarters, which become paralytic. The muscles become hard, swollen immovable. The urine is thick, dark in color, resembling porter and voided with difficulty. The clinical notes of the case, the post mortem lesions, and microscopic changes in the tissues, carefully made and recorded by Prof. Osler, were minutely described, and illustrated by drawings. Owing to the pathology of this disease being imperfectly understood, and different theories advanced by eminent in-

Amusements.

CITY.

This week has been marked by the appearance of Mr. Geo. Renold, the distinguished English actor, at Mrs. Morrison's Grand Opera House, in the latter act tragedy of Henry V. The piece has been put on the stage on a scale of magnificence equal to the standard of this house. During the play, the various battle, heroic, and sad scenes were rapturously applauded. Of course Renold's noble figure, but he is ably supported by the stock company. The attendance has been very large, and the engagement must be considered the success of the season. The regular matinee will take place to-morrow afternoon.

At the Royal Opera House under the management of Mr. Lucien Barnes, the Holman Company have been doing a fine business. Oliver Dond Byron, supported by Miss Kate Byron and the dramatic corps of this establishment, has produced the dramas of Donald McKay and Ben McCullough to large audiences. To-night Mr. Byron takes his benefit, when the highly sensational drama of Across the Continent will be produced, with Mr. B. in his original character. A large house is sure to greet this deserving star. To-morrow matinee and evening performances, which will conclude Mr. Byron's engagement. Jack Harkaway is in rehearsal.

Hamilton's Opera Company put on two nights at Albert Hall on January 1 and 2, producing Martha and The Waterman on Tuesday evening, and The Waterman Girl and The Swiss Cottage on Wednesday. The attendance has not been large, owing to the location of the hall, but a very respectable house were well rendered.
