Pluck, Spirit and Endurance Shown by Troops in Desperate Fighting Fills His Majesty With Admiration.

Canadian Press Despatch.

LONDON, Nov. 10, 9 p.m.—King George has sent the following communication to Sir John French, commander of the British expeditionary force on the continent:

"The splendid pluck, spirit and endurance shown by my troops in the desperate fighting which has continued so many days against vastly superior forces fills me with admiration. I am confident of the final result of their noble efforts under your able command."

General French replied, thanking His Majesty for the message, which he said had been received with gratitude and pride by the army. He assured the King "of our unalterable determination to uphold the highest traditions of Your Majesty's army, and carry the campaign thru to a victorious conclusion."

ISSUED AT VIENNA LAST NIGHT. "Our operations in the southern war theatre are progress While our advance on the line from Shabats to Losnitza was obstinately resisted at a strongly fortified point at the foot of a hill, a three days battle on the line from Losnitza to Kroupani ended in success. The forces of the Servians consisted altogether of six divisions. Their troops, after a heroic defence, are now retreating toward Valievo.

"Our troops arrived yesterday at Losnitza, east of the Heights of Sokolska and Planina, southeast of Kroupani. Numerous prisoners and war materials were captured."
