

Remarkable Days.

- 1 CIRCUMCISION.—Proclamation of emancipation of slaves in United States, 1865.
- 2 William I. of Prussia, ascended Throne, 1861.—Gen. Wolfe b. 1727.
- 3 2d SUNDAY AFTER CHRISTMAS.
- 4 Newton b. 1642.
- 5 Edward the Confessor, d. 1066.
- 6 EPIPHANY.
- 7 Young Men's Christian Association formed, 1856.
- 8 Prince Albert Victor, of Wales, b. 1864.
- 9 Sir D. Baird took possession of Cape of Good Hope, 1806.
- 10 1st SUNDAY AFTER EPIPHANY.
- 11 Sir John Moore enters Corunna, 1809.
- 12 Peace between Great Britain and United States, 1784.
- 13 Charles J. Fox, b. 1749.
- 14 Norway ceded to Sweden, 1814.
- 15 Gen. Wolfe, b. 1726.—40 persons drowned at Regent's Park, 1867.
- 16 Battle of Corunna, 1809.
- 17 2d SUNDAY AFTER EPIPHANY.
- 18 Sir Geo. Staunton, d. 1801.
- 19 James Watts b. 1736.
- 20 P. E. Island and the Magdalens granted to Capt. Doublet, and others, 1663.
- 21 Dr. Jenner, pub. vacc. 1799.
- 22 Lord Byron b. 1788.
- 23 William Pitt d. 1806.
- 24 SEPTUAGESIMA SUNDAY.
- 25 Princess Royal married, 1858. Market House, Charlottetown, opened to the public, 1867.—Conversion of St. Paul.
- 26 Dr. Jenner d. 1823.
- 27 Lord Hood d. 1816.
- 28 George III. d., 1820.
- 29 Napoleon III. married, 1853.
- 30 Mungo Park sails for Africa, 1805.
- 31 SEXAGESIMA SUNDAY.

ARTESIAN WELLS to the number of 100 are now flowing in Algeria, and the number is increasing.

A Happy New Year.

We believe that the good wishes which flow so freely from every one's mouth at the beginning of the new year are earnest and sincere. Few persons desire that others shall be unhappy. We know that as these lines are penned, the heart of the writer goes out lovingly towards the hundreds throughout this Island of young friends who will read them. Boys and girls, Farmers comfortably resting from the labors of the summer, and housewives sewing by the cozy fire. "A Happy New Year" to you all. We can hear the echo coming back, and it gives us great joy. Many are disappointed of their holiday gifts.—try to console them, and as you enjoy the merry sleigh ride, think of those perishing upon the stormy ocean and pray for them. Would you be happy this year? Learn this lesson by heart and by practice: He enjoys himself most who does most to bring enjoyment to others.

Thoughts of New Year are hopeful and joyous, as, heeding the lessons of the past, we press forward in the busy present, eager to try what the hidden future has in store. We might dwell on the events of the year that is past with mingled emotions of pleasure and pain, for it has been an eventful one, and joy and sorrow have mingled in the experience of our readers and of ourselves; profit and loss have filled their respective columns on the ledger, as deluge or drouth, stillness or earthquake, have maintained a parallel account on the face of the country. We turn rather to the duties, opportunities, and labors of the present.

The winter gives us long evenings, and many quiet hours for reading and thought. Thinking farmers are students for whom school always keeps.