

HAMILTON NEWS NOT DISCRIMINATE AGAINST SOLDIERS

Ontario License Board Discusses Restrictions on Hotelmen Today WILL CLOSE AT SEVEN Arrangements Are Complete for Reception of Premier Borden Tonight.

By a Staff Reporter. HAMILTON, Tuesday, Sept. 28.—At a conference to be held this afternoon between Col. Logie and the members of the Ontario License Board it will be decided what, if any, restrictions are to be placed on the hotelmen for the duration of the war.

To Stimulate Recruiting. With but few soldiers quartered here at the present time, the recruiting officers and members of the Hamilton Recruiting League are finding it difficult to maintain the interest which resulted in the raising of the Hamilton Machine Gun Battalion and Sportsman's Battery.

Expect Coal Shortage. Local coal dealers are in receipt of information which indicates that there may be a coal shortage before the winter sets in.

Soundings for New Bridge. Engineers are now working on the site of the new bridge at the Valley Inn hill, which has completed its preliminary arrangements.

Decide on Thursday. The city council will decide whether to give the residents of Barton Township a water supply and sewerage system.

Recruits for New Battalion. A communication has been received by the local military authorities from headquarters at Niagara camp.

ARENA'S THOUSANDS CHEER AS BORDEN TELLS OF CANADIAN WAR DEEDS

Great Gathering Marks a Milestone in the Patriotic History of Toronto — R. B. Bennett, Calgary, Pays Great Tribute to Canada's First Citizen.

(Continued from Page 1).

ment. His address was simple, direct, and earnest, and made a deep impression upon all who heard it.

In opening, the prime minister said that he would endeavor to convey to the people of Toronto some of the impressions which had been made upon him during his journey over sea.

"In that valley," said the prime minister with evident emotion, "at least 120,000 men have died their lives to live and enjoy the blessings of freedom."

R. B. Bennett, M.P. for Calgary, an old favorite in Toronto, received an enthusiastic welcome. He spoke at some length in eulogy of the prime minister.

Toronto's Great Influence. Mr. Bennett complimented Toronto as a city, which, long before the war commenced, had proved her unwavering devotion to British institutions.

Among those present were Premier Hearst and the members of his cabinet. Hon. A. E. Kemp, and members of out-of-town members of parliament, including Messrs. Scott, Larle, Webster, Carrick, Armstrong, Boys, Boyce, Welch, Fisher, Hetherington, H. Sharpe, Clarke (Wellington), Bennett (Simcoe) and Senator Donnelly.

In opening Sir Robert said he realized that the great gathering before him was brought about by the magnitude of the theme upon which he was to speak.

danelles. "These hospitals," manned by 24,000 medical men and 500 specialist Canadian nurses, are, I venture to say, better equipped, better organized, and the wounded soldiers in them receive better treatment than anywhere else in the world.

He quoted Murray in his criticism of the Canadian troops. Sir Archibald said: "I have reviewed between four and five hundred men of the last four or five months and I want to tell you I have seen no better body of men physically and morally. I have never seen a better body of troops than your Canadians."

"The memory of those who have fallen is very dear indeed to you in this City of Toronto," he said, "and I will never be forgotten by those of today or by the generations to come."

"I have had the privilege of seeing these men gathered together in some hospital response as warmly as you people respond to an appeal bringing home to you the cause for which they have been fighting."

"I know that many for man, company or group of individuals, we were not ready, and we have had to pay in men and money."

"We have had to pay since the commencement of this war for lack of preparation," said Sir Robert. "I am making no censure on any government or group of individuals, but we were not ready, and we have had to pay in men and money."

"They were in splendid form, every one of them fit for duty, whenever it should come. Their spirit was ready to do their duty in the face of any and every ordeal whatever it might be."

"We then went to see what was left of the Patriotas, and saw in their faces the same devotion and determination of the people of Quebec, and in the spirit of the nation."

As an evidence of the French spirit, the premier told of a military chaplain in General Joffre's camp, who was no less than the son of a nobleman of Europe, doing duty as an ordinary chauffeur.

Upon his return to England, Sir Robert visited many of the convalescent homes. In describing one of them, he said: "I have seen men who from the battle line, many of them from the battle of Ypres, I had the privilege of speaking to these men, and I never spoke to any man who was not a Canadian."

"I have had the privilege of seeing these men gathered together in some hospital response as warmly as you people respond to an appeal bringing home to you the cause for which they have been fighting."

"I know that many for man, company or group of individuals, we were not ready, and we have had to pay in men and money."

"We have had to pay since the commencement of this war for lack of preparation," said Sir Robert. "I am making no censure on any government or group of individuals, but we were not ready, and we have had to pay in men and money."

"They were in splendid form, every one of them fit for duty, whenever it should come. Their spirit was ready to do their duty in the face of any and every ordeal whatever it might be."

"We then went to see what was left of the Patriotas, and saw in their faces the same devotion and determination of the people of Quebec, and in the spirit of the nation."

"I have had the privilege of seeing these men gathered together in some hospital response as warmly as you people respond to an appeal bringing home to you the cause for which they have been fighting."

Your Banker Knows

that the success of your business depends largely upon you. He realizes what the loss of your services would mean to your firm. The possibility of your death is ever present in his mind.

Don't you see the effect this knowledge has upon his official attitude towards your house? Don't you realize how it would tend to loosen his purse strings--how it would inspire confidence on the part of all your creditors--if your business was protected financially against the consequences of your death?

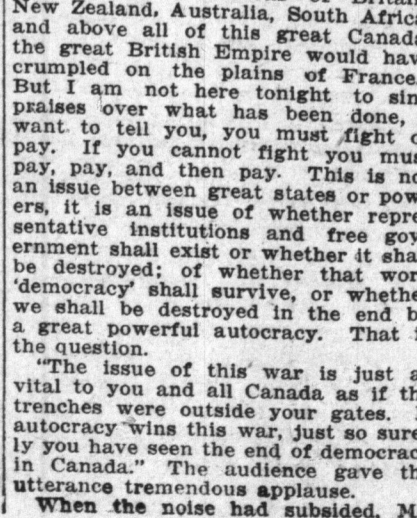

Imperial Business Life Assurance policies are designed to provide for this and many other contingencies which arise unexpectedly in commercial enterprises of all kinds.

Our booklet "Business Conservation" explains briefly this special feature of our business. Write for a copy on your business letterhead.

THE IMPERIAL LIFE ASSURANCE Company of Canada

HEAD OFFICE TORONTO, CANADA

Branches and Agents in all important centres

UNITY OF CANADIANS A GREAT BLESSING

Support That Needed, Says Borden NO MESSAGE C

Speech at Civic Told of Splendid Confidence

"I return from overseas with a sense of pride and confidence in the unity of our people."

Referring to the Canadian volunteers, Sir Robert said: "The unity of our people is a great blessing."

COMMISSION OUT N.Y. FOR CHICAGO

Anglo-French Loan Negotiators Well Protected by Police

ARE SEEN SAFELY AWAY

Detectives and Plainclothesmen Closely Examined Train Before Starting.

CANADIAN CASUALTIES

First Battalion. Seriously ill—Sergt. Dalton McMaster, Windsor, Ont.

Second Battalion. Wounded—J. F. Burger, Ottawa.

Third Battalion. Wounded—William Marshall, Soper, Ont.

Fourth Battalion. Wounded—John Goodwin, Enfield, Ont.

Fifth Battalion. Wounded—John Goodwin, Enfield, Ont.

Sixth Battalion. Wounded—John Goodwin, Enfield, Ont.

Seventh Battalion. Wounded—John Goodwin, Enfield, Ont.

Eighth Battalion. Wounded—John Goodwin, Enfield, Ont.

MUSIC AND

Toronto's only Cafe Royal, 14 Blyden...

Special to The Toronto World. The body of George B. ...

Special to The Toronto World. The body of George B. ...

Special to The Toronto World. The body of George B. ...

Special to The Toronto World. The body of George B. ...

Special to The Toronto World. The body of George B. ...

Special to The Toronto World. The body of George B. ...

Special to The Toronto World. The body of George B. ...