It was a very plain address, void of the highly placed anecdotes, and with- out of fancy or of eloquence. In a what low and monotonous voice, with Yankee twang, Mr. Sheldon told of his experience in Kansas, where the city of Topeka, of which he was a resident, had been the scene of a great deal of trouble.

FERRY HURRIED CRIPPLED.

Passengers Crossing From Buffalo to Fort Erie Had a Very Anxious Time.

AFRAID OF GOING OVER THE FALLS.

Floating Ice Caught the Boat and Forced Her Out of Her Regular Course.

Buffalo, N.Y., Jan. 21.—Locked in a monstrous ice jam the Canadian ferry Niagara, with 19 persons on board, was swept helplessly down the Niagara River to-night and wrecked on the International Bridge.

The boat, which plies between the city and Fort Erie, Ont., left her dock at the foot of Perry street in the early evening on her last trip of the day, having on board 19 passengers, six of whom were women, and two children. Her crew consisted of four men. The river was full of floating ice that drifted in from the lake, but the boat passed through the ice without any accident and made her way to the centre of the stream. Here she became imbedded in a great field of ice, and her engines were powerless to propel her. She was then carried over the falls and the more imminent danger of being crushed by the ice was averted. The boat was then carried over the falls and the more imminent danger of being crushed by the ice was averted.

GLADSTONE AND KITCHENER.

The Dead Civilian is at a Discomf Compared With the Living Warrior.

London, Jan. 22.—Great Britain presents a vivid contrast between the potency of civic and military fame. To put it bluntly, Gladstone died in quietude, and the memorial market, while Kitchener, alive, easily commands £120,000.

Four Ways to Work. The remainder of his address Mr. Sheldon covered four points for temperance: (1) Personally not to drink; (2) per- suade others not to drink; (3) per- suade others not to drink; (4) per- suade others not to drink.

WASTED DAYS. The advertising chief of one of Chicago's most successful stores tells The Dry Goods Reporter of that city: "My idea of good advertising—steadily arranged in the state dozen years—has been to advertise only when I have something worth advertising, something worth telling about, and to base my hopes for returns on the reasonableness of the statements I make." This is sound principle. A rule based on an equally sound principle, and well worth following, is that no store should let a day slip by without utilizing it to exploit something that the estab- lishment good-will and business to the estab-

JUNIOR OFFICERS BADLY TREATED

Prejudiced Reports Put in by Superiors, the Victims Being Ignorant of the Reasons.

London, Jan. 22.—The leading organ of the army, The Broad Arrow, publishes an article this week which has given a shock to people here, who have lifted up their hands in pious horror at the French military shortcomings, as revealed by the Dreyfus affair. The Broad Arrow draws an analogy between the system of the confidential reports of the British army and the French secret dossier, and says the British system does not differ from the military administration, which results in confidential reports being in many cases a mere travesty of justice.

ANTI-ANARCHIST CONFERENCE.

Italy Wants to Hear From the Powers Before Taking Action.

London, Jan. 22.—A despatch from Rome to the Central News says that the Italian Government is about to send a diplomatic note to the powers that participated in the recent anti-anarchist conference, inviting them to state definitely their conclusions relative to the proposals considered. When the answers of the powers are received Italy will call a conference of the ambassadors with a view of taking united action.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

Afraid of the Truth. St. Thomas Journal: Sir John Bourne, clerk of the House of Commons, who criticized Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Senate speech, is a good deal about constitutional law, but it is evident that one thing he does not know is when to keep his mouth shut.

Two Extremes. Thornbury Herald: The G.P.R. is being sued by the parents of a child whose health was injured through crossing the continent in an over-crowded car. The parents will never have any such cause of action against the Street Railway Company.

Policemen and Gunmen. London News: A Toronto policeman shot at a boy who was running away from him, and the judge let him off with a reprimand. He should at least be dismissed.

How Hiram Walker Made Money. Detroit News: As means accumulate, Mr. Walker began to advertise in that journal, and you said you were the worst of the British manufacturers of great staples, which does not seem so much to increase from year to year a fixed impression regarding the advertised article.

A Case of Mistaken Identity. Last night the World ran up the residence of a prominent business man and was answered by his charming daughter with: "What is it, papa?"

The World's Young Man ran off and called up the gentleman who had been called up by the World's Young Man.

York County Council. The York County Council will commence their January session in the Court House to-morrow, when a warrant will be elected and committees for the year elected.

"The Doom of the Churches." Mr. Charles Watts of England delivered a lecture in the parlors of the Auditorium last night on the subject, "The Doom of the Churches." There was a fairly large number present and great interest was taken in the lecturer's remarks.

Fifty-Five Gallons of Coffee. At the free breakfast given by the Yonge street Mission, there were 55 gallons of coffee and 200 sandwiches and 60 gallons of coffee were distributed. The Rev. G. Turck was delivered by Rev. G. Turck.

WHITE GOODS AND JANUARY GOODS.

January activity is the realization of an almost impossible dream. Thought out some time ago, it is now realized in brisk sales all over the store.

Months ago we planned for just such business as we are having now. During their dull season factories were running full blast on our orders, and the tremendous quantities brought prices down. Broad gauge buying brings us more new goods in January than most stores are willing to own in April.

The goods are new and qualities and prices such as to command attention. The Lilliputian Department is the particular department we emphasize to-day.

In Death Not Divided.

Catherine Phipps, one of the oldest settlers of the Township of Markham, died at the residence of George Phipps, Leamington, on Thursday, Jan. 12, aged 97 years. She was a daughter of Samuel Phipps, who died at the commencement of the 19th century, and who died some 50 years ago.

She was a quiet, unobtrusive character, living with her relatives ever since the death of her parents, being beloved by her many friends and acquaintances. For 40 years she and a niece, Hannah Hesse, who was 71 years old, lived together in the same house. The niece took possession about 12 hours after the death of the aunt. The funeral of the late Catherine Phipps will be held at the Hill Cemetery, where the remains of both ladies were buried in one grave on Saturday, Jan. 14.
