

"His Majesty will bear in mind, however, the representations which you have made on this head; and if the Christians in Persia can be shown to be suffering from any specific grievance, redress will be afforded them."

"MALCOM."

The Shah, however, was not the only person who enlisted the sympathies of the Committee, and received at their hands the Gospel of the Grace of God. Advantage was taken of the conveyance of the Bible to Buckingham Palace to ascertain the names and the rank of the persons composing the royal suite, as well as of the number of servants in attendance upon them; and it may perhaps interest the readers of the Monthly Reporter to know that the suite of His Majesty consisted of the following persons:—
