HOW THE SCANDAL HAS GROWN.

The surprise in the result of the municipal elections on New Year's day was the defeat for controller of William Burns, alderman and controller in the Council of 1903, and who, for various reasons, was accounted sure of election for 1904

In civic politics, Dame Rumor never wags her tongue more industriously than just before and just after the election. This time she gave vague hints of crooked work having accomplished some of its objects in the polling of the vote. Some there were who listened, believed and set out to verify that which was, up to Friday morning last, "generally The friends of William Burns, chagrined at his unsuccess, urged that he take steps to inquire into the causes of the vote as polled in those sub-divisions which gave Controller Richardson big majorities in comparison with those secured by himself and the other candidates. James Hales, defeated for the Board of Education, believing that a recount would give him a place, instituted proceedings.

ollers' ballots. Jan 15-The World intimates that the inspection will show that controller candidate voted for himself more than once; inspection is called off after brief examination of a few sub-divisions; irregularities of a serious nature alleged in sub-division 9, Ward 4, and sub-division 3

Jan . 16-Police set to work to collect accurate and official evidence Jan. 17-Mr. Slattery, solicitor for Mr. Burns, declares that on the day prior to the inspection, Controller Richardson phoned him to meet Controller Loudon, who said that if the scrutiny went on "they" would make trouble for William Burns.

Jan. 18—Sam Thompson, D.R.O., sub-division 9, Ward 4, arrested. Jan. 19—William Burns summonsed; Thompson remanded a week.
Jan. 20—Burns remanded until Tuesday next; City Council takes up question of civic investigation, mentioning Hon. S. H. Blake, K.C., as

Jan. 22—Board of Education recount shows apparent fraud in certain ballots cast for Dr. Orr, and summonses are issued against John Gray, D.R.O., and Frank Gray, poll clerk, sub-division 3; John Laxton, D.R.O., sub-division 9, and A.
