London, Oct. 5 .- There was a weaker feeling in the cattle market owing to heavy supplies, and with a slow trade prices declined 1-2c to 1c per Choice American steers sold at 11c and Canadians at 9 1-2c. The market for sheep was also weak and prices were marked down 1c per lb., hest selling at 9 1-2c.

A private cable received from London reported the market unchanged and quoted choice American cattle at 11 1-2c; choice Canadians at 10 1-2c; ranch cattle at 9c, and sheep at 10 1-2c. A private cable from Liverpool re-ported sales of some large lots of Candian sheep at prices ranging from Pacific coast. 21s to 28s per head. Another private cable from London reported sales of Canadian sheep at 24s 3d per head, which figure is a loss to the shipper of 2s 6d per head. Messrs. John Olde & Son, live stock Cunningham: With light supplies and fine weather for the trade the beast market today was firm, and in some instances a little dearer for prime qualities. There were 1,215 head of cattle for sale, of which 1,014 were from the States, realizing 5 1-2d to a strong 5 3-4d; 72 from Canada at 5, 1-4d to 5 1-2d, and 129 from South America at 4 1-2d to 5d. The sheep supplies consisted of 1,764 from Canada and 956 from South America, for which the trade was a little better; South American wool sheep made 6 1-2d, clipped 5 1-2d to 5 3-4d, and Canadians 5 1-4d to 5 1-2d.

MONTREAL. Montreal, Oct. 6.—At the East End Abattoir Market the offerings of live stock were 600 cattle, 400 sheep, 400 lambs and 150 calves. The attendance of local buyers was small, and trade ruled slow. The supply was again in excess of local wants, and owing to the scarcity of ocean freight there was no demand from shippers to speak of. The continued heavy receipts for the past two months have had a depressing effect upon the market, and drovers say it has been almost impossible to realize their own money in this market. The feeling today was easier, and prices for good stock were fully 1-4c per 10 lower. Good to choice steers and heifers sold at 3c to 3 1-4c. a few being bought at the latter figure to feed for shipment next week. Sales of fair cattle were made at 2 1-4c to 2 3-4c, and inferior to common at 1 1-4c to 2c per live weight. There was a fair demand for sheep for shipment; prices, about steady, at 2 3-4c, while butchers' paid 2c to 2 1-2c per to live weight. Lambs met with a good demand at prices ranging from $1 50 to $3 50 each, as to size and quality. Choice calves sold at $6 to $8; good at $4 to $6; and others at

At the Point St. Charles cattle market trade was slow, there being only son retorted, "Ald. Bell, you're an old a couple of loads of common butchers' stock sold at 1 1-2c per 1b, and these were turned over at the above market at a profit of 1-2c per lb. There were 200 hogs offered, for the demand was fair, and sales were made at 3 3-4c to 4c per lb.

Death of Du Maurier. Our cablegrams this afternoon chronicle the death of Du Maurier, cartoonist and novelist. The information was not unexpected, as it has been known for some days that the famous man was dangerously ill. Du Maurier was known to readers of Punch almost exclusively until a year or two since. when he wrote the sensational novel, "Trilby," and at once jumped into the front ranks of writers of modern fiction. His cartoons were admirable pictures of life among the idling uppertendom of England, the willowy, angular girl of the period, and the half stupid lackadaisical young man predominating. His cartoons and odd legends, illustrating "things better left unsaid." were unique. But it was his "Trilby" story, illustrating the dangers of hypnotism, that made the man famous the world over. The story has been praised by many, and their services were not required. it has been condemned by others, but in either case its circulation was aided, and the result inspired the writer to try another book. It was completed just as Du Maurier took ill, and before the final severe attack he revis-

Latest reports from Rainy River, Ontario, are to the effect that the prospects for gold mining are very bright. The ore from these mines is known as "free milling ore," and can be treated very cheaply with separators instead of smelters. That is a great advantage, of which capitalists will not be slow to take advantage.

Windsor aldermen, at their recent meeting, indulged in a wordy warfare over the expenditure indulged in on the occasion of the visit of the Govlernor-General. The finance committee reported that it had spent on the Governor-General's visit $13 50 for badges. $38 30 for refreshments, $13 for embossed stationery and $50 for banners. Ald. Bell thought this was unnecessarily extravagant. Mayor Mayass!" and Ald. Bell very courteously replied "You're another." Not to be outdone the mayor said: "You made an ass of yourself at Sandwich when the Governor-General was here." "You made more of an ass of yourself than I did," said the worthy alderman. Arbitration not being called for, the relative asinine qualities were not definitely pronounced upon by the council. Lord Aberdeen will hardly feel complimented when he hears of the rancor which the expenditures voluntarily undertaken by the Windsor solons has stirred up.

DAN MCCARTHY COMING. The popular Irish comedian, Dan McCarthy, who divides the honors in that type of character with Joe Murphy, is billed for London on Saturday afternoon and evening next. Dan has made a hit in his new play, 'The Irish Greenhorn," which producing this week at the Theater Royal, Montreal. The Star, in an independent criticism, says: "Crowded houses at both performances applauded his every move, and if it is a criterion, the success of Greenhorn' is already a fact. The company are a little strange to each other as yet, but with time this will wear away, and the season will no doubt be just as successful to Mr. McCarthy as his many others. Some good singing and dancing is introduced, and go a good way towards helping out the piece. Mr. McCarthy appears as the much persecuted hero, and is ably supported by J. J. Bolger, as Mickey Casey; Mills Hall, as Owen Smith. Miss Lou Ripley is again with the show, and acted the part of Annie O'Moore, an Irish peasant, in her usual good style. Little Lucille Lieth, as Little Jim, carried off the honors of the evening, both in acting her part and singing and dancing. She is a very clever child, and will no doubt be heard from later.
