WOODSTOCK, Oct. 4 .- (Special) -Woodstock was en fete today, the occasion being the visit of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and party to this city. Sir Wilfrid, accompanied by Hon. Geo. P. Graham, Hon. Chas. Murphy, Hon. Mr. Fisher and Hon. Mackenzie King, arrived at noon and was greeted by about two thousand of his followers. After speaking to the students of Woodstock College, he addressed two large meetings this afternoon, and again this evening he spoke to six thousand people in the opera house and skating At all the meetings the ex-premier spoke briefly and made no serious efforts to discuss any immportant issue in full. His utterances were rather ment of Oxford County with just enough political talk thrown in to give the audience remembrance that they were attending a real political meet-

Sir Wilfrid referred particularly to the marriage question as one of the influences to turn him out of power, and stated that if an election was to take place today, thousands of Liberals who voted against him on Sept. 21, 1911, would vote for him now. His references to the question of reciprocity were short. Once again he stated that in his opinion the home market must always be the best market for Canadians, but he believed that for the products of Canadian farms other markets must be Regarding the navy question, Wilfrid declared once more that the Liberal policy stood. "Let Mr. Borden prepare his scheme and it will be judged by us upon its Hon. G. P. Graham dealt chiefly with his famous campaign of whispering, which he says was conducted by the Conservatives during the last election, while the remarks of the other speakers were along general lines denouncing the Conservative administration. Tonight a monster torchlight proce sion was held and many bands took part. Excursions came from Hamilton, London, Stratford, Galt and Brampton,

One hopeful sign, however, is the fact that diplomatic relations still remain unbroken and that apparently no ultimatum on a declaration of war has been made. Therefore diplomacy still has time to act in the interests of peace.

At present the European negotiation looking to peace are centred in Paris, but it still seems to be undecided whether action in this direction shall be taken by a center of the European powers as a whole, or by Austria and Russia as the representatives of Europe. It is believed difficulty is being found in reconciling the views of the situation held by Austria and Russia and altho a more hopeful view of averting war prevalled today it is LONDON, Oct. 4 .- (Can.
