

The College decided that it had no power, under the circumstances, to remit the prescribed curriculum, and so the matter for the time dropt.

The amendment, which becomes law on the sanction of the Governor General, throws the door open to such chemists and druggists who desire to avail themselves of the privilege, but we do hope the legislature will entertain the application for a special act of incorporation, so that the chemists and druggists may manage their own affairs, and we feel certain they will adopt such measures as will elevate the standard of their profession.
