RESTAURANT MAN KILLED IN HOLDUP

Staten Island Manager, Ignoring Command to Be Silent, Is Shot by Four Auto Bandits.

(N. Y. Times.)

Thieves and holdup men spent a busy week-end, judging from reports of their activities gathered about the city yesterday. One man who was held up in a Staten Island restaurant was fatally shot because he disobeyed the parting injunction of four bandits not to make an outcry. His name was Walter Jackowski, night manager of Silverman's Restaurant at 2886 Richmond Terrace, Mariners Harbor.

Jackowski was sitting in the rear of the restaurant early yesterday morning when four men alighted from a small touring car and, entering, whipped out pistols and ordered him to stand up against the wall with his hands up. Jackowski obeyed and the men rifled the cash register of $40.

As they left they warned him to make no outcry.

Jackowski, ignoring their command, called for the police. The bandits all fired at once, three of the bullets taking effect. A patron later found the manager lying unconscious on the floor and notified the police. Jackowski was rushed to St. Vincent's Hospital, where he died after furnishing the police with descriptions of his assailants.

Not quite an hour before this four men, believed to be the same party, stopped John Milano, a New Brighton vegetable dealer, on his way home from Washington Market with supplies for the day and took $50 from him.

HARD ON TRAIL OF OPIUM RING

U. S. Federal Agents Making Arrests of Members of Illegal Organization.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Federal agents continue today to dig into the ramifications of the opium smuggling ring, whose activities reach from the far Orient into San Francisco, Chicago, New York and other cities in the United States and Canada. The five arrests already made are said to be merely preliminary to the gathering of the real heads of the ring, which has been cleaning up fortunes in the illegal traffic, not only in opium but other forbidden drugs.

The trail was struck here with the capture of a trunk containing 110 one-pound cans of white poppy opium. It also is known that a trunk containing 125 pound cans of white poppy was shipped from San Francisco to Boise, Idaho, and which is being kept for it. The value of the 110 cans seized here is about $100,000, but its wholesale value would be about $15,000. Hop joints in the Chinese quarters and the black belt are being watched closely, and it was said today that the arrest of a prominent business man and a dozen or more of his agents was imminent.

Federal agents believe that Chicago is headquarters for the ring. Toledo is one of the chief gateways to Canada for distribution in the dominion.

Used Cows to Cut Grass.

Bellefonte, Pa., Oct. 15.—Residents were shocked when they learned cows were being pastured in Union Cemetery, where lie the remains of three governors and many other state officials and men of prominence. Investigation revealed that the caretaker, who is paid for keeping the grass cut, has pastured cows in the home of the dead to keep the grass short.
