James Madison—"Father of the Constitution"

THE FOURTH PRESIDENT of the United States considered it a greater honor to be declared the Father of the Constitution than to have been elected twice to the highest office in the gift of his countrymen. No more ardent, intelligent, far-sighted and constant student of governmental problems ever lived than Madison. They were his life-long passion. He it was who labored with all his gigantic ability and indomitable will to have deeply imbedded in our National Law those vital principles which forever guarantee to all Americans Religious, Commercial and Personal Liberty. In private life he was genial and social—yet temperate. Many a foaming glass of good barley-malt beer he drank with his bosom friend Thomas Jefferson—"Father of the Declaration of Independence." Madison died at 85 and Jefferson at 83; both were unalterably opposed to tyrannous Prohibition Laws, and advocated legislation which encouraged the brewing industry. Upon the tenets of the Constitution of the U.S.A. (to which Madison devoted the best of his genius) Anheuser-Busch 58 years ago founded their great institution. To-day 7500 people are daily required to produce and market their honest brews. Their chief brand Budweiser is sold throughout the civilized world—the drink of your forefathers—the drink of the noblest men who ever lived—the drink of the great triumphant nations. Budweiser sales exceed any other beer by millions of bottles.

MR. ALBERT PHILLIPS AND MISS LEILA SHAW.

A few years ago Mr. Albert Phillips and Miss Leila Shaw opened a spring engagement at the Grand Opera House which was originally intended to be limited to four weeks. But so successful were these clever artists and their company that they extended the engagement till the opening of the regular season. Theatregoers will remember their productions and the artistic interpretations given the various roles they essayed during the long run and will be pleased to learn that they will return to the Grand this week presenting "The Servant in the House," one of the most powerful dramas ever written and requiring action of unusual ability to interpret correctly. Both Mr. Phillips and Miss Shaw have received flattering notices for their work in this play and it should prove an attractive offering for the Grand, not only on account of its merit as a play but also from the fact of the popularity of the players.
