VARSITY PLAY IN BERLIN TONIGHT

First Game of Junior Finals-Return Game Here Thursday-Hockey Gossip.

St. Michaels make their final local appearance of the season tomorrow night, when they meet an all-star team at the Arena. The other local teams will supply the players to make up the seven to play the Saints. The runners up for the O.H.A. honors play the St. Nichelas Club in New York on Saturday night.

Varsity play the first game of the O. H. A. jumfor finals in Berlin tonight, and will take up a big crowd of rooters. Varsity have had a good rest, and should be at their best for this game. The Berlin style of play is vastly different from anything that Varsity have tackled this roar, and it remains to be seen if the smooth-working university machine will be stopped. Berlin check every inch of the way, but if they play their defence at the from forward as they did against Collingwood the students will break thru them fast. Varsity are hoping for hard ice, and with their speed, they should be able to hold Berlin and return for Thursday's game with nearly an even break. Dr. Gliffillan will 'referee tonight, and Oscar Bernhardt will handle the game at the Arena on Thursday night.

PLAY IN BASEBALL

The bone plays come and the bone plays go; there are new bones sprung every year, and the old ones are revived—but Larry McLean still proudly claims pre-eminence and asserts that in all the history of ivory breaks there has never been one to equal his best endeavor in the osteologic line.

Thursday night at West End Y. the University of Toronto and West End seniors will meet for the city championship. The collegians made a great run in the Intercollegiate, finishing second to McGill, and the West Enders are tie with Hamilton in the Senior O.B.A. The West Enders have played great ball all season, and played to win, but have had very poor support and are facing a deficit on the season. However, they are still in the game and will make a great bid for the championship when they meet Hamilton on Saturday next at Hamilton in the final game. The locals have the edge on the Ambitious City team, having defeated them three times out of four starts. Thompson, the West Enders' good defence man, graduates this year, and this will probably be his last appearance with the local team.

The disadvantage of owning horses in England has been brought home to various thorobred fancilers since the outbreak of the war, but in the last few weeks the system of confiscation has been extended to German sportsmen. Prince Kinsky, who owner a pretentious stable, is the first to suffer, and his possessions have been seized by the Britains, as one London paper naively explains. "Quite as if he were not one of the enemy." At the outbreak of hostilities Prince Kinsky's string was in training at Newmarket under the supervision of the Hon Francis Lambton. The latter's sudden death, however, left the norses without a superintendent, and the sovernment decided to dispose of them by auction, using the proceeds for the war fund.
