

YOUNG FOLK—MERRY FOLK.

Who is she? There is a little maiden— Who is she? Do you know?— Who always has a welcome Whenever she may go.

What is the difference between the death of a barber and a sculptor? One curls up and dyes; the other makes faces and busts.

When a loafer enters the sanctum of a busy editor, and the editor says, "Glad to see you're back," what does he mean?

An old dutchman froze his nose. While thawing it out he said, "I haf carry dat nose fordy year, unt he nator freeze himself before. I do not understand dis ting."

A Wisconsin editor illustrates the prevailing extravagance of the people of the present day by calling attention to the costly baby carriages in use now, while, when he was a baby, they hauled him around by the hair of the head.

"Madam," said a trance-medium, "your husband's spirit wishes to communicate with you." "No matter," said the widow, "if he's got no more spirit in the other world than he had in this, it's not worth bothering about."

Could anything be neater than the old darkey's reply to a beautiful young lady whom he offered to lift over the gutter, and who insisted that she was too heavy? "Lor, missus," said he, "I use used to lifting barrels of sugar."

An officer in the army laughed at a timid woman because she was alarmed at the noise of a cannon when a salute was fired. He subsequently married that timid woman, and six months later he took off his boots in the hall when he came in late at night.

The Chinese are evidently Pagans. They spend their holidays in paying their debts, forgiving their enemies and shaking hands all round. Do we want any such barbarians among us? No! They would fly in the face our time-honored customs.

Across the water and the wine—Engaging child: "Oh, Mr. Jenkins, do let me see you drink!" Mr. Jenkins: "See me drink! What for my dear?" Engaging child: "Oh, mamma says you drink like a fish!"

A train on the Northern road ran into a cow the other day. It didn't hurt the cow, but it threw the engine off the track. People accustomed to the best steak furnished in the boarding houses of this section express much surprise at the slight damage done to the train.

A little boy said to his mother: "Ma, I had the beautiful dream last night you ever saw I dreamt that I wouldn't go to school, and that you went out into the yard and cut a great long switch, but just as you were going to give me an awful dressin' the world came to an end. Didn't I get out of it easy, though?"

One friend to another who has just returned from a trip abroad. "Did you enjoy your European tour?" "Very much indeed." "Did you call on any of the big ones?" "Yes I called on two queens one evening." "Called on two queens? Was it a pleasant affair?" "No, not very; for after I called I found the other chap had three kings."

When a man gets both of his legs mashed, rendering him unable to work for three months, there's nothing that cheers him up so much and so effectually keeps the wolf from the door as for his fellow-workmen to pass a series of resolutions praying for his speedy recovery, and ordering an engrossed copy of the same to be presented to his family.

In a little village of Southern France, the physician quarrelled with one of his friends a merchant, because the latter had said that physicians were asses. The merchant soon fell ill, but the doctor refused to see him unless he would take back his opinion of the medical profession. Ten years passed on and one day as the paralyzed merchant was sunning himself before his door, he saw the doctor pass. "Hullo, Dr. Bussaigne," he cried, "you can come to see me now; I have changed my opinion." "So much the better," replied the doctor, "for unless you had, I should never recognize you." "Yes, I've changed my opinion, entirely changed it," continued the merchant; "formerly I said physicians were asses." "You were wrong," "I know it; it is the patients who are the asses." "Why so?" "Because if they were not asses they would not send for the doctor."

WHAT I HAVE SEEN.—Some one who has seen a goodly share of the world tells some things he has seen: "I have seen a young man sell a good farm, turn merchant, and die in an insane asylum. I have seen a farmer travel about so much that there was nothing at home worth looking after. I have seen a man spend more money in folly than would have kept his family in comfort and independence. I have seen a girl marry a young man of dissolute habits and repent as long as she lived. I have seen a man depart from truth when truth and candour would have served him to a much better purpose. I have seen the extravagance and folly of children bring their parents to poverty and want, and themselves to disgrace. I have seen a prudent and industrious wife relieve the fortunes of a family when her husband pulled at the other end of the rope. I have seen a young man who despised the counsels of the wise and advice of the good, and his career ended in poverty and wretchedness.

INDISPUTABLE EVIDENCE. St. Elmo, Ill., July 8, 1874.

B. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.:—I wish to add my testimony to the wonderful curative properties of your Ait. Ext., or Golden Medical Discovery. I have taken great interest in the medicine since I first used it. I was badly afflicted with dyspepsia, liver deranged and an almost perfect prostration of the nervous system. So rapid and complete did the Discovery effect a perfect cure it seemed more like magic and a perfect wonder to myself, and since that time we have never been without a bottle of the Discovery and Purgative Pellets in the house. They are a solid, sound, family physician in the house and ready at all times to fly to the relief of sickness—without charge. We have never had a doctor in the house since we first began the use of your Pellets and Discovery. I have recommended the use of these medicines in several severe and complicated cases arising from, as I thought, an impure state of the blood, and in no one case have they failed to more than accomplish all they claimed to do. I will only mention one as remarkable, (though I could give dozens), Henry Coster, furniture dealer, of this place, who was one of the most pitiful objects ever seen, his face swollen out of shape, scales and eruptions without end, extending to his body, which was completely covered with blotches and scales. Nothing that he took seemed to affect it a particle. I finally induced him to try a few bottles of the Golden Medical Discovery, with daily use of Pellets, assuring him that it would surely cure him. He commenced it; use some six weeks since, taking two Pellets each night for a week, and the Discovery as directed. The result is, to-day his skin is perfectly smooth, and the scaly eruptions are gone. He has taken some seven or eight bottles in all, and considers himself cured. This case had baffled the skill of our best physicians. Messrs. Dunsford & Co, druggists, of this place, are selling largely of your medicines and the demand steadily increases, and they give perfect satisfaction in every case. Respectfully, W. H. CHAMPLIN, Agt. Am. Exp. Co.

BRAIN WORRY.—Many of us pray to be delivered from sudden death, and do we not worry ourselves into it? And if we do can we not help it? "Men do not really die of Heart disease as often as it is supposed, but of apoplexy, or congestion of the lungs, so they do not die of brain work but Brain Worry. Scott died of it, Southey, Swift, Horace Greeley, and probably Thackeray."—London Times.

As Brain Worry induces premature dissolution by its depressing influence upon the general nervous health, by eating the brain faster than the waste is repaired, and as the means of sustaining and increasing nervous health is no longer impossible, those who suffer the debilitating influence of mental anguish or extreme mental fatigue, need only resort to the preparation of Hypophosphites invented by Mr. F. Colow, as that will conduct the subject safely over the rapids of despair, and create in him strength to grapple with every difficulty. This is no idle assertion, but an established fact.
