for the dinner at Mariborough House Mrs. Deakin, the wife of the premie of the Australian Commonwealth, told a representative of the Daily Mail that she noticed many changes in London since her last visit, seven years ago. "English women of all classes," she said, "dress much more elaborately now than they did when I was last ere, and in the morning much more so than we do in Melbourne now, or you did in 1900. And you wear jewelry a great deal more freely. In Melbourne a simple brooch is all the jewelry a woman puts on with her short and simple morning suit in the winter, or her cotton gown in the summer. But in London dress is as elaborate before noon as in the afternoon, and necklaces, earrings, and bangles are profusely worn. I notice, too, with regard to men's attire, how much less the silk hat is seen than it was. The bowler seems to be as popular now in London as with us."

Miss Lyne, the only lady of the colonial party who has never been to this country before, arrived in England before her father, Sir William Lyne, the premier of New South Wales, and is delighted with London. But English dinners she thinks are much longer than those in Sydney. and she fancies English people eat more slowly than Australians do.

WARNS OF TREMBLERS.

Manila, May 1.-Earthquake experts believe that it is possible to be warned by wireless telegraph eight or ten hours in advance of shocks. Tests are now in progress as the result of observations during the last trembler. At that time vibrations in the wireless were noted eight hours before the earthquake was felt. The phenomena can be explained on no other hypothesis.
