LESS SUGAR FOR IMPORT TO CANADA IS THE PROSPECT

Advices from Cuba Tell of Reduced Production This Year—United States Capital Invested for Development of Industry.

With the sugar crop of Europe 1,100,000 tons less this year than last and the latest report from the Cuban sugar fields showing a shortage of 221,776 tons as compared with the production of last year, the Cuban consulate in this city is expecting that the import of raw sugar from the southern republic will not be so great this year as it was in 1919, when the crop reached the high total of 3,971,776 tons. A greater export to Europe this year is practically assured and a great amount of the export will be cleared through the refineries at St. John and Halifax, it is believed.

Though the crop is less this year, the Cuban plantations are being worked to the limit and several new "centrals" have been established by United States interests. The Hershey Chocolate Corporation of Philadelphia, recently bought the sugar central of Cia Azucarera del Rosario and is erecting a $30,000,000 mill which has a capacity of 75,000 bags of 200 pounds, during the grinding season. Three new centrals have been established in the Oriente province. Several new mills have been constructed by the American Sugar Refining Company, one of which has a capacity of 700,000 bags and cost $10,000,000. Some 60,000 acres of sugar land have been bought by the Miranda corporation, at a cost of $3,625,000 and a large mill will be erected this summer. Another mill, of 125,000 bag capacity is being erected near Pomento, on the seaboard. The native workers, it is said, are growing rich and indolent and several shiploads of Italian labor have been imported for work in the haciendas. Some of the new crop, according to the latest advices received at the local consulate, has been sold on a price basis of six to eight cents a pound, but the greater amount is bringing 1 1/2 cents and it is said by Stefano Calcevetchia, one of the recognized Cuban authorities on sugar marketing, that the general price in Cuba this year will be in the vicinity of 15 to 20 cents.

HUSBAND LOSES IN RACE WITH DEATH

The typhoid fever situation in the vicinity of Bathurst which has been under investigation all summer improves but slowly. There have been about 180 cases, mostly in West Bathurst, and of the number fifteen patients, or ten per cent, have died. The latest deaths were those of Mrs. Fred E. Dunn, formerly Miss Edna O'Brien, of Bathurst, aged twenty-four, and Joseph T. Dalgle, of West Bathurst, aged sixty-five. While Mrs. Dunn lay critically ill her husband, who was in Boston, left for home, but was too late to find his young wife alive.

MANY PAY THEIR LAST TRIBUTE TO LATE ORLO BROWN

One of the largest processions that ever followed a funeral in West St. John marched to the graveside at Greenwood cemetery yesterday afternoon for the funeral of Orlo Brown, son of William Brown, who was electrocuted in an accident in Queen square on Saturday evening. The service at the graveside and at the residence of his father, 32 J. A. Monson. The choir of the First Presbyterian church led in the singing in the service at the home and Mrs. Murray Long sang a solo. The service was a simple one of scripture reading and prayer. Following behind the hearse in the procession to Greenwood cemetery was a coach filled with the floral tokens of very many friends. Six C. P. R. employes, fellow workers with Orlo Brown, acted as pall-bearers. They were William Lowell, S. J. Burpee, John Smith, H. Osborne, P. Currie and Claude Sealey. The staff and employes of the C. P. R. were largely represented among those who formed the funeral procession.

IN MEMORY OF SOLDIER HERO

In Fairville Methodist church yesterday morning a handsome bouquet sent by P. J. Currie in honor of their brother, Frank Linton, who gave his life in the great war, was placed before the church's honor roll. The pastor, Rev. Thomas Marshall, made feeling reference to the death of both this hero and the other three—William Osborne, Lyman Anglin and Andrew Lawson—who laid down their lives in the great struggle. At the conclusion of Rev. Mr. Marshall's remarks the whole congregation rose and sang God Save the King. The sermon of the day was preached by H. H. Stuart, of Sunny Brae.

HAS OFFER FROM MONTREAL A.A.A.

Joseph McNamara, who has been the physical instructor at the Y. M. C. I. here for several winters, arrived in St. John on Saturday from Montreal and is being warmly greeted by his many friends. While in the latter city he had a conference with officials of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association and received a flattering offer to take charge of their physical activities. Mr. McNamara has not yet decided whether he will go to Montreal next winter or not. He will leave for his home in Boston on Wednesday.

TOLD OF HIS PLAN FOR RAPID EVANGELIZATION

A missionary who made no appeal for funds and who said that the organization which he served under, the Church Missionary Society, although it did not appeal for funds had received last year the sum of $200,000 in unsolicited subscriptions, spoke in Trinity church last evening and was heard with interest and he told of his belief that the world could be evangelized in one generation. That missionary was Rev. W. B. Williston, Church of England missionary in far western China, who in that land has a parish with a population of 500,000 souls. Mr. Williston told the story of his eleven years' residence in China and of his familiarizing himself with the ways and language of the people when he remained in the country after missionaries had been ordered to leave because of the danger in the Manchurian revolution. Mr. Williston founded the first summer school for Christian teaching in China and last year 600 attended it. He explained last night how he had established a school at which 100 heads of families received the message of the gospel each month, at the end of that vacationing their places for 100 more and how each when his stay was ended went to his own district and began a missionary campaign there. The message given to each was the simplest and most direct, the message of the Cross of Christ and reaching as he did 1,000 and more heads of families in each year Mr. Williston believed that it was possible through their efforts, and his own, to evangelize all of his parish of 3,000,000 in a life time.
