A UNITED FRONT
(Montreal Mail)

With Great Britain, Canada presents to the common enemy a united front. That is the lesson to be drawn from the opening debate in parliament at Ottawa.

Sir Robert Borden, premier, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, leader of the opposition, both rose to the occasion in true statesmanlike fashion. There was no hesitancy. There was no equivocation. Rather did both party leaders display an eagerness and an earnestness in endorsing the action of Great Britain in entering this war which gave fitting and faithful reflection to the general sentiment of the country. The seal of Canada's approval was placed forever upon the participation of Great Britain in the titanic conflict now waging in Europe. Wonderful is the inspiration that can translate such a spirit of harmony and co-operation into a chamber that has been on so many occasions in recent years a cockpit for the embittered parties! Like the British constitution, the system of government in Canada has stood this critical test with credit. After this scene of enthusiasm and loyalty in parliament, it is a greater honor to be in political life in Canada, as it is a greater privilege to realize the strength of the silver cord that binds this country to the Motherland.

Miss Dick's Experiences
Miss Florence Dick, daughter of George Dick, 180 Queen street arrived home from Paris on Saturday night after an experience which she will never forget in getting out of France, as practically all railway communications were cut off on account of the railways being used for military transport. Miss Dick was sight-seeing with three other young ladies from Nova Scotia. She returned by the steamer Mongolian, the bow of which was pierced by a shell fired at a Norwegian vessel which did not stop when ordered by a British warship.

Deputy Receiver General Passed Away After Long Illness—Former Alderman and Member of Provincial Government

Robert Maxwell, deputy receiver-general and manager of the Dominion Savings Bank and formerly an outstanding figure in provincial politics, passed away about fifteen minutes after midnight on Saturday after an illness of nearly a year. The death occurred at his residence, 385 Union street, where he had been confined to his bed for many months. His death although not unexpected has proved a great shock to his family and numerous friends.

The late Robert Maxwell was formerly a well known building contractor and was at one time alderman for Prince ward. He was born in Fredericton on June 17, 1838, his parents being John and Eliza (Baxter) Maxwell. His grandfather, James Maxwell, emigrated from Ireland, accompanied by his family, and settling upon a farm near Fredericton, he resided there until his death, which occurred at the age of about sixty-seven years.

In 1878 Mr. Maxwell was united in marriage with Pamela T. McConnell, daughter of Moses McConnell, who came from Ireland when young. They had eight children, of whom the following survive—J. Herbert, Fredericton; Charles Tilley, of this city; Mrs. W. O. Bagge, Sussex; Mrs. A. S. Willett, city; Miss Edith O. Miss J. Hazel and Miss Vere T., at home, Edward.

Mrs. T. E. Dyer, city; Mrs. James Diggs, Fredericton, and Miss Lillian Maxwell, Fredericton.

For many years Mr. Maxwell represented Prince Ward in the common council, and for a long time was an active member of the board of school trustees.

Mr. Maxwell's first success in provincial politics was in 1904 when in a bye-election he was elected a representative of the city in the local house. In 1906 he was given a position in the government without portfolio. He remained in office until 1912, when he declined to run. In November, of that year, he was appointed deputy receiver-general and manager of the Dominion Savings Bank, which position he held until his death.

He was a member of many organizations and had a large host of friends. He was a past chancellor of N. B. Lodge, Knights of Pythias, a member of Albion Lodge, No. 1, F. & A. M., Sons of Temperance; Court Log Cabin, L. O. F.; Gideon Lodge No. 7, Orange Order; Canadian Order of Chosen Friends; trustee of Exmouth street Methodist church.

Members of all these various organizations are to attend the funeral in a body. The funeral service, which is to be at the home of the deceased, will be conducted at 2.30 o'clock Tuesday and the following clergyman will officiate—Rev. Mr. Lane, Exmouth street church; Rev. W. H. Barraclough, Centenary church; Rev. J. H. A. Anderson and Rev. Mr. Deland.

248 Waterloo Street
Corner Brindley Street CARLETON'S*MUST HAVE FULL MEASURE

An article in a recent issue of the Canadian Courier, entitled "The Second Capture of Quebec," by Mr. Augustus Bridle, describes the mobilization of Canadian troops at Valcartier, and concludes thus:

Let them lift their mugs and blink and drink in silence
To the dregs, the draught they honor—"To The Day!"

They shall find that we have not forgot the insult.
When the world that lives for peace is on the way.
Would they prate of peace and fire the world with fury?

Would they call on God to see that might is right?
Would they smite the mother of nations in her strongholds?
Then let them have it full measure—Fight!

Do they say that England's weary of her labors,
That the best of her is what she used to be?
Do they cavil that the free-man is the weak man,
And the feud-man turns the trick in Rule of Three?

Let them lift their mugs and blink and drink in silence.
But they'll take a word from us that right makes night.
And that he who wrongs the eternal law of nations
Must have full measure what he looks for—Fight!

red. It may be explained that the "covering troops" are special corps stationed on the frontier, which are kept unusually strong in peace time, their duty being to repel any early attacks which might break up the railway system and otherwise hinder the concentration of the main body.

On the same day the telegraphic censorship came into force and the German fleet was prepared for service.

On July 28, 29, 30, the "covering troops" were brought up to their full effectiveness by the calling up of individual reservists, at least 125,000 men being so called up. Horses and motor cars were commandeered, and all along the French frontier, particularly in the neighborhood of Metz, the corps usually stationed at some distance were brought up into close proximity with the frontier.

The preparations for the war of the German government thus date from a very early period in the negotiations which preceded the outbreak of hostilities.

On July 23, 6 p.m.—The Austrian ultimatum was presented to Serbia.

July 23, 8 p.m.—The Serbian reply was given and the Austrian minister quitted Belgrade.

July 28—Austria, after some hostile actions, declared war on Serbia.

July 28 or 29—Russia ordered a partial mobilization.

Aug. 1—Germany declared war on Russia.

The Temps has shown that while these events were in progress and during the course of negotiations represented as showing Germany earnest in the cause of peace, active military preparations were in full swing in Germany.

On July 28—before the reply of Serbia to the Austrian ultimatum was due—all leave was stopped for garrisons on the French frontier.

On the evening of July 28 orders were given to the railway companies to distribute their engines, rolling stock, etc., with a view to mobilization and to clear the mobilization platforms.

In the evening of July 26 all men on leave were recalled and all troops engaged at the instruction camps or manoeuvre grounds returned to barracks.

On July 27 the work of local mobilization and commandering began. The principal supplies establishments, in particular the most important flour mills, were occupied by troops.

On the same day, in advance of Austria's declaration of war, the German covering troops began to take up their position and all frontier roads were barred.
